This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. VOLUME I.

CHARLESTON:

STEAM POWER PRESS OF WALKER & JAMES,

No. 3 Broad-Street.

1854.

DIR. 20

Entered according to Act of Congress, in the year 1854, by
REV. JOHN P. CAMPBELL,
In the Clerk's Office of the District Court of the United States, for the District of South-Carolina.

PREFACE.

SOLOMON said, that to the "making of many books there is no end." So we may readily conclude that, till the end of the world, we will not come to the end of making books.

We live in an age of progress; and in nothing is it more distinctly marked than its facilities for imparting knowledge through the Printing Press. This mighty enginery exerts a most controlling influence upon the political, literary, moral and commercial interests of the world. In this light, much responsibility attaches to the making of books.

The following work is intended for the Professional and Business Public—a class of men large, respectable and important to the welfare and prosperity of the country. The question has often been asked, "can a merchant, lawyer or doctor, be a good man—an honest man—a christian?"

Such a question has its foundation either in ignorance or depravity. There can be nothing in these highly important and responsible relations of society, incompatible with the strictest probity and purity. Intrigue and quackery may, for a time, delude the ignorant and credulous, but they never fail, in the end, to bring shame and odium upon themselves.

Honesty and industry never fail to bring their appropriate rewards—prosperity and happiness. Integrity in trade will secure uniformity in per centage. Thus the links of trade being equal and uniform, each will be alike strong and productive of good to the whole.

The object of this work is to afford convenience and facility in the transaction of business. As a medium of reference, correspondence, and local and general advertising, it is eminently calculated to subserve the interests of trade. It is an OFFICE BOOK. A single correspondence, to hundreds of business men, may pay them from "thirty to sixty and an hundred fold" its cost.

The magnitude of the work, the extent of territory it embraces, the great desire to make it complete, together with some incidental delays, will be a sufficient apology for its appearance a few weeks later than was at first proposed. Some of our correspondents hesitated to make their returns, on the ground that they might be held responsible for the solvency and good standing of those reported.

This is not so. The Author, nor any of his agents or correspondents, assumes the responsibility of giving the standing of names. No distinction as to first, second or third class of dealers, by even a private mark, will be admitted. The only distinction will appear in the cards or advertisements, given by our subscribers themselves.

All that our patrons ask, is a full and correct list of Dealers in every county, parish, district, town, village, station and cross-road in the States included in the work. Such works have been published for the States in the East, North and West, and they are of great convenience and utility to the business public. Such a work, for the rich and growing South, must be at least equally useful. Notwithstanding the immense travel, labor and expense of getting up this work, the Author sees wherein a longer time and more experience would have made it more satisfactory. This he will have opportunity to do in the next Volume.

He will send copies of this Volume to subscribers, agents and clerks of courts in all the counties of the States included. This will show them what we want more fully, and enable them to make their returns more readily and correctly for the Second Volume. Two things are of the utmost importance in a work like this, namely: the correct spelling and plain writing of names.

For the polite attention of clerks of courts and agents, to whom copies of his prospectus were sent, the Author is devoutly thankful. To his subscribers, also, he owes a debt of gratitude which (although language cannot express) he will endeavor to liquidate by unremitting zeal and labor to serve their best interests.

The very large subscriptions obtained in so short a time, afford unquestionable evidence of the demand for such a work.

The Author, fully aware of the criticisms usually passed upon all such publications, does not expect his to escape. He will endeavor to bear all this, however, with his usual patience and good humor. He is, also, aware that no publication is so liable to mistakes, as a book of proper names. Names are arbitrary things. Each name being independent, affords neither key nor clue to the correctness or incorrectness of others. In ordinary book-making, each subject or idea leads to and explains the one that follows or precedes it. It is not so in compiling a directory of names. The labor in this is more physical than mental.

If our patrons will each procure one more subscriber for the next Volume, it will have a circulation of more than 10,000. There will be a standing commission of one dollar for each new subscriber; and all our subscribers are authorized agents.

The wider the circulation the better for each whose card is inserted. Does not each one see that, by the joint and efficient co-operation of clerks of courts, agents and subscribers, we can furnish one of the largest and most valuable mediums of reference and advertising in the world? It will be our object to establish permanently, and issue regularly.

See Prospectus for the next Volume, at the close of this.

To his kind Patrons and the liberal Business Public, this Volume is most respectfully dedicated.

JOHN P. CAMPBELL,
Editor and Proprietor.

STATE OF ALABAMA.

THIS State has an area of 50,722 square miles. Population in 1850, 771,650. Cotton is the staple, of which its production is over half a million of bales. It has every variety of soil and productions. Many of the counties are very rich, and some very poor; but even the poorer may soon be rich by developing their mineral wealth, of which there is a vast amount in the North-Eastern portions of the State.

These will soon be reached by Railroads, which it is certainly to the interest of the State to aid. The Mobile and Ohio Railroad is the most important in the State, and is in rapid progress of building. The Railroad from Montgomery to West Point is now finished, connecting the capital of the State with the South Atlantic and Northern cities. The Alabama river, one of the most beautiful in the South, and the safest for navigation, has a daily line of splendid mail and passenger steamers plying between Montgomery and Mobile, and there connecting with the daily line of steamers to New-Orleans.

There are in this State 12,137,681 acres of land—improved, 4,435,614 acres; unimproved 7,702,067 acres. Bales of cotton, 564 429; Indian corn, bushels, 28,754,048; hogsheads sugar, 8,242; molasses, gallons, 83,428. Population, total 771,650; ministers of the gospel 702; lawyers 570; physicians 1,264; merchants 2,468. The above is for 1850.

MONTGOMERY succeeded Tuskaloosa as the capital of the State in 1847, since which time its growth has been very rapid. In 1840 it had a population of little over 2,000. Now it has a population of about 7,000. Its central position in the State, and being at the head of steamboat navigation, together with its late Railroad connections, makes it a point of heavy cotton and other trade. Its churches and public buildings are large and handsome. Its iron, wood and other manufactories, are large, and creditable for so young a city. A high school for young ladies, under the paternity of Rev. Samuel E. Norton and lady, is doing well, and is justly an object of pride and interest to the city and country. The Exchange Hotel is a large and well kept establishment, for which we cordially ask the patronage of the public. We also call attention to the Business Cards inserted in this work, and tender thanks for so liberal a subscription to it (about 100). May the sunshine of prosperity shed its benignant smiles long and unclouded upon this beautiful city. The following is our showing for Montgomery:

MOBILE,

THIRTY miles north of the Gulf of Mexico, on Mobile Bay, 160 miles east of New-Orleans, and 1,013 miles from Washington, is the principal city and only port of entry of Alabama. It occupies an elevated plain, overlooking the pleasant bay, and is fanned by its breezes. Fires have several times injured the city, but it has been re-built with improved appearance and solidity. From its position in the State, it is the receptacle of the commerce of Alabama. Vast quantities of cotton are annually exported. The harbor is difficult of access, being obstructed by marshy islands and shoals, but within, deep and spacious enough for large vessels. These, by a circuit around an island, in front of the city, anchor at its wharves. The entrance to the bay is defended by a fortification and marked by a lighthouse. Good water, from a neighboring source, is distributed over the city by iron pipes. Railroads are in process of construction to connect the city with the Ohio river, and also with the Atlantic States through Georgia. It has daily communication, by steamboat, to Proctorsville, and thence, by railroad with New-Orleans. There are a custom house, court house, hospitals, banks and churches.

In 1813, the period when Mobile passed from the hands of Spain into possession of the United States, it contained about 100 buildings. In 1830, the population was 3,194; in 1840, 12,672; in 1850, 20,513. Now about 30,000.

We call attention to the Battle House, which from very pleasant experience we recommend as one of the first class hotels in the United States. This House is an ornament to the city and worthy of its liberal patronage.

☞ We invite attention to the cards of the city of Mobile. The list for this city is the largest of any city represented in our book—an indication that they are enterprising, liberal and fully up with the progress of the age.

☞ See Appendix for any additions or corrections for this State.

STATE OF TENNESSEE.

THE State of Tennessee embraces every variety of soil, from the rich alluvial of the Mississippi bottom to the high and grassy tables of the Cumberland Mountains.

It abounds with never-failing springs of LIME, FREE STONE and MINERAL WATERS. Nor is it less rich and varied in its immense forests of timber.

These, together with its inexhaustible fields of iron, copper, coal, etc., indicate that it is capable of supporting as dense a population as any territory of equal extent in the world.

It has as yet scarcely commenced developing its vast resources. The magnificent schemes of railroad companies, North and South, East and West, seeking to penetrate its borders and meeting at its capital, point the far-seeing capitalist in no unmeaning language to Tennessee as one of the most desirable spots on the continent.

The consummation of these stupendous railroads now under contract and in rapid progress towards completion, will in a few years add one hundred per cent. to the population and wealth of Tennessee.

Here the manufacturer, by mere exchange of commodities with his next door neighbor, can be supplied both with his raw materials and his breadstuffs. Here he occupies a central position between the Northern and Southern markets. Here he will feel that he is in the centre of the world, and that the wealth of every market is drawn by the law of commerce to that centre.

This picture may be thought by some to be over-wrought—the aberrations of an exuberant fancy; but it is not so. The position of Tennessee—her elements of inexhaustible wealth—her climate—her railroads—her rivers—her institutions—her enterprising citizens—all, more than intimate the truthfulness of our picture.

The adoption of a system of popular education to which she is now looking, and for which she has ample means, will place her moral equal with her physical progress towards greatness. The number and character of her high schools for young ladies is not to be surpassed by any State in the Union; a most desirable trait in her character, than which none is a truer element of greatness—than which none will more certainly lead to prosperity and happiness.

Her male colleges and high schools are not so numerous, but they are quite sufficient to supply all the learned professions and give quite a sprinkling of literature among our worthy farmers and mechanics.

Let the mothers, wives and daughters of any State be educated, and general education will speedily follow as a result. Thus Tennessee has taken the right start and will certainly reap in due time the desired good fruit.

DAVIDSON COUNTY

NASHVILLE, the capital of Tennessee, is a beautiful city, on the south bank of the Cumberland river; population about 25,000.

Its growth in wealth and population has never been very rapid at any time, yet it has had an even, onward progress in such physical and moral wealth as forms the permanent basis of true greatness.

No city in the South is more justly celebrated for its intelligence, morality, and courtesy to strangers. Its Sabbaths are quiet and orderly, and its pulpits and churches well filled.

True, there is a good deal of attention to dress, personal neatness and polite deportment, but no such invidious distinctions as are sometimes created by wealth or place.

The subject of general education has never received that favor and patronage which the State or City Council could and ought to have afforded, yet the zeal and public spirit of private individuals have succeeded in establishing a number of high schools of a character inferior to none in the West and South. The medical department of the Nashville university is in a flourishing condition—over 200 young gentlemen of high promise are now prosecuting their studies successfully. The professors are gentlemen of the highest order of talents and have the ability and laudable ambition to place the institution on an equal footing with the very best in the United States.

The Nashville female academy, under the presidency of Rev. C. D. Elliott, aided by an able board of trustees, has over 350 young ladies. This institution has been in successful operation about forty years (the present incumbent eighteen years), during which time it has been blessed with increasing prosperity and success. It has sent out a greater number of graduates who have taken high positions in society than any institution west of the mountains. Its aparatus, boarding department, board of teachers, beauty and healthfulness of location, will compare favorably with any institution for young ladies in the United States. Nashville, the State, the whole South may well be proud of such an institution.

The Nashville ladies' college, under the presidency of Rev. Robert A. Lapsley, D.D., stands deservedly high in the confidence of the public. It occupies the spacious and beautiful apartments of the Masonic hall, on Spring-st. Although it has been but a few years in operation, it combines all the advantages of a thorough course of classic, English and ornamental education. It has about 170 young ladies—an able board of teachers and an experienced president. A good boarding department will place it in favorable comparison with the best schools in the country.

Prof. N. Cross & Son have charge of the classical school for young men and boys. This high school supplies the place of the Nashville university, which is suspended until new and magnificent buildings are erected—which will soon be completed.

The home of industry, for poor girls, under the supervision of an excellent and benevolent lady, is doing much good and is an object of interest to the city.

The orphan asylum (Protestant), under the supervision of Mrs. Mary A. Powel—Miss M. E. Sykes, teacher—is indeed what its name indicates, and commends itself to the charity and confidence of the public. Many other private schools are in successful operation—scattering light and blessing in the city.

Perhaps no city of its size has as many newspapers as Nashville. There are six dailies, six tri-weeklies, nine weeklies and six monthlies, all well read and well sustained.

Within a few years a number of manufactories and machine shops have been established upon a basis of capital and experience, which have always rewarded the enterprising projectors. Manufacturers and capitalists from abroad are looking to Nashville as admirably suited for a manufacturing city. Why not? It is surrounded by extensive tracts of rich and never-failing lands, capable of supplying any market in the world. It is now connected by railroad with Charleston, S. C., and Savannah, Ga.; both wealthy commercial and importing cities. It will soon be connected with inexhaustible fields of iron and coal. It is a point where cotton, tobacco, hemp, grain and stock growers all meet to negotiate their sales. The country around is unsurpassed in beauty, wealth and loveliness. Nashville is not surpassed in beauty and healthfulness by any city. Every intelligent visitor, as well as every intelligent citizen, augers for it a glorious destiny.

The state capital, now nearly completed, is one of the most magnificent buildings in the United States. It occupies a beautiful eminence which commands an extensive view of the country ten or twelve miles in every direction. From this point you may count the beautiful residences and public buildings of the city—south Nashville on the south and Edgefield on the east, with their handsome gardens; the view of the Cumberland river; the wire suspension bridge; the horticultural garden; the white sulpher springs; the Buenavista springs; the state prison; the railroad depots; the university and medical college buildings. Then if you lift up your eyes and look over the rich farms, extensive gardens and princely mansions of the surrounding country, you will feel what words cannot utter. You will say that God has blessed this rich and beautiful city and country.

Here, if the hands of industry, art and education do their proportional part with the hand of nature, will be seen in fifty years one of the most lovely spots on the globe.

Nashville being the county seat and capitol of the State, nearly all the trade of the county is done here. An apology for the small number of cards in this work at Nashville is, that we published over 200 for this place in a Directory for Tennessee last year, and, therefore, did not make a canvas for this work. We call attention with pleasure to those inserted in this work.

☞ Attention is invited to the card of Allison, Anderson & Co. We had the pleasure of looking through their rooms, four in number, 160 feet deep and 26 feet wide, with the best ventilation and lights of any house we have seen in Nashville.

The opening of this new WHOLESALE HOUSE is an acquisition to the city. Having long and successful experience in the trade, and ample capital, we have the utmost confidence in their success.

L. B. Fite & Co., No. 9 N. College-street, are cordially commended as a first rate wholesale house. Their acknowledged reputation for politeness and fair dealing is fully sustained in their new establishment and is bringing them a heavy trade. ☞ See their card.

☞ See the card also of R. S. Snell, No. 16 Public square, successor to E. B. Garrett.

Mr. Snell showed us through his fine stock of boots, shoes, &c., which he offers at wholesale and retail on very accommodating terms. So long and favorably known in the city and country, we take great pleasure in recommending him to the trade.

☞ See the card of Hicks & Darden. The late union of these gentlemen in trade makes a strong house. Gentlemen long and favorably known must succeed.

A. V. S. LINDSLEY,
Sec. Board of Trustees.

NASHVILLE FEMALE ACADEMY,

FOUNDED IN 1816.

LOCATION.

About seven acres in the western part of the city—well enclosed—and in regard to privacy, shade, fresh air, good water and health, equal to any situation in the country, yet enjoying every advantage furnished by the city. Parents in the crowded parts of the city might well afford to pay our tuition bills, for the health and cheerfulness secured to their daughters by spending the day within such an enclosure.

BUILDINGS.

Their plain and unornamented front, gives but little promise of either the extent or comfortableness of the arrangements in the rear. In every department of Education, I am assured by gentlemen who ought to know, that in regard both to healthfulness and convenience, they are not surpassed elsewhere in the United States.

NOT SECTARIAN.

Trustees, Teachers and Parents, belong indifferently to any of the religious denominations of our city. Young ladies of the boarding family, go to the church chosen by their parents, always attended by their teachers. So well known is this characteristic of the Academy, that we suppose no reliable individual could be found in our community even inclined to doubt it.

EXAMINATIONS, &C.

We shall hereafter dispense with all examinations either in public or in presence of parents, except those in connection with the "Fine Arts," and the graduation of the Senior Class, and these we shall endeavor to render more interesting and instructive to those who may be admitted to them.

Parents are urgently invited to attend any daily exercise of the Academy, during the Session, and also to examine their daughters at home. On this plan we think we can make better scholars, and we know, that by rendering the Academy still more private, we can exert a better influence in preparing our pupils for the station in life they are destined to occupy.

COURSE OF STUDY.

Our "Course of Study" remains unchanged. The education of boys and girls should be just as different as are the duties and responsibilities of the one sex different from the other.

Few and abridged text books—not more than two substantial studies at one time—elementary studies reviewed each year, and from one to two years longer than is usually required to graduate, still remain practical evidence of our idea of raising the standard of Education for Females.

DEPARTMENTS.

PREPARATORY DEPARTMENT.—For children under 10 years of age.

ACADEMIC DEPARTMENT.—Iucludes four classes. Pupils remain in each class one year—and during that year, taught by one Teacher.

COLLEGIATE DEPARTMENT.—Four classes—Freshman, Sophomore, Junior and Senior. This Department is taught by a College of Teachers, and all its exercises are conducted with as much regularity as in any College for boys in the United States. We are pleased with the title, "Old Academy," yet might easily vindicate our claim, not only to College, but even University, if we saw proper to change.

FINE ARTS.

Composition, Music, Painting in Oil, Drawing and Embroidery.

In regard to Teachers of the above, and Instruments, Rooms, &c., we have made extensive and costly preparations.

The first annual exhibition in our Exercise Hall, excited no little interest among the refined and intelligent citizens of Nashville. A Committee of gentleman amateurs have provided a more judicious and liberal system of prizes than our last, for our next annual exhibition, June 26, 1854, which will soon be made public.

BOARDING SCHOOL.

HEALTH.

As the result of our location, well ventilated buildings, judicious use of fires, wholesome diet, regular habits and maternal care, the health of the boarding-house family is unequalled, it is believed, by any similar establishment in the United States. But two deaths of young ladies have occurred here in a period of nearly forty years; and not one case a year of alarming sickness in a family of about one hundred white persons; and of the hundreds who have been here, in not more than three cases, have young ladies gone home in other than improved health.

MATERNAL CARE.

Some idea may be formed of what we mean by maternal care, when it is known that it cost me nearly $3,000 annually, over and above the ordinary expenses of a boarding house to secure this for the members of the boarding house family. Mothers may be more anxious; but there are few, if any mothers, in this country, who are more faithful, skillful and constant in their attention to children, than are all the acknowledged teachers of the Academy. For nothing have I been so unjustly and severely censured as for the manner in which I have dispensed with the services of all teachers proved to be incompetent to discharge these most important duties.

I am persuaded that in our city, with all its intelligence and refinement, there are no young ladies who receive from their own mothers, wiser or more effectual care in all that relates to purity of heart, health of body, improvement of manners, and propriety of deportment, than do the members of my family from those faithful and experienced teachers, who have for years been associated with me in the Academy.

PHYSICAL EXERCISES.

In this department each class is permitted to go once a day, as to a regular recitation. The large and airy room in which it is conducted, is furnished with all the appurtenances of a regular gymnaseum for females.

The result of the last year, viz: forms more erect and better developed, improved gracefulness in motion, and elasticity of step, cheerfulness of spirits, and vigor of health, clearly show the importance of this branch of female education. We again invite the attention of our friends to this recent improvement in the Academy.

SOME OF THE GENERAL RULES.

No young lady leaves our lot unattended by a teacher; expends one dime without our approbation—is permitted to have an account in the city; receives any company but relatives, and not those during school hours, or on the Sabbath when it can be avoided; will be permitted to receive eatables even from their parents; receives or sends messages of any kind, through the day scholars; is allowed more than five dollars, unless deposited with me; is permitted to associate with any other school-girls who attend promiscuous dancing schools, parties, pic-nics, fishing parties, &c. We cannot educate, either in our Boarding or Day School, pupils who are allowed by their parents to be "half-way Young Ladies."

EXPENSES.

Parents will find that it costs but little more to educate a daughter in Nashville, with all advantages, than in smaller towns—indeed no more than it does where they are allowed any liberty as to their store accounts.

Nashville may be an extravagant city, but the Nashville Academy is not an extravagant Boarding School.

Special provision made for very small children, such as cannot fail to please parents or guardians.

COLUMBIA,

County Seat of Maury County, is a beautiful Town on the South Bank of Duck River. Population about 2,000. Celebrated as the residence of the late President, James K. Polk. Celebrated, also, as a place of learning, wealth and fashion.

The Columbia Female Institute stands high in the list of schools.

Columbia Female College, under the Presidency of Rev. J. O. Church, compares favorably with any High School in the State.

Jackson College, under the Presidency of Professor Mitchell, has an able Professorship and a high standard of classic and English literature.

The County of Maury stands first on the list in this State for rich lands, fine farms, and growing wealth and prosperity. The following is a list of Mercantile and Professional Houses in Columbia :

KNOX COUNTY.

KNOXVILLE, the county seat is one of the oldest towns in the State. The first meetings of the State Legislature were held here. For many years it was the largest town in the State. The removal of the capital and the openings of trade West and South, caused a decline for several years. Within the last few years it has taken a new start in improvements, of every sort. Old houses are taken away and new ones built. The corporate limits are greatly extended and its population and business nearly doubled in the last ten years. It looks now like a young city, and has a population of about 6000. If any one asks what has given this new and life-like appearance to Knoxville, so long locked up in the mountains, the answer is, the whistle of the Locomotive has waked her up. Instead of being almost "no where at all," as she supposed, for many years, she suddenly wakes up and finds herself at the "Great Crossing," where "all the world and the rest of mankind" are coming.

Her connections with the great Railroads South East, South West, North East and North West, now in rapid progress towards completion, together with the development of the immense Agricultural and Mineral wealth in her vicinity, can leave no doubt in reference to her future prospects of wealth and greatness.

We make this hasty tribute to Knoxville, regretting at the same time that it was not made by some abler pen. Her mountain winds first fanned our baby cheeks, nor are they less sweet and pure on every returning visit. May her growing churches, schools and benevolent orders, keep pace with her growing wealth and increasing population. The following are the principal business firms in Knoxville:

MONTGOMERY COUNTY.

Gross population 21,045; voting population 2,650; taxable property $600,000.

CLARKSVILLE, the county seat, is a flourishing and beautiful town, on the North bank of the Cumberland River, 40 miles below Nashville—population 3500. Annual revenue $10,000. Necessary expences $2000.

It has a very respectable number of High Schools, Churches, Masonic, Odd Fellows and Temperance Orders. In morality, intelligence, wealth and public enterprise, Clarksville compares favorably with any town of its size in the State.

Rev. Mr. Irvin's High School for young ladies, is well established, well deserving and most cordially recommended. So is the Masonic College, established by the Grand Lodge of the State, worthy of all commendation. The edifice is very large and beautiful—the Board of Teachers and Trustees able, efficient and enterprising. This College, under the paternity of the Order—the distinctive features of which are charity, benevolence and universal fraternity—must succeed well.

The commercial prospects of Clarksville are not less worthy of a flattering notice. It has the largest Tobacco and Pork trade of any town of its size in the South. It commands the trade of a wealthy district of South Kentucky, which, together with the productions and wealth of the surrounding country, cannot fail to make it a flourishing commercial city. Then, there are new channels of trade opening to her market by turnpikes and Railroads, which will add at least one hundred fold to her wealth.

We give below a list of her merchants and manufacturers:

WILSON COUNTY.

LEBANON, county seat of Wilson, is a handsome and growing town, 30 miles East of Nashville. Population about 2,000. No town of its size in the West or South has done more, perhaps not as much, for the cause of Education.

Cumberland University is handsomely endowed—well established, and in regard to health, moral and literary advantages, stands without a rival West of the mountains. Its Law Departments has won golden opinions at home and abroad, as the best Law School in the United States.

The General Assembly of the C. P. Church has located a Theological School as a Department of the University. Rev. R. Beard, President.

The whole number of students in this Institution ranges from 250 to 300.

The Abbey Institute for Young Ladies, is a fine School and offers superior advantages to its patrons.

Campbell Academy has a handsome fund and offers fine advantages for those preparing for College.

Greenwood Seminary, for Young Ladies, near Lebanon, Prof. N. Lawrence Lindsley, A. M., Principal. This select High School affords peculiar advantages for acquiring a thorough education, and at the same time, the highest advantages for health and comfort.

The Educational, Professional, Mercantile and Manufacturing interests of Lebanon indicate the right spirit and promise to its citizens and the country a high standard of wealth and intelligence. The following are the principal Mercantile, Business and Professional Establishments:

GENERAL AGENTS FOR ENDOWMENTS.—Rev. Jno M. M'Murry; Gen. Robt. L. Caruthers.

EXPENSES.—These will vary with the habits of the students. The following will show the principal necessary expenses.

Tui ion Fee in preparatory Department, per Session of five months, $10 for the students of the 1st, $12 50 for the 2d, and $15 for the 3d and 4th classes.

Tuition Fee in College Proper, per session, 1st and 2d classes, $20.

Junior and Senior classes, $25.

Boarding, including lodging, washing, fuel and lights, per week, in town, $2 50.

In the vicinity, $1 50.

Room rent in College building, per session, $3.

A fee of one dollar and a half per session, is paid by each student for contingent expenses.

There are some minor expenses, which result from taxes voluntarily imposed by classes, or societies. In other incidental expenses, if money is furnished, or permission is given to contract debts, a student may be extravagant. To guard against this, it is earnestly recommended to all parents and guardians, not to authorize the obtaining of credit, unless under the special supervision of some friend. Boarding can be procured at the above prices in the most respectable families of the place.

SESSIONS AND VACATIONS.—Recent changes have been made in the sessions and vacations. The College year is divided into two sessions. The winter session begins on 3d Monday in September and terminates on the 3d Thursday of February. The summer session begins on the following Monday, and terminates on the 2d Thursday in July—which will hereafter be commencement day.

The next Collegiate year, however, will begin, as formerly, on the 1st day of October.

STATE OF ARKANSAS.

Has 2,598,214 acres of land, of which 781,530 only are in a state of improvement, leaving 1,816,684 in their wild and natural state. Many of these lands are very rich and productive. This State has a soil and climate adapted to the production of cotton, corn, hemp, tobacco, small grain, fruits and grasses of every kind, peculiar to the North and South.

The Bowie-Knife, (alias, "Arkansas Tooth Pick,") and the lawless banditi, that in early times held despotic sway, spreading fright and confusion among the early settlers, have within the last few years emigrated, some to California, some to New Mexico, and some to "Tophet, ordained of old."

It is difficult for the traveller, and even the old settlers of this State, to realize, that in a few years, so great a moral change should come over the spirit of their dreams. "Extremes beget extremes." When crime has reached a certain point, it reproves itself, and becomes in part its own remedy, as it is its own punisher.

The pleadings of religion and virtue, under such circumstances, come with a sweet and welcome voice, and gain an easy triumph. At this time, the educational, moral and commercial prospects of this State, are rolling up with a light that delights the eye.

In this State are extensive beds of iron, coal and other valuable minerals. They will soon be reached by Rail-Roads which are now in progress, and promise to span the State. Success to this young and growing State.

STATE OF TEXAS.

The State of Texas has the large amount of 11,398,337 acres of land; of this amount 639,117 acres only are improved, leaving 10,759,220 acres unimproved. Population in 1850, 212,592; Number of Cotton Bales in 1850, 57,596; Number of hhds. of Sugar in 1850, 7,351; Number of gallons of Molasses in 1850, 441,638. All these figures may now be doubled.

Ministers, 308; Attornies, 428; Merchants, 985; Physicians; 616.

The liberal grants of the State to Railroads and other schemes of Internal Improvement cannot fail to enrich her treasury as well as her people.

The immense bodies of rich and productive lands, together with the rapid increase of her enterprising population, must indicate a high destiny for Texas, and that very soon. We regret that we may not be able in this volume to give as full a representation of her commercial interests as we desired. This we shall have time and means to accomplish in our next number. The tardiness and uncertainty of the mails is no doubt the principal cause of our defective list from Texas.

WILLIAMSON COUNTY,

This list presents an interesting contrast from what was exhibited seven years ago, when those beautiful, rich and grass covered prairies were in a wild state of nature; pastures for the Buffalo and hunting ground for the savages. But now occupied by industrious and wealthy farmers, who are fast converting those Buffalo pastures into well cultivated farms, growing corn, wheat, cotton, &c., &c., not surpassed by any portion of the globe; and in the place of the Buffalo and other wild animals, those rich grassy plains, (not converted into farms,) are covered with domestic animals, cattle, horses, sheep, &c., are well supplied with food and yield their owners a rich reward.

White population about 3000; Scholastic population, from 6 to 16 years, 400; taxable property from 6 to 16 years, about $300,000.

STATE OF FLORIDA.

The State of Florida has an area of 2,195,298 acres of land, of which in 1850 only 3,490,49 acres were brought into cultivation. At the same date her population was 48,135

Florida has a mild and delightful climate. Her forests of timber, tropical fruits, fish and game, her fine gulf harbors, navigable rivers and beautiful lakes of water, together with the productions of Sugar, Cotton Rice, &c., to which her soil and climate are so admirably adapted, must draw capital and produce great wealth in a few years. In addition to the navigation of her rivers, which connects her with the gulf trade, a Railroad is now in progress which will soon connect her with the South Atlantic cities and the cities of the North. The terminus of this Railroad at any one of her commodious harbors, will give her a city which must grow up in a few years to rival other Southern cities. There are as yet but few merchants in that State. The following is the best showing we can now make:

FRANKLIN COUNTY.

Population, 1600; white 1000, colored 600. Taxable property valued at one million and forty-five thousand dollars. The largest portion of this value is estimated upon the property within the limits of the city of Apalachicola. STATE OF MISSISSIPPI.

The State of Mississippi has been the theatre of more reckless speculation of every kind, and consequently of more and greater reverses than any State in the Union. Men have made and lost large fortunes in quicker time than any where else. This state of things has now passed away. A new class of citizens now cultivate her rich cotton lands. A new and more prudent class of merchants regulate her commerce, so that now, both planters and merchants are prosperous and are growing rich.

The credit of the State, which had suffered in common with many of her noblest citizens, is greatly recovered; and will soon stand redeemed. No State in the Union has the elements of greater wealth than Mississippi. She has many flourishing schools and churches, the largest of which are at Oxford, Holly Springs, Columbus; Aberdeen, Sharon, Jackson, Woodville, Natchez and Port Gibson. Masonry and Odd Fellowship, flourish in this State, and are doing a full share of that noble work of elevating the standard of intelligence and morality. The Sons of Temperance and other orders of Temperance men, are doing good service towards upsetting the throne of Bachus in this State.

Improved land,	3,444,358
Unimproved land,	7,046,061
Total population,	606,526
Indian Corn, bushels,	22,446,552
Bales Cotton,	484,292
Ministers of the Gospel,	471
Lawyers,	590
Physicians,	1,217
Merchants,	1,506

The above is for 1852.

Success to Mississippi.

The following is our showing for this State, which we have no doubt will be much more full and satisfactory in our next vol.

ADAMS COUNTY.

NATCHEZ.—This city, within the last five years, has improved very rapidly, chiefly owing to its facilities for education. Considerable quantities of cotton are brought from the interior for reshipment to New Orleans, it being one of the largest shipping points on the river. The streets are regularly laid out, running at right angles, lined with beautiful trees on both sides. Added to this is a fine promenade and park on the bluff, commanding a view of the river for miles both up and down. This city is bound to be one of great importance, connected as it will be by Plank and Rail-Roads with every important point in the interior of Mississippi and Louisiana, added to being a large shipping port.

Population, 8,000; Churches, 6; one Institution for children, 640

SCHOOLS.—One Free School, five Female Seminaries, and seven Private Schools.

BOLIVAR COUNTY.

The population of county in 1837, was 249 free whites; 697 slaves. In 1853, 146 free white voters; 2,607 taxable slaves.

The country extending from the 33° of north latitude to the 35°, was, until a very few years past, with the exception of the county of Washington, a wilderness. The donation of the State by the General Government, of all the swamp lands, has made a material change. Upon it has been built the present level system, presenting a continuous line of defence against the Mississippi; and preventing the desolation of one of the most fertile portions of the habitable globe.

It is only within the past few years that public attention has been directed to this particular portion of country, but so great has been the advantages held out, that there has seldom been seen a greater emigration.

The advantages of education are limited. There are several small schools, which are poorly attended, owing to the sparseness of the population and the distance between plantations. Those who have several children, generally have a governness. There is no particular church upheld, but latterly, there has been a sermon preached by an itinerant minister of the Methodist faith. There are no merchants, as the planter generally supplies himself by the year in New Orleans; but there are small boats fitted up as stores, and float from place to place, thus supplying the plantations with smaller articles. There are no lawyers, but simply county officers; Litigation is small and cases unimportant. There are several physicians of good ordinary ability.

COAHOMA COUNTY,

Geo. F. Robertson, Clerk of Circuit & Probate Court, Williamsburg.

CLAIBORNE COUNTY.

No Manufactories are by machinery. Almost all wagons, carriages, buggies, plows, carts, &c., that are used in the county, are made there. The planters and citizens of the county, are in a very thriving, sound and prosperous condition; as a general thing, free from debt The Court Officers are in rather a starving state. The moral, social and pecuniary condition of Old Claiborne was never better than at the present time.

Population, 4,500 whites; 11,000 slaves. Produce, 25,000 bales of cotton; 900 children at school. 18 Churches. Three Agents for Insurance Companies—2 Ætna, 1 Mutual; J. J. Perrin, Agent for Port Gibson, and J. W. Champlin for Grand Gulf.

HANCOCK COUNTY.

This county is rather sparsely populated, it being principally a stock growing county, together with timber, pitch, tar and turpentine, which are the principal exports. There are but four towns in this county of any note, viz: Gainesville, (the county seat) Shieldsborough, Pearlington and Napoleon. Shieldsborough is a very flourishing place, lying immediately upon the Bay of St. hours and the Gulf of Mexico, much visited in the summer. The other three towns lie on Pearl River, which is navigable at all seasons at either point. In Gainsville there are two Schools, and a Masonic Lodge; the lower part of its hall is set apart for preaching and a School. One Steam Saw Mill, at which is cut an immense amount of lumber. One Cooper Shop. A steamboat runs regularly between this place and New Orleans, making her average trips in about seven hours, stopping at Napoleon and Pearlington. In Pearlington is one store and two Steam Saw Mills; the prospect of the New Orleans and Mobile Railroad running through it, has given a spur to its improvements. Sail vessels do a good business there. There is a flourishing School in Pearlington. Napoleon is on the decline. No physician resides in Gainsville, nor is there a lawyer, which speaks well for health and pocket.

Total population of the county, 3,672.

LOWNDES COUNTY.

Lowndes county is situated in the north-eastern portion of the State. The Tombigby River flows through it from N. E. to S. W. dividing it about equally.

The Western portion is principally prairie. The Eastern, sandy land. The Eastern portion was settled first, and is the most populous.

The town of Columbus is in the centre; Caledonia and Cork in the N. E.; Plymouth, Colbert, Barton, Waverly and Wastport on the west side of the Tombigby River, and Nashville on the East side of the river below Columbus. Crawfordsville is in the S. W. portion of the county.

The Tombigbee is the principal river of the county, passing through it south-eastwardly into Alabama. It is navigable for steam-boats several months in the year 160 miles above Columbus. Its largest tributaries in Lowndes on the east side are the Buttahatchee or "Pretty River" and Luxapellila or "Floating Turtle" both rising in Alabama, and flowing a south-western course about 75 miles.

The former for several miles in the northern boundary of the county, is a beautiful stream. The Luxapellila reaches the Tombigbee about three miles south of Columbus. The Octibbeha, of nearly the same size, flows into the Tombigbee from the west. The two last mentioned rivers may easily be rendered navigable a considerable distance in time of high water. All these streams abound in fish.

They have many tributary creeks, affording numerous sites for grist and saw-mills.

In consequence of the sale of the Choctaw and Chickasaw lands in this county, it has increased rapidly in population and wealth within a few years. The "Military" in connection with the "Robinson Road" is the great highway through it from north-east to south-west; at certain seasons it is thronged with emigrants and travellers.

Some straggling settlements were made in Lowndes as early as 1817. The first court was held in Columbus in 1830. The country between the Tombigbee and the Black Warrior was a "Neutral Ground," between the Choctaws and Creeks. Few traces remain of its former possessors, except certain mounds in the southern part of the county. By whom and for what purposes they were thrown up, is unknown. Probably by a people who inhabited the country before the present race of Indians. The Choctaws have a tradition that their Fathers emigrated westwardly till they came to this, the goodliest land they had ever seen; that being determined to possess it they waged desperate war with the occupant tribe; and at last in a dreadful battle defeated and exterminated them, glutting their tomahawks with slaughter. The Oktibbeha or "Fighting Water," was the boundary between the Choctaws and Chickasaws, and its banks were often the scene of fierce and deadly conflicts. Indeed, every hill, every dale, every stream, has a story of thrilling interest—but alas! we read it not. All the wild and wonderful history of this region is shrouded by the pall of ages. In vain does imagination on airy wings explore the gloom profound. For nearly six thousand years the sun has risen and set upon this land; here flowers have bloomed and faded; forests towered and fallen; summer and winter, spring and autumn reigned in all their loveliness and sublimity. Six thousand years these beautiful streams have wandered amid flowers and foliage, by lofty upland, and by winding vale, and prairie wild, unseen, perhaps, by mortal eye; perhaps the residence of powerful nations. We scan but a little part of the mighty past. We know, indeed, that for many a year through these groves, "the stoic of the woods—the man without a tear," pursued the deer from morn till evening; on these streams propelled the light canoe; here commemorated the exploits of the chase or returning from successful war, celebrated the feast, the song, the dance; here suspended the scalps of slaughtered foes; here lighted the funeral pyre of captive warriors, and "grinned horribly a ghastly smile," at their expiring agonies. The white man came, and the Indian vanished as a sullen thunder-cloud before the rising sun. He is gone from the stream, the wood and the prairie; his domain has passed into other hands, and the grave of his fathers alone remain to tell his tale.

Columbus, the seat of Justice for Lowndes county, Mississippi, is pleasantly situated on the east bank of the Tombigbee, in north latitude 33 degrees, 150 miles north east of Jackson, and 480 miles by river above Mobile.

It is regularly laid out upon an elevated plain—the streets crossing each other at right angles, and is a beautiful and flourishing place. Within a few years, in consequence of sale of the adjacent Indian lands, and the great emigration to the surrounding country, it has advanced rapidly in population and wealth.

It contains near 4000 inhabitants, has 6 churches, a fine County Court House, a large Town Hall, a Masonic, Odd-Fellows, and Sons of Temperance Hall, 3 Printing Offices, 2 Fire Engines, 1 Hook and Ladder Company, 2 Masonic Lodges, 1 Royal Arch Chapter, 2 Odd Fellows Lodges, and 1 Encampment, and 1 Division of the Sons of Temperance.

The various mechanical trades and learned professions, are numerously represented, and two finely equipped Military Companies in the town, with their soul stirring music, enlivens the dull and piping times of peace.

The town is well supplied with Institutes and Schools, under the superintendence of able teachers for both sexes. Columbus being built upon the sixteenth section, the income arising from the leases of lots, amounting to some $3,000 annually, is appropriated to the support of the Franklin Academy, where tuition is free to all the children and youth of the township.

FIRST SETTLEMENT OF COLUMBUS.

In the latter part of the year 1817, Thomas Thomas, a man who had been driven out by the agent, as an intruder in the Chickasaw nation, built a small split log hut upon the ground now known as the residence of C. D. Warren, Esq. This was the first effort ever made by the white man to build at this place, but there were no signs of its ever having been occupied by any white person till 1819.

About the middle o' June, 1819, Thomas Sampson, (afterwards Judge of the Probate Court,) William Viser, Spirus Roach and William Poor came to this place. Spirus Roach occupied and kept entertainment in the cabin built by Thomas Thomas, and from the peculiarities of himself and family, the Indians named the place Shook-huttah-tom-a-hah, or Opossum Town, which name it retained and was known by for several years. A short time after this, the citizens of the town and its vicinity had a meeting, and at the suggestion of Silas McBee, the place received the name of Columbus.

During the winter of 1819 and spring of 1820, the military road leading from Nashville to New Orleans, and passing through Columbus, was opened by the United States troops.

STATE OF LOUISIANA.

This State has an area of 46,431 square miles.

The swamp lands which lie mostly on the west bank of the Mississippi River, extend from twenty to forty miles in width, and are the richest lands in the world. When these lands shall be properly drained and protected from the overflow of water from the Mississippi and its tributaries, it requires no prophet to foresee that this great valley will be "The Nile" of the United States.

Here are the finest sugar and cotton lands in the United States, and perhaps in the world. There are smaller bodies of lands in Texas, as well adapted to the production of sugar and cotton, but no where can be found so large a body. Thousands of acres of these lands are being redeemed from overflow, and brought into successful cultivation every year. In reference to the plan for draining and protecting these lands, many theories have been suggested, but none as yet, well carried out.

It will be found wholly impracticable to confine the immense body of the waters of the Mississippi within its banks. The laws of nature must be consulted. The outlets which the law of nature has provided, must be permitted, enlarged and protected by leveys. In the course of time and experience, it may be found best to open a channel for the waters of the Lakes and Bayous through the low grounds, west of the River, to pass off a nearer way to the gulf of Mexico.

This plan, it is now thought, with the usual leveys upon the River and its outlets, and the system of plantation leveying and draining lately adopted, will be the cheapest and most permanent protection. This done, the greatest agricultural wealth in the world will be developed in Louisiana. The same remark applies to those portions of the States of Mississippi, Askansas and Tennessee which have been subject to those overflows.

The planters of Louisiana and of the South in general, are regarded (justly, we think,) the most intelligent, liberal and courteous population of the country. The same may also be said of merchants and professional gentlemen who have lived a few years in the South. The susceptibility of warm impulses peculiar to the South, furnishes the elements of the best society, and when controled by the principles of true religion, secures the highest intellectual and social enjoyment. This testimony is freely given by every intelligent traveller, who spends but a winter in the South.

If our brethren in the north will come and see us, and learn that our slaves are provided and cared for, both in reference to this life and the life to come, they must confess that great injustice has been done to us, and that to decry and break down the South would be suicidal to the North.

As the providence of God has placed the North and South and solemnly "joined them together, let no man put them asunder." As they are, they embody the elements of the greatest people on the globe. As they are mutually dependent upon, so that they are mutual helpers of each other. Long may they live in social harmony and grow in commercial prosperity.

Will be regularly served to subscribers in the city at an early hour every day, (Sundays excepted,) for $8 a year, in advance, payable to the Office, or 15 cents a week payable to the Carriers.

THE CIRCULATION

Of the Crescent, Daily and Weekly, is such as to offer a desirable medium to Advertisers. As

A FAMILY PAPER

It circulates largely, and at an early hour, at the homes of citizens, and articles sold to families, may be most advantageously advertised in its columns. No paper in the city circulates as extensively among families.

OUR TERMS

Are such as to invite the attention and patronage of the public.

Terms of Advertising.

Per square of ten lines, in Pearl, first insertion, in all cases, $1; every subsequent insertion, 50 cts.—Advertisements on the second page are charged as new each day. A liberal discount will be made with those who advertise by the year, or for a shorter time. All advertisements not marked, will be published one month, and charged accordingly.

ST. CHARLES HOTEL,

HALL & HILDRETH,

Proprietors.

THIS MAGNIFICENT EDIFICE EXTENDS FROM COMMON TO GRAVIER, FRONTING TWO HUNDRED AND SEVENTY-FIVE FEET UPON ST. CHARLES STREET, AND RUNS BACK UPON EACH OF THE FORMER TWO HUNDRED AND THIRTY FIVE FEET.

ITS SPLENDID PARLORS, SALOONS AND CHAMBERS NUMBER ABOUT FOUR HUNDRED, WITH CAPACITY TO LODGE MORE THAN SIX HUNDRED PERSONS, BESIDES SERVANTS.

The gentlemanly and enterprising proprietors have spared neither labor nor cost to make this (as they have done) one of the finest Hotels in the United States. It is thus advertised by the hundreds who daily participate in its rich and varied luxuries.

The writer gives this notice unasked by either of the proprietors, and respectfully invites his friends to call, assuring them, that one dinner at the St. Charles will be more satisfactory than any effort to describe it.

EVERY MERCHANT

AND WHOLESALE DEALER, in the city and county, has BOOKS and PAPERS, the loss of which would prove highly disastrous, and in many cases ruinous. The same may be said of a large majority of RETAILERS, PLANTERS, CAPITALISTS, LAWYERS, MASTER MECHANICS, &c. Such a calamity may be guarded against at a small outlay, as can be proved by the testimony of merchants and others of the highest standing, in this city and elsewhere, who have saved, respectively, from one hundred to eight hundred times the amount of their investment, by purchasing RICH'S PATENT SALAMANDER SAFES.

EVERY COURT HOUSE in the United States, with rare exceptions, is liable any night to be consumed by fire, together with its valuable contents; and although its most important documents and records could be rendered perfectly secure at a cost of two hundred to seven hundred dollars, from half a million to several millions of dollars are constantly at stake, in order to save so small an expense.

It is fortunate for the citizens of St. Francis County, Ark., that those having charge of their Court House did not practice that kind of economy, as Mr. Parrott's certificate will show:

STATE OF ARKANSAS, }
County of St. Francis. } ss.

I, John M. Parrott, Clerk of the Circuit Court in and for said county, do certify that on the morning of the 10th of December, 1853, the Court House of said county was destroyed by fire, wherein was one of Rich's Safes, No. 4063, which contained all of the records and papers of importance belonging to my office, that could be placed therein; that said Safe was opened (cut open) some days after said house was destroyed as aforesaid, and all of the contents thereof were safe, except as to the binding of said records and books, which were steamed so as to render it necessary to have them re-bound.

Given under my hand, at my office in Mount Vernon, this 29th day of December, 1853.

J. M. PARROTT, Clerk.

The foregoing is similar to many other Certificates, elicited by fires in the States of Massachusetts, Rhode Island, New York, Ohio, South Carolina, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and California. These will be furnished in a convenient form to those who will apply or send their addresses to the undersigned, sole Agent here for the sale of the above named Safes.

☞ As Safes similar in appearance to the Salamander, and made by a late manufacturer of Salamander Safes, but filled with a new and untried material, never used in Safes until some months after the termination of the World's Fair, are offered for sale, it becomes the duty of the subscriber to inform the public (who are solicited to examine the evidence of the fact now in his possession) that he is the only holder in this city of genuine Salamander Safes, made under Rich's or Wilder's Patents.

Our Parish, (Caldwell) is only twenty-four miles square, and is divided by the Ouachita river, upon the banks of which there lies some of the finest Agricultural lands in the South. It is pretty well all taken u and there are now large and extensive plantations and farms opening. I has been estimated by the knowing ones of New Orleans, that there a r

330,000 bales Cotton shipped annually down the Ouachita to that city, and as this section of country is yet in its infancy, this estimate shows the great resources of which it is capable, should the rail roads now in contemplation be completed, I have no doubt but that the products of this region of country will be doubled in a very few years.

I have here spoken of the whole country watered by the Ouachita and tributaries, of which Caldwell Parish is a portion, and nearly in the centre.

R. Duckworth, Justice Peace in and for Parish of Caldwell, will promptly attend to any business that may be entrusted to his care.

STATE OF KENTUCKY.

The State of Kentucky has an area of 16,949,748 acres of land, 5,968,270 of which are in cultivation. Some of the largest grain and stock farms in the West or South are in this State. Corn, Tobacco, Hemp, Grass and Small Grain, are the staples of this State. Stock growing is receiving increased attention within the last few years, and is paying well for that attention. The following reference to the Census of 1850, will show the annual amount of the principal products of Kentucky.

Bushels of Corn, 58,672,591; Wheat, 2,142,822; Oats, 8,201,311 lbs. of Butter, 9,947,523; lbs. of Wool, 2,297,433; pounds of Tobacco, 55,501,196; tons of Hemp, 1,335; Swine, 2,891,163; Sheep, 1,102,091. Population, whites 761,413; slaves 210,981; free colored 5,148. Total 9,824,05. Merchants 3,177; Lawyers 995; Doctors 1,818; Ministers of the Gospel 931.

If rich lands, minerals, water power, forests of fine timber, fruits, fine springs of water, with the application of skilful agriculture, manufactures, mining, commerce, rail roads, steam boat navigation, &c., can make a rich State, then Kentucky will ere long be a very rich State.

In chivalry and patriotism she stands deservedly high. She has many excellent schools and colleges and is taking the proper steps to establish a system of general education.

The citizens of Kentucky are celebrated for sobriety, morality, intelligence and cordial hospitality to each other and to strangers.

We regret that the returns from all the Counties of this State did not come in, in time to be inserted. We shall make an earnest effort and hope to succeed in making a full and flattering report for Kentucky in our next volume.

LOUISVILLE

Is most handsomely laid out for a large city. Its streets are wide and beautiful, and its late improvements are large and city like.

The business houses recently put up and those now going up are upon a scale of magnitude and beauty equal to those of any city.

If there is any distinctive feature in the trade of this city, it is in the Drug line. The Tobacco, Pork, Groceries, Shoes and Dry Goods trade is also large. The new paper and publishing offices are large and well conducted. And the Music and Book Trade is not less important.

The Churches, Halls and other public buildings are of a size and finish indicating both liberality and good taste. There has been, till recently, a sinful negligence on the subject of popular or general education. To the late liberal policy adopted by this city for objects of education, much is due to the agency of the press. No public or national interest comes more immediately under the control of the press than this, and yet but few writers comparatively act as if they were sensible of their obligations. As the press sustains education, so will education sustain the press. Let the press of every village, town and city, imitate the example of the Louisville press in pressing the claims of universal education.

The population of Louisville is supposed to be about 60,000. Its manufacturing interests have grown up rapidly within the last few years. No business interest contributes so much to the permanent growth and prosperity of a city or a community, as manufacturing. Here is productive capital.

We call attention to the business cards of this city, and we regret that our Agent, Mr. Collins, nor ourself, had time to canvass and present the claims of our work.

☞ See the card of Messrs. G. W. Brainard & Bro., No. 109 Fourth street. Their stock and fixtures for printing music, together with the number and style of their Piano Fortes, and every other musical instrument usually kept in music stores, cannot fail to please the ear, the eye and the cultivated taste. We commend this establishment and the gentlemanly proprietors to the favor and confidence of the trade.

☞ The Galt House, (Messrs. John Raine & Co., Proprietors) is justly an object of interest and pride to the city of Louisville and the whole business and travelling public. Every luxury that the market can afford, done up in exquisite style, is here bountifully furnished.

The size, ventilation and furniture of every apartment in this large establishment, exhibit a taste and an appreciation of the comfort and the wants of the public worthy of all commendation.

☞ NOCK, WICKS & Co.—This house is large and very centrally located. Their trade with the South and South West, "particularly," is very heavy in Liquors, Tobacco, Starch, Soap, Cider, Vinegar, &c., usually manufactured in the West. The senior partner, Mr. Nock, is well and favorably known as a merchant for the last twenty years in this city, and is now one of the wealthy men of the State. The locality of their principal trade and their acquaintance in the manufacturing towns and cities of the Ohio River, offer inducements to shippers of Cotton and Pig Iron to this market and consignments from manufacturers.

☞ We call attention to the card of Rowland, Russell & Co. The Soap and Candle Manufactory is one of the largest in the South or West, and is fully entitled to all that their card claims, and much more. We cordially commend them to the trade of the whole South and West.

☞ As an evidence of the extent of Mr. Spencer's business, two of his bills for advertising were shewn me, which reach the small amount in round numbers of two hundred dollars each, for the last quarter ending June 30. Let no one wonder at his success.

☞ See his card.

☞ By politeness of Mr. Lindenberger, of the firm of Lindanberger & Co., I was shown through their large and commodious four story building, 180 feet deep, and was much pleased with their arrangements and capacity for their business. In looking over their sales book, I found they were supplying the trade of a large section of the South and West. This is one of the oldest houses in this line of business in Louisville, and I can confidently recommend them to dealers furnishing drugs in that city.

☞ If you want a plug of fine tobacco, or a choice cigar, call and you will not fail to be liberally supplied with the best. On this point I speak from experience.

☞ J. S. MORRIS & SON.—This is one of the oldest Drug houses in the city, having been established nearly thirty years ago. Joseph S. Morris, the Senior partner, has been in the business from his youth, graduated at the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy in 1825, and is considered by importers and druggists as the best judge of goods West of the Mountains. The Junior partner served his business apprenticeship in one of the largest Chemical Laboratories in Philadelphia, and is a graduate of the College. The already handsome and commodious four story Warehouse is undergoing repairs and being enlarged, and when completed will be two hundred feet in length.

☞ HAYES, CRAIG & CO.—Among the manufacturers of Louisville' Hayes, Craig & Co., hold a prominent position; their establishment is the oldest of the kind in the city, and the most extensive Hat and Cap Warehouse in the West and South. Their facilities for manufacturing enables them to compete successfully in the sale of their goods with all Eastern cities, and for elegance of style and beauty of finish, have taken two first class premiums at the World's Fair, over Europe and America. Being practical men, honorable and upright in their dealings, they owe their success to their perseverance and industry.

☞ See the Extra Card of Messrs. Bent, Duvall & Co., Importers and Dealers in Carpeting, &c. This house stands A No. 1 and are doing a very large and accommodating and very satisfactory business. We invite the attention of all country dealers to this house. Every thing in the line of House furnishing goods can be had here on terms to please.

STATE OF GEORGIA.

The State of Georgia has 22,821,379 acres of land; improved 6,378,479 acres; unimproved 16,442,900 acres. Average number of Cotton Bales per annum, 499,091; Bushels of Corn, 30,080,099; Bushels of Wheat, 188,534; Bushels Sweet Potatoes, 6,986,428; Whole population 906,185; Number of Ministers of the Gospel, 715; Number of Attorneys at Law, 711; Number of Physicians, 1,295; Number of Merchants, 2,424.

Her progress in Railroad, Manufacturing, Agricultural and other improvements, outstrips any other State in the South. Her liberal policy in fostering and aiding schemes of internal improvement, instead of depleting has repleted her treasury. Her Bonds command a handsome premium, the interest upon which she offers to pay six months in advance. A large portion of her lands is poor, but careful culture, manuring, &c., they are growing rich and well repay the husbandman's toil.

Her mineral wealth alone, when fully developed, will make her rich. She has over 1000 miles of Railroad now completed, which pays well, but which will be doubly valuable when her magnificent schemes now in rapid progress, shall be completed.

Savannah is her principal commercial city, has now a population of about 25,000. Augusta, Columbus, Macon and Atlanta are beautiful and growing cities, the first has a population of 15,000 and the three latter about 8000 each.

The returns from the Counties of Georgia for this work have been more full and promptly made than those from any other State.

A copy of this work, gratis, sent to Clerks of the Superior Court in each County, will exhibit our plan and the objects of it, so that there will be less delay and more fullness and satisfaction in the next returns.

BALDWIN COUNTY.

MILLEDGEVILLE has a pleasant situation, at the head of steamboat navigation on Oconee river, 300 miles from the sea, and 648 miles from Washington. The city is built on elevated and somewhat uneven ground. It is the capital of Georgia, and is laid out with broad streets and pleasant squares. The state house is a fine edifice of Gothic architecture, surmounted by a cupola, and containing in its halls portraits of General Oglethorpe and other eminent men of early times. Among the other prominent buildings, are banks, a market house, governor's house, state arsenal and churches. A bridge extends to the west bank of the river.

The population in 1810 was 1,256; in 1820, ——; in 1830, 1,599; in 1840, 2,095; in 1850, ——.

The present population is about 3000. It is connected with the Central Railroad at Gorden, a distance of about twenty miles. The principal trade of the county (Baldwin) is done here.

The following are the general merchants:—Barnett, W; Bachelder & Frank; Beecher & Fair; Beall, J; Conn, J; Case, Foot & Co.; Duncan, J; Edwards, D M; Miller, J; Mott & Ware; Newell, J; O'Brien, M; Robinson, W G & Co.; Randolph, A W; Stetson, D B; Stoddard, Russell & Co; Treanor, J; Wright, C H; Wadyfelder, E & Co.

BIBB COUNTY.

MACON, Bibb county, is a young and healthy and growing city, on the West Bank of the Ockmulgee River at the head of the Steam Boat Navigation. It has a population of about 8000. Four Churches, several High Schools, Masonic and Odd Fellows Lodges, Sons of Temperance Hall, two Banks and several Bank Agencies, Insurance Agencies, &c. It is connected by the Central Rail Road and its branches with Savannah, Augusta, Charleston and the North, by the South Western Rail Road with Columbus and Oglethorpe, and by the Macon and Western Rail Road with Atlanta and the cities of the West. Its streets are wide and many of its buildings creditable for any city.

A survey has been made by a competent Engineer from the head of the Falls of the River, ten miles above the city, showing that the opening of a Canal would bring water power to the city sufficient to run any amount of machinery. This done, Macon will become a manufacturing city. There is now a respectable manufacturing interest growing up here.

The Macon Building Loan Association and the Bibb County Loan Association, lately set forward by our friend Wm. S. Williford, Esq., Secretary and Treasurer of both, are now in successful operation. The streets, churches and public buildings are lighted with gas.

There is a heavy grocery, produce and cotton trade done here. Other branches of trade, such as Dry Goods, Hats, Boots and Shoes, Hardware, Glass and China, Drugs, &c., &c., are growing rapidly, as may be seen by the Cards inserted.

There are two principal Hotels now in full blast and doing a large business—The Lanier House and the Floyd House. See their Cards. Having enjoyed the excellent hospitalities of both these Hotels, we are cordial in recommending them.

☞ See the Card of the Wesleyan Female College. This Institution, under the paternity of the Georgia Conference of the M. E. Church South, will bear favorable comparison with any South or North. The College Edifice is large and beautiful, well lighted with gas, supplied with apparatus and furniture of every description, suited to such an Institution.

The boarding department is provided with every convenience for health and comfort, with capacity to accommodate eighty pupils. The beauty and healthfulness of the location, the ability of the Professors and Board of Teachers, together with its accessibility by Railroads to the wealthy Districts of the South, cannot admit a doubt of its success.

☞ The Bibb County Female Academy, under the supervision of Rev. Mr. Wood, A. M., is well endowed and sustained as a preparatory department to the College.

The Bibb County Male Academy, under the Presidency of Rev. Mr. Miller, A. M., is also endowed and well sustained. These Institutions speak well for the wealth, intelligence and moral tone of Macon and South Western Georgia.

☞ See the Card of Harnden's Express. The well arranged offices and prompt attention of the Agents and Proprietors, is an object of great interest and convenience of shippers and those who transmit money or valuable articles. These Expresses guarantee both safety and the greatest despatch to all who put business into their hands. Our acquaintance and business done by them have both been agreeable and satisfactory.

☞ The Central Railroad from Savannah to Macon and the Augusta and Waynesboro' Road, (now a branch of the Central) are in good order and paying a fair per centage to the Company. So of the South Western Railroad from Macon to Columbus, and the road diverging from it at Fort Valley to Oglethorpe and soon to be completed to Americus.

The Macon and Western Rail Road to Atlanta and those connecting with the Georgia Road from Augusta, the State Road from Atlanta to Chattanooga and thence to Nashville, by the Nashville and Chattanooga Railroad, the Atlanta and Lagrange Road completed to Montgomery, Ala., all pay well and contribute largely to build up the Agricultural, Manufacturing and Commercial wealth of Macon and the States and cities united by them.

These Roads have able and accommodating Presidents, Superintendents and Conductors.

☞ The Lanier House, by Messrs. Logan & Meara, has, as we think deservedly, the reputation of a first rate Hotel. The Proprietors both have that peculiar gift so essential to the success of Hotel keepers, (politeness.) Hence we suppose in part at least the politeness of the servants.

The bed chambers are large, well ventilated and furnished in a style of neatness and comfort. The traveller cannot but have observed what an improvement there is in Hotel keeping within the last few years. It is said that the Lanier House is equal to any Southern Hotel. It is equal to any of its size in the interior. We ask the co-operation of city and country to aid these gentlemen in keeping up this establishment by giving them a liberal patronage. See their Card.

☞ MACON MANUFACTURING COMPANY.—John J. Gresham, President; Wm. S. Holt, General Agent.—This Establishment went into operation in 1851, and is driven by Steam power alone, with an upright Engine of 100 horse power, 5000 Spindles, 129 Looms, and 115 operatives. Consumption 675,000 pounds Cotton per annum. Production 1,500,000 yards 4-4 Sheetings per annum. Capital stock $145,000, yielding semi-annual dividends of 5 per cent on the Capital Stock.

As an evidence of the good management of this Establishment, when it went into operation it had an indebtedness of about $56,000, which is now wholly liquidated, and the Company has a surplus on hand of $33,000.

We give this notice of facts to shew that with the proper skill and management, manufacturing can be carried on successfully in the South. We give it too, unsolicited by the Agent or Company, who have got along without even an advertisement. The secret of their great success is that they do all their business upon the cash system. We are much pleased with the order, cleanliness and healthfulness of this Establishment, and especially that the operatives are all Southern girls.

☞ Findlays Iron Works, Macon, Ga., near the Macon and Western Railroad Depot.—Mr Findlay kindly showed us through his large Establishment, which extends on two streets about 600 feet, including Steam Engine, Boiler, Iron Foundry, Brass Foundry, Pattern, Blacksmith Shops and Offices.

A large well supplies water by machinery to every department of the works. From 60 to 70 hands are employed in the different departments. It is well worth the time of the business men to visit these works. In capacity, adaptedness of machinery and skillful management, it is not surpassed by any Establishment in the South.

☞ See their Card.

☞ Ross & Brothers showed us through their large Wholesale Grocery and Dry Goods Establishment in Cotton Avenue, to which we would respectfully invite the attention of country merchants.

The sales of this house reach the moderate sum of $400,000 per annum. They keep every thing and barter for every thing. Such a house is an object of interest both to city and country. Their extensive reputation and not less extensive success, must result from the prompt and liberal plan of conducting their business. Success to them.

☞ See their Card.

☞ Wood, Bradley & Co., showed us through their large Steam Furniture Factory, which we commend to the South as having the capacity to supply them with fancy and plain work at short notice and on the best of terms.

☞ See their card.

☞ We invite attention to the card of the Redding House. This house has recently been completely renovated and fitted up in a better style than ever before. It has eighty rooms, many of which are large and fitted up specially for families. It has capacity to entertain two hundred and fifty persons comfortably, and in cool weather three hundred.

The late gentlemanly proprietor seems determined to spare neither labor nor expense to make his house equal with any Hotel of its size in the South. Having shared the kind hospitalities of this house, we ask for it, as it now enjoys, a brilliant success.

☞ Being courteously entertained at the Franklin House, kept by our personal friend, M. Stubblefield, late from Tennessee, we must call attention to his well kept House and his well kept Livery and Sale Stables.

☞ We had the pleasure of looking through the large Fire Proof Ware House of Messrs. Patten, Collins & Co. For the storage of Cotton, Corn, Bacon and Produce of all kinds, this is one of the best in any Southern city, and to our friends in Tennessee, Alabama and elsewhere, we can say from the most satisfactory reference, no house is considered more safe and accommodating. They have a large house in Savannah under the style of Patton, Hutton & Co

☞ See their cards for Macon and Savannah.

☞ Hardeman & Sparks.—See their card. Looking through their large Fire Proof Ware House, which covers one acre of ground, with a shed of 42 feet, we were pleased to see the business done and the capacity to do business in this Establishment. These gentlemen have a well deserved reputation for business integrity, promptness and accommodation. Success to them.

☞ See the card of Messrs. McCallie & Jones, General Commission Merchants, late from Chattanooga, Tennessee. The well established reputation of this house in Tennessee for integrity and promptness, needs no recommendation from us. Yet being old and personal friends, we must say to our many readers that any business confided to them will be perfectly safe and receive prompt attention on satisfactory terms.

☞ Knight's Steam Sash and Blind Factory is worth seeing. It is an acquisition to the city and creditable to the proprietor. He is prepared to turn out any amount of work, which he warrants to give satisfaction. His printed rates of charges are moderate and will not be departed from. Orders will therefore be filled to satisfaction.

☞ If you would have a beautiful monument to mark the place of loved ones departed, call or make your orders of James B. Artope, Importer and manufacturer of fine Italian and American Marble. Also, every style of fancy and plain work. We saw the draughts and specimens of this establishment which we have not seen surpassed in any South or West. His yard is near Hardeman & Sparks Ware House, Third street

☞ LIGHTFOOT, FLANDERS & Co., Commission Merchants and Dealers in Staple Dry Goods, Hardware, Cutlery, Saddlery, Drugs, &c., East Macon.—This house has been established about thirty years and has done a large, safe and growing trade all this time. The sales in this house reach over $100,000 per annum.

We take pleasure in recommending them to the attention of our many readers. We give this notice without solicitation of the parties. There are three or four other stores here, and a population of about 300. J. A. Nelson does a heavy trade here and has a valuable reputation for integrity and promptness. See his card.

☞ The 26th term of the Georgia Episcopal Institute will commence on the 12th of October, 1854, and close the 12th of July, 1855.

This Institution is situated in Monroe county, Georgia, about seventeen miles west of the city of Macon, in a remarkably healthy region of country, and apart from all influences that can interfere with the quiet and uninterrupted prosecution of its studies and pursuits. It is located upon a farm of several hundred acres, the property of the Institute, affording grounds for the amusement and exercise of the Pupils, free from all intrusion and annoyance.

This Institute is provided with ample accommodations for eighty pupils, with their teachers, matrons, &c.

A primary department will be added to the Institute, another term for the pupils between the ages of eight and twelve years.

This School stands deservedly high in the confidence of the Southern people. Why send your daughters to the North when you can enjoy equal facilities for a thorough education in your own mild and balmy South.

☞ See the card of Mr. B. A. Wise. This house has a fine stock of every thing in their line, and has deservedly a high reputation for punctuality and integrity. Success to them.

Planters and Wagoners will do well to call before buying elsewhere.

ROSS & BROTHERS,

Wholesale Grocery and Dry Goods Merchants,

COTTON AVENUE, MACON, GA.

Keep constantly on hand large and splendid stocks of everything in the Grocery, Produce, and Dry Goods line; which they sell very low for Cash or Barter, for any kind of marketable trade, or on reasonable credit to punctual Dealers and Good Paper. Their extensive experience and flattering success in business, together with their full and seasonable stocks, will justify them in reassuring their extensive country custom, that no Northern or Southern market can supply them on better terms.

Thankful for the very liberal patronage extended to them, they respectfully solicit all country and retail merchants to call and examine their styles of goods and prices before purchasing elsewhere.

☞ They keep also in the same Avenue, on the opposite side, a fine stock of Staple and Fancy Goods for the retail city and country trade.

ATHENS.—Athens is a healthy, pleasant, growing town in the county of Clark, with a population of about 4000. It is the terminus of an arm of the Georgia Railroad, forty miles from Union Point, where it joins the Main Road. It commands a heavy trade from the surrounding country, and promises soon to become a city of considerable importance. It has four fine Churches, well sustained, and two African Churches. The Georgia State University is located here, with an endowment by the State. It has also recently received a liberal endowment of $20,000 by Dr. William Terril, of Hancock County, for the special purpose of establishing a new Professorship for Agriculture.—Alonzo Church, D. D., is President.

This Institution has an average of 159 students, which, with the growing wealth of the State, and the growing interest on the subject of education, ought soon to double its present number.

A. M. Scudder has a flourishing Male School, which serves for a Preparatory Department to the University.

The French and English High School for young ladies, by Mrs. Helen Coley, is well patronized.

Grove Seminary for young ladies, by Miss Bingham, is also well sustained.

The Principal, in each of these Schools, has flattering success, as from reputation they all deserve.

Masonry, Odd Fellowship and the Temperance Organizations, all have a healthful and growing condition here.

The intelligence, morality and commercial prosperity of Athens, will compare favorably with any town in the South.

We call attention to the following Cards inserted in this work, as entitled to the fullest confidence. For integrity and promptness, they have a desirable reputation.

FULTON COUNTY.

ATLANTA is the county seat of Fulton; population about 8000. It is celebrated as the Railroad city of the South. Four important Railroads meet here, bringing an immense travel and a heavy trade to this point. It is also celebrated for health and the rapid increase of its population, commerce and manufactures. It has the largest and handsomest passenger depot in the South, and perhaps in this country. This magnificent structure is the joint work of the several Railroad Companies. It has also the finest Court House in the South. It has a number of handsome Churches and a few good private Schools. Male and Female Colleges are much needed here and will, we trust, soon be established.

A fair showing of the Hotels, Commerce, Manufactures and Railroads, may be seen by reference to the cards and notices inserted below, all of which are commended to the trade and travel of the county. We made our head quarters here with our friend L. Dean, of the City Hotel. He does not keep the finest house in the city, but we like it because it is a quiet, orderly, Temperance House. We have, and still do ask that this House may be well sustained. Mr. Dean is a courteous and pleasant gentleman.

☞ See the card of his house.

☞ The Trout House, to be opened in November, 1854, is an acquisition and an ornament to the city of Atlanta, of which it may well be proud, and to which they will (as they ought) extend a liberal patronage. Mr. Gage, the enterprising proprietor, (late of the Eutaw House, Mobile,) has in this house erected a monument to his memory, and furnished an example of liberal public spirit which cannot fail to be gratefully cherished by his family, his adopted city and the public in general.

The high, delightful and healthy location of Atlanta, its convenient access by four of the finest Railroads in the South, to every Southern city and those of the North and West, will always make it a desirable Summer retreat for Southerners and a winter retreat for Northerners. For each and all of these the Trout House will be the centre of attraction. It is located north and near the Passenger Depot, fronting south where all the Railroads meet. It also commands a delightful view of the whole city.

The front is beautiful and the whole building of heavy walls and well supported by partitions. The rooms (one hundred in number) are well lighted and ventilated, many of them large enough for families, and all furnished with a view to elegance of style and the highest degree of comfort and satisfaction. The gentlemanly proprietor has laid himself out to keep and sustain his house in a style not inferior to any in the South. Success to him.

☞ Twenty miles South of the city of Atlanta on the Georgia Road will bring you to the Stone Mountain House, kept by Messrs. Clark & Hitchcock. Here a few days of fine living, the merry greeting of smiling faces, rusticating upon the celebrated "Stone Mountain" and occasionally taking a telescopic glance from the Observatory over the vasty fields of the Sunny South, will drive away the whole train of miserable "Blue Devils."

Seeing the crowds of visitors at this place, some seeking health and more seeking pleasure, whilst others were seeking rest and relaxation from the toils and pressing cares of business, we could but wonder that so many of our Southern people should leave such scenes of pleasure, health and beauty as are found here, and a hundred other places in the South, to spend the Summer in the North. Why not spend their money at home, where they made it, and where in the legitimate channels of circulation it will return to them again. Where too, health, pleasure and home sympathies, all combine to make such visits happy. The enterprising proprietors of the "Stone Mountain House" are entitled to both the patronage and gratitude of the South for erecting a magnificent Hotel that will accommodate three hundred guests. This they can and will do next year, 1855, in a style at least equal to any in the country. For particulars, see their card. Success to them.

☞ See the card of the Atlanta Hotel, kept by Dr. J. Thompson. The Doctor showed us through his parlors, chambers, &c., all of which we found in excellent order and clean enough for Sunday. He showed us also to his Dining Room at a propitious time, both in reference to our appetite and the condition of the table. O. K.

Long experience and flattering success are the surest guarantee that the Dr. knows how to do things up brown. The additions and improvements now making to his house (thirty new rooms) will enable him to entertain comfortably two hundred persons.

☞ See the card of Washington Hall Hotel. Messrs. Lloyd & Pulliam, Proprietors. This house has had a long and favorable run of business, which, with the experience of the proprietors and the late improvements in its furniture, fare, &c., may justify a continuation of their fine custom.

☞ Having looked through the Fulton House and having sat at its well furnished table, we are pleased both with the house, the table and the gentlemanly proprietor. We hope it may long maintain its good name and its good run of custom. It is well for the travelling public that there are several fine Hotels here. They all have a fine custom and are getting rich.

☞ See the card of Atlanta Machine Works. This establishment is in healthful and vigorous operation, paying well upon the capital invested. (About $30,000.) Those in want of any kind of Machinery or repairing may depend upon having it well and promptly done here. James L. Dunning is a business practical man and is the Superintendent.

☞ See the card of Joseph Winship's Rail Road Car, Sash, Door and Blind Factory. Also his Iron and Brass Foundry and Machine works. Mr. Winship has the reputation of one of the most experienced Machinists in the State. His invested capital is about $40,000.

☞ Among other objects of interest in this young and growing city is the large Flouring Mills of W. G. Peters & Co. The Engine (one hundred and fifty horse power) is of the finest finish and runs five sets of stones and turns off from two hundred and fifty to three hundred barrels in twenty-four hours. The Flour is of superior quality and the management of the whole concern highly satisfactory. The mills and invested capital is about $70,000. To the grain growing Dictricts of the whole South this establishment is an object of great interest.

☞ See the card of J. Norcross, wholesale and retail dealer in Dry Goods, Groceries, &c., &c. Mr. Norcross has done much to build up this young city, and it has done much to build him up also. In fact they have both grown up together, for they began to grow about the same time. For integrity and business capacity he stands high.

☞ Messrs. Seago & Abbott, wholesale Grocers and Commission Merchants, have a deservedly high reputation for integrity and business capacity. They are doing a large and accommodating business. Sales amounting to over $100,000 per annum. For particulars see their card.

☞ See the card of John R. Wallace and Bros. There is a little history connected with one of the partners of this house, (John R. Wallace) which we give for the benefit of poor young men who desire to get along and get up in this world.

Mr. Wallace came to Atlanta from Tennessee about eight years ago, with but one dollar in his pocket. He set in as a stone boy with Mr. Norcross, a thrifty merchant, and in a short time made a little money. With this he set out for California. Here, though he worked hard two years to make money in the old fashioned honest way, he failed; returned to Atlanta minus $400. Set in again with his former employer, stuck to him till he paid up, made both money and reputation. Set up business for himself, took two of his brothers in with him, and, as Atlanta grew up to be a city, these boys grew up to be strong merchants, whose sales this year will reach nearly $100,000. So much for industry and perseverance. Success to them.

☞ See the card of J. E. Williams. We had the pleasure of looking through his new and large store rooms on Decatur street, in the rear of the Atlanta Hotel. His capital and well established reputation will enable him to do a large business.

☞ Among other objects of interest, improvement and progress in this city, is the new Auction and Commission Drug House by Mr. Doster. We are happy to find by satisfactory reference, that his extensive acquaintance with his business, together with an extensive acquaintance in the South, and having one of the best locations for such a business, all taken together, will hardly admit of a doubt of his success. See his card.

☞ See the card of Dr. Alexander's Drug Store. Here country merchants and physicians can replenish their stocks at New York prices. The Dr. has a fine reputation as a Chemist and Compounder, has a full stock of every thing in his line and may be relied upon.

☞ Messrs. Beach & White showed us through their large and beautiful Staple and Fancy Dry Goods Store, which is city like, both in style and capacity. We need hardly recommend a house so well and favorably known. In business capacity, integrity and promptness they stand deservedly high.

Country merchants will do well to replenish their stocks of them, at New York prices.

☞ The following are the merchants of Atlanta:—McDaniels, Mitchell & Hutsey; Ulm, Herring & Co.; Clark & Grubb; C. H. Strong & Co.; Cozart & Son; Hunnacutt & Silvey; John R. Wallace & Brothers; J. Norcross; O. Houston & Son; E. B. & J. F. Reynolds; L. J. Parr; J. J. Doane, Collins & Venable; Beach & White; Ryan & Myers; Jacob Haas & Co; S. Farnkfort, (two stores); J. Brown & Co; J. F. Trout; W. W. Roark, B. F. Bomar, Agent; Whitney & Hunt; Caldwell & Griffin; R. E. Mangum; J. C. Davis; Samuel Bryant; T. & O. G. Kile; R. E. Oslin & Co; A. J. Brady; J. H. Lovejoy; Adair & Ezzard; J. M. Boring; W. H. Sharp; Suple & McGettrick; J. D. Lynes; M. J. Reilly; Wm. J. Man; B. T. Lamb; M. Lazaron; F. M. Eddleman, (three houses); T. B. Lanier & Co; J & J Lynch; T R Ripley; Thomas A. Thomas; John H. Burr; Eidson & Shackleford, A. Howard & Co., Auctioneers; Dr. J. S. Denny, Dr. J. M. Rantin, Dr. A. Alexander, Druggists; Seago, Abbott & Co., J. E. Williams, Commission Merchants; Meyer Merchant; E. Lawshe, Everett & Fonda, —— Hall, R. S. Baker, Jewellers; Wm. Hay, Geo. Dunken, Book Merchants; Miller & Andrews, Sadlery.

W. G. PETERS & CO., Proprietors.

TROUT HOUSE,

A. GAGE,

(LATE OF MOBILE) PROPRIETOR.

ATLANTA, (Geo.)

THIS HOUSE is to be opened in Nov. 1854. The Building, Furniture, &c., are all new and of the latest and most approved styles.

The Proprietor has selected Atlanta, by recommendation of many of his personal friends in the South, as the most eligible, healthy and desirable spot, midway between New Orleans and New York. Also, midway between Mobile, Savannah and Charleston, and the cities of Nashville and Memphis. Its health, fullness and freshness in Summer and its mildness in winter, will make it alike desirable to our friends North and South during these seasons. His friends and the travelling public may rely with entire confidence that no attention, labor or expense will be spared to make them happy and comfortable in his house.

He has the best of servants, furniture and beds, together with the very best to eat and drink that the markets North and South can furnish. It shall be a FIRST CLASS HOTEL.

☞ Baggage taken to and from the Depot without charge.

RAIL ROAD HOUSE,

STONE MOUNTAIN, (GA.)

TWENTY MILES SOUTH OF ATLANTA.

CLARK & HITCHCOCK,

Proprietors.

THIS fashionable resort for the pleasure and health seeking community, is now making such additions and improvements as will accommodate comfortably, three hundred guests by the next season. It has accommodated one hundred and fifty this season, (1854.) Every accommodation in the way of conveyances to the Observatory and other splendid scenery on the Stone Mountain and elsewhere will always be in readiness. Here may be seen one of the "world's wonders," filling the mind of the beholder with the most pleasing conceptions of the sublimity of nature's handy work. No one capable of such pleasing conceptions of nature's romantic beauty should pass the Georgia Railroad without making a visit to the Mountain.

The Proprietors, thankful for the liberal patronage of the past, reassure their friends and the travelling public that no attention, labor or expense shall be wanting to make their house what they are determined it shall be in every respect—A FIRST CLASS HOTEL. Having splendid Ball Rooms and Parlors, fine music and the best of waiters, &c., they can accommodate the largest parties at a moments warning.

ATLANTA HOTEL,

JOSEPH THOMPSON, Proprietor.

ATLANTA, (GA.)

THIS well known and established HOUSE is constantly making such improvements and additions as to meet the demands of the travelling public and to keep fully up with the progress of the age. Thirty new rooms are to be opened and finely furnished by Dec. 1854.

The Proprietor tenders respectful thanks for past favors, and re-assures his friends and the travelling public that no attention, nor any thing that the markets of the county can furnish shall be wanting to give his customers both pleasure and satisfaction.

FULTON HOUSE,

L. J. HILBURN, Proprietor.

ATLANTA, (GA.)

THIS HOUSE is entirely new, about fifty rooms, large and well ventilated. Carpets, Beds, Furniture, all new and fitted up with a view to comfort.

The Proprietor flatters himself (having followed the business many years) that having a good stand North of the Depot, a good and well furnished house, good servants and the best that the market can furnish for his table, he will give satisfaction.

☞ Baggage to and from the Depot without charge, and terms moderate. Give him a call.

JOSEPH WINSHIP,

WASHINGTON HALL HOTEL,

LLOYD & PULLIAM, Proprietors.

ATLANTA, (GA.)

THIS WELL ESTABLISHED HOUSE is making from time to time such additions and improvements in its furniture, fare, &c., as to meet the demands of its increasing custom and also to keep pace with the progress of the age.

Thankful for former liberal patronage, they re-assure their friends and the public that they are going ahead, and will not allow any house to surpass them. Personal attention, good rooms, good servants and good fare, at moderate rates.

☞ Baggage taken to and from the Depot without charge.

TEMPERANCE HALL,

FORMERLY KNOWN AS

THE CITY HOTEL.

ATLANTA, (GA.)

Thankful for the liberal patronage extended to his House, the Proprietor takes pleasure in re-assuring his friends and the travelling public that he will bestow every attention, labor or expense, necessary to give both comfort and satisfaction to his guests. His house is orderly and quiet and his terms moderate. His house is near the Depot where he will always have waiters to take baggage to and from the Cars without charge.

WILLIAM DOSTER,

AUCTION & COMMISSION DRUG HOUSE,

ATLANTA, GA.

The geographical location of Atlanta, with its concentration of Railroads, and a population of over eight thousand—which is rapidly increasing—renders it favorable to a successful Commission Drug Business on an extensive scale. Having a large acquaintance in Georgia, Alabama and Tennessee, and several years' experience as Travelling Agent in those States, and in the Agency Business, the Proprietor flatters himself that he will be enabled to render general satisfaction to those who may consign Medicines to his care. He will also be prepared, with competent Travelling and Local Agents, to give a wide-spread circulation to all preparations placed on deposit with him. He, therefore, solicits consignments of Patent and Domestic Medicines, of every description, either on special or general Agency. Also, on Special consignment by the package, all kinds of Drugs, Paints, Oils, Dye-Stuffs, Perfumery, Soap, Medical Glass Ware, Surgical and Dental Instruments, Medical Books, and all other articles usually for sale in Drug Establishments.

He solicits correspondence from every quarter, from persons wishing to make Consignments, &c.

HEARD COUNTY.

This is not strictly a cotton growing county, the soil generally is better adapted to the culture of corn and other grains, though some years farms realize a fair yield of cotton.

The educational prospects of our county are very flattering, hundreds of children are daily treading the path of science; even the poorer classes are urging their children to compete with their more fortunate neighbors for the prize, and all over the county you may see the little innocent merry faced urchin trudging his way to the "school house" where learning is taught.

In our town we have a male and female teacher in the Academy, teaching about sixty-five pupils and tendering to the larger scholars the principles of a high education, and so at Corinth, St. Cloud and Houston.

DALTON is a pleasant and growing town in this county, at the junction of the W. and A. and the E. Tenn. Road. It has a population of about 1,500.

The following are its principal business men:

C. T. Cunningham & Co., dry goods, &c.; David Wesfield & Co., John W. Anderson, B. E. Wells, C. B. Wilborn & Co., J. H. Gudges, Murphy, Galts & Co., A. E. Blount, L. W. Earnest, R. Rushton & Co., John Laird, J. R. McAfee, Groves & Haney, general merchants; R. L. Cook, book and hat merchant; Mark A. Cooper, iron house; J. Floush, general merchant; Attorneys at law, W. H. Stansell & Martin, D. J. Johnson, Wm. Moore, C. E. Broyls, W. M. Gorden, Theodore S. Swift, G. W Roberts, Thomas Gorden; C. C. Hammond, M.D., Winston Gorden, M.D., J. Waugh, M. D., S. S. Bailey, M. D., physicians; Dalton Manufacturing Company; W. Allen, wheat, fan and furniture manufacturer; J. B. Holley, carriage manufacturer; Paxton & Resedon, saddle and harness makers; Wright, Nowscrowskey & Co., cigar manufactory; W. L. High, tobacco manufactory; R. H. Ford, carpenter and builder; P. Ford, brickmaker and builder; Earnest & Gorden, Dalton tanning company; Earnest & Gorden, Dalton boot and shoe manufactory; J. Galts, furniture manufactory: Green & Co., steam mill lumber factory; J. Clardy, Joseph Johnson, butchers and meat dealers; Chester House, W. P. Chester, proprietor; Whitfield House, by E. R. Sasseen.

☞ See the card of the Chester House, W. P. Chester, Proprietor. If this new house shall be an improvement upon the old one (which we have no doubt it will) then it will be doubly worthy of confidence and patronage. Mr. Chester is a very courteous and pleasant gentleman and has long kept an orderly and excellent house. He has a help meet too, such as any man ought to be proud. He will not consider us invidious if we say she is entitled to full half the honors of their good success.

☞ See the card of William P. Lea, General Land Agent and Produce Dealer. Soldiers or the widows of such as have served in any of the late wars, will do well to call upon Mr. Lea. We have the pleasure of knowing him well. As a gentleman of honorable bearing and strict business and moral integrity, he stands deservedly high in the confidence of the public.

☞ See the card of the Western and Atlantic Railroad Hotel. This house has a fine run of custom, is near the Passenger Depot, and well deserves, (as it has) the confidence of the travelling public.

CHESTER HOUSE,

DALTON, GA.

WILLIAM P. CHESTER, PROPRIETOR.

This new and well arranged house will be opened about the first of January, 1855. It is near the Passenger Depot, with a dry and pleasant walk to and from the house. The dining room is seventy feet in length and very convenient of access.

The Proprietor has put up this Establishment with special reference to the convenience and comfort of the travelling public. He confidently assures them that unremitting attention and the best that the markets of the country can furnish, and done up in the best manner, shall always be at their service. Baggage taken to and from the Depot without charge. He will occupy his old stand till the new one is ready.

WILLIAM P. LEA,

DEALER IN

BACON AND PRODUCE OF ALL KINDS

Also, dealer in LAND WARRANTS, for which he gives the highest cash prices. He also gives special attention to the prosecution of Bounty Land Claims.

Any business in the above branches will receive prompt attention by addressing WILLIAM P. LEA,
Dalton, Ga.

WESTERN AND ATLANTIC R. R. HOTEL,

MRS. FIELDS, PROPRIETOR.

DALTON, GA.

The Proprietor, thankful for the liberal patronage extended to her house, takes pleasure in re-assuring her friends and the travelling public that no attention on her part nor any thing that the markets can furnish shall be wanting to give satisfaction to all.

Such improvements in her rooms, furniture and fare will be made from time to time as the demands of the public may require.

MUSCOGEE COUNTY.

COLUMBUS is situated on the east bank of the Muscogee River, which is navigable for steam boats about nine months in the year, to this point. Above the city this river has continuous falls a distance of twenty-five miles, affording water power to carry any amount of machinery. In and near the city are the Mills, Cotton Factories and Machine Shops, the cards and notices of which will be found on another page.

Columbus is the terminus of the Macon and South-Western Rail Road, distant from Macon 99 miles. This Road is well built, and kept in fine order. The Girard and Mobile Rail Road also has its terminus here, on which the cars are now (Sept., 1854,) running 10 miles, and which under the supervision of the President of the Company, Hon. A. Iverson, will be built with the least possible delay.

These roads, steamboat navigation, factories, mills, with water power to run any amount of machinery that may be wanted, together with the Agricultural wealth of the surrounding country, are contributing to build up Columbus. The following is the result of the census taken in 1854: Number of heads of families 820; dwelling houses 658; stores 151; number of white females 2605; number of white males 2646; number of free persons of color 111; number of slaves 3497. Total population of Columbus and suburbs 8,860. Value of Real Estate, not including public property $1,894,200; Amount of sales merchandize about $2,200,000; receipts of Cotton 1853, 72000 bales; Cotton Factories 4; near town 1: Iron Foundries 2; Paper Factory 1; Flouring Mills 2; Churches 6; Negro Churches 2; Public Buildings, Court House, Jail, Odd Fellows Hall, Temperance Hall; Gin Factory 1; Sash and Blind Factories 2.

☞ See the card of Dr. Grimes' Anti-Dyspetic Medicine. Dr. Grimes is a regular Physician of the old Orthodox school, and one of the most extensive and successful Practitioners in Southern Georgia. His preparation for the cure of Dyspepsia, Chronic Liver Affections, and most of the diseases arising from indigestion, has the favorable endorsement of Physicians and Druggists in Columbus who are well acquainted with Dr. Grimes and with the many instances of cure in that city and vicinity. Hundreds of certificates of the most flattering nature might be furnished in its favor. We have used a bottle which we find very pleasant to take and excellent for those who sometimes eat too much of a good dinner and feel dull and heavy afterwards. Try it.

☞ Among the pleasant acquaintances here will not be forgotten Revd. Thomas B. Slade, Principal of the Female Institute. This Institute is in its fourteenth year, during which time it has graduated 97 young ladies and has entered from 75 to 100 a year. It occupies a high position in the cnnfidence of the public. The Boarding Department, the Music Association, together with the paternal and religious government of both the school and boarding house, afford peculiar advantages to young ladies who wish to graduate from home.

☞ See the card of Messrs. Truax & Vander Berg, for particulars of their splendid assortment of Piano Fortes, Melodians, &c., &c. They have deservedly a high reputation both as teachers and dealers in fine musical instruments, of every style. Send your orders if you cannot see them in person.

☞ We respectfully call the attention of Railroad Companies, Manuacturers and Sugar Planters, to the card of F. M. Lawrence, whose large Foundries and Machine Shops are in full operation and well supplied with machinery of the latest and best styles. His Agent, Mr. Torbet is a practical and business man. Give him a call.

☞ ALABAMA WARE HOUSE.—Messrs. Ridgway, King & Sorsby's Ware House covers about an acre of ground, including sheds, offices, sales rooms, &c. The extensive experience, capital and well established reputation of this house for integrity and promptness, cannot fail to sustain them, as it has done, in a career of successful business.

☞ See their card.

☞ Messrs. Barnett, Ellison & Co., Jobbers in Staple and Fancy Dry Goods.—An acquaintance with this house and an examination of their extensive and varied stock of goods, will justify us in saying that their experience, capital and well known integrity and promptness in business must, (as they have done) secure a large and growing custom. They are in receipt of such new stocks by Express monthly as will keep up a full variety of every thing wanted in the trade.

☞ See their card.

☞ Among the many objects of interest seen and pleasant acquaintances made in this city, the Perry House and the gentlemanly proprietor are not the least important.

☞ See card.

This large and beautiful building is located in a pleasant and convenient part of the city, fronting 140 feet on Oglethorpe and running back 150 feet on Bryan-street. The walls are heavy and well supported by partitions. The rooms (one hundred and twenty in number) are well ventilated, well arranged, and many of them have a spacious arrangement for the comfort of families. Such a house has been long wanted and is both an ornament to the city and highly creditable to the projector and proprietor.

Mr. Perry is a gentleman of plain and easy manners, great energy of character and extensive experience and success in Hotel keeping, and we doubt not that, supported as he has been by a help meet, such as any man might be proud of, he will succeed.

☞ Coweta Falls Manufacturing Company.—This Factory went into operation in 1847, and is in a prosperous condition—has now 2500 Spindles for Cotton and Wool and 54 Looms, about one hundred operatives.

By the politeness of the Superintendent, Mr. John R. Daggers, we had the pleasure of looking through this Establishment, which is in fine order and paying the Company well. Mr. George M. Dickson, the General Agent of the Company, is one of those intelligent and practical men under whose management an establishment of this sort might be expected to prosper. They have fine water power and are now making such additions and improvements as will enlarge their operations. Any business correspondence with this Company may be addressed to George M. Dickson, Treasurer, Columbus, Geo.

☞ See the card of John W. Pease. A look through his large Book Store will convince the visitor that Mr. Pease has made good improvement of the nine years he has been in business here. He is fully entitled to all that his card asks for.

☞ Jorden L. Howell, Esq.—Our gratifying success in Columbus and much of the pleasure of our visit resulted from the kind attentions of Mr. Howell.

☞ See the card of his Book and Music Store.

His gratifying success in trade is not to be wondered at if we take into the account that he keeps up full and desirable stocks, and suffers no one to surpass him in attention, promptness and integrity. May he live and prosper long.

☞ Messrs. Ruse, Patten & Co., Ware House and Commission Merchants. We had the pleasure of looking through this large Fire Proof Establishment, which covers nearly an acre and one half of ground, and take pleasure in saying that their capital, experience and integrity will compare favorably with any house in the South. Try them.

ANTI-DYSPEPTIC MEDICINE.

THIS valuable laxative and tonic cordial, is most confidently reco mended to those persons who are suffering from the disorders incid to an impaired digestion. The symptoms indicative of an imperfect similation of the food, and its healthy and natural appropriation to sustenance of the system, are too varied and numerous to call for a nute account of them here. To those who are afflicted with such orders, they are but too readily appreciated, and they need no det statement of them. To all such the author commends this medi An ample experience in the practice of medicine, and in the use of remedy, assures him that it possesses virtues superior to any other pounds with which he is acquainted. He is willing that its repu shall rest upon its merits alone. For the costiveness, headache, a digestion of pregnancy, its benefits are peculiarly manifest; and f distressing disorder, it has proven eminently useful.

As a promoter of digestion, its efficacy will be readily acknow by those persons who indulge freely in the luxuries of the table, reason of a slow and labored digestive process, suffer from fuln oppression of stomach, headache, eructations, &c. Taken unc circumstances, it renders immediate relief. Its properties as a for continued use, restoring the secretions, and exciting the ve action of the intestinal canal, renders it a safe and valuable fam cine, equally adapted to children and adults.

RICHLAND COUNTY.

AUGUSTA, is situated at the head of navigation on the Savannah river, two hundred and fifty miles by water and one hundred and thirty-one by Railroad above the city of Savannah, and one hundred and thirty six miles by Railroad from Charleston, S. C. It is also at the junction of three Railroads—the South Carolina, Georgia and Waynesboro', all of which have large Depots and bring much trade and travel to this city.

Its streets are wide and handsomely laid off. Broad is the principal business street and is one hundred and sixty feet wide. Green is a beautiful street one hundred and sixty-five feet wide and has two rows of Live Oaks shading the centre. On this street are the Medical College, the City Hall, and many fine residences.

The Churches, Halls and public buildings indicate both liberality and good taste. The first work of considerable public interest done by Augusta was the opening of a canal seven miles above the city, by which the waters of the Savannah river are brought to it with sufficient power to drive the large Cotton Mills of the Augusta Manufacturing Company, the Augusta Machine Works, Mr. Cheely's large Gin Factory, two Flouring Mills, &c. From these Mills the water is taken back into the river above the city, so that steam boat navigation to the city may not be hindered. Since this judicious appropriation by the city it has grown up from a population of 6000 to about 18,000.

The Banks of Augusta (see their cards) are well officered, well managed and have always maintained a sound and healthy condition. So also of the Insurance Offices and Agencies.

The Medical College is a fine building, located in a pleasant portion of the city, with a large and beautiful shaded yard. This Institution has been in successful operation for twenty one years, has a handsome endowment, an able and highly reputable Faculty and Professorships for each department, filled by gentlemen of the highest standing for skill and ability in the profession. See the card. The State of Georgia, the whole South, may well be proud of such an Institution.

The Infirmary for the practice of Surgery and the treatment of chronic diseases of negroes, is an Institution well worthy of the confidence and patronage of the public. This is an individual enterprize by Messrs. Robert and Henry F. Campbell, M.D., and also Professors in the Medical College. We had the pleasure of looking through this new and well arranged establishment. It is a three story building, finished off in very neat style, with a handsome tower. This establishment is both an ornament to the city and an honor to the projectors. The rooms on each floor are well ventilated, provided with beds, water and fixtures for bathing in warm or cold water, shower or tub.

Patients here are well provided for with cooks and good nurses, and room enough for forty or fifty.

☞ We call special attention to the large Drug Establishments of Dr. Tutt and others, whose cards are inserted below. Their skill in the Medical Profession, and particularly in compounding, entitle them to the highest public confidence. Having examined their large and well selected stocks, we take pleasure in giving this unsolicited notice and cordial recommendation of them.

☞ Attention is respectfully invited to the card of Messrs. McKinne & Hall. It will be an object of interest to any one visiting Augusta, to examine their large stock of School, Classical, Medical, Law, Theological, Historical, Miscellaneous and Sunday School Books, which they are selling wholesale and retail, at very low prices.

☞ We commend Mr. M. P. Stovall, Ware House and Commission Merchant, to the attention and acquaintance of our friends in Tennessee and Alabama, as a gentleman of sterling integrity and business capacity. We can cordially say the same of all the Ware House, Commission, Grocer and Dry Goods Merchants, whose cards are inserted.

☞ Gin Factory.—Mr. Cheely's card will not fail to attract the attention of the Cotton growing districts of the South. His large establishment and well selected machinery (carried by water power) under the supervision of Mr. Oglesby, one of the most skilful Machinists of the South, with capital, materials and competent workmen, the public may rely confidently upon having all orders filled promptly and to the fullest satisfaction.

☞ French Burr Mill Stone Manufactory, by Mr. Wm. R. Schirmer, is among the objects of interest to Merchant, Flouring and Grist Mills, to which we would call the attention of the South. It is a large establishment, well conducted and giving full satisfaction.

☞ We have the pleasure of wearing a pair of boots made by Mr. Nus, and take pleasure in recommending his make of boots as eminently calculated to give satisfaction.

☞ See his card.

☞ That you may enjoy your visit to this city to the fullest extent, you will stop at the Augusta Hotel, kept by M. P. Starr. Having spent a few weeks in this house, it would not be pardonable to give the notices we have of the many objects of interest in the city, and not notice this fine house.

We hardly know whether to attribute the very great success of this Hotel to the polite and courteous attentions of the proprietor, or the superior skill and good management of his excellent lady. We propose that they go halves in the honors and profits of their great success, which will no doubt be acceptable to both. The one could not succeed without the other. So much for the "help meet" which God provided for man. We never saw a Hotel succeed well that had not an intelligent business woman to supervise the interior and table department. Laying all the moralizing aside, the Augusta Hotel is both an ornament and an acquisition to the city whose name it bears. The property, trade and character of the city are promoted by such a house. It is therefore the interest of every city to put up and sustain such a house. We need only say what we have heard hundreds say and what every one will say who stops here but a few days, viz.: The Augusta is a first class Hotel.

☞ The Augusta Manufacturing Company are now in successful operation. See their card. Notwithstanding they have a large capital invested and have had some trouble and delay in getting fairly under headway, they have succeeded and are now reaping the good fruits of patience and perseverance. James Hope, Agent.

☞ The Augusta Machine Works Company have also had some trouble to get fairly under way, but are now succeeding well under the supervision of Col. Height, Agent. See their card.

☞ Among other objects of interest is the fine Music and Book Establishment of Geo. A. Oates & Bro., (see their card.) This house has also a large store in Charleston, S. C. Their long experience and success in business, together with their large stock in both houses will justify our cordial recommendation to the music loving world.

COTTON GIN FACTORY.

Having secured the services of Mr. G. T. OGLESBY, I have established a large GIN FACTORY on the Canal, in this city, where I am prepared to furnish any number of Cotton Gins at the shortest notice.

I am happily situated, being nearly in the centre of the Georgia, South Carolina, and Augusta and Waynesboro' Rail Road Depots, which renders it very convenient for the planters as well as myself.

I deliver all Gins at the place required, free of any expense, and warranted to give general satisfaction.

The Gins are made of the best material, and by experienced mechanics. I use the Patent Wing Brush, of which I have the exclusive right of the South.

Every Gin is put up under the special direction of Mr. Oglesby, and carefully inspected by him before leaving the shop.

The Cotton Ginned in the Oglesby Gin, never failed to get the highest premium at the public State Exhibitions, and bring the highest prices in market.

Notwithstanding the strong and numerous competitions, the Commission Merchants, both of this city and Savannah, have generally recommended the purchase of these Gins, and a continuation of the same is cordially solicited by me.

My machinery is of the latest and most improved patent.

All orders by mail will receive attention in due time. Old Gins repaired, and all the late improvements attached if required.

Columbia, S. C., Augusta, West Point, Rome, Athens and Atlanta, Ga., Montgomery, Ala., Chattanooga, Loudon and Nashville, Tenn.

Merchandize from Northern cities, to go by Express from Charleston, will be forwarded free of commission for forwarding, and will be chargeable only with the customary ship freight, wharfage, &c. Such consignments must always be plainly marked, "Per Combs and Co's Express," and attended with bills of lading to our address, Charleston.

We collect bills and drafts on Columbia, S. C., Augusta, Athens and Atlanta, Ga., Montgomery, Ala., Chattanooga, Loudon and Nashville, Tenn., and make prompt returns for same.

Any patronage extended us will be attended to with promptness and despatch. Respectfully, S. T. COMBS, Augusta.

Office 9 Hayne-st., Charleston. F. T. PENTECOST, Charleston.

FORWARDING BUSINESS.

Merchandize consigned to F. T. Pentecost, the resident partner in Charleston, will be promptly forwarded. The facilities which the Express affords, will enable us to do this business in a very satisfactory manner, as our knowledge of it, in the receiving and forwarding department, places us in a position to guard the interest of our patrons from over charges in ship freight, and other incidental charges.

Merchants and others who may wish us to attend to this branch of their business, will please address F. T. P., Charleston. Have your Goods marked, "care of F. T. Pentecost, Charleston, S. C." and instruct your shippers to send bills of lading to his address in every instance. COMBS & CO.

Griffin is the county seat of Spalding, situated on the Macon and Western Railroad, forty-four miles from Atlanta, and fifty-eight miles from Macon. It is incorporated, very healthy and a well governed city; has a population of about 8000. Four churches, four high schools and several common schools. Masonic, Odd Fellows and Temperance Orders, have good organizations.

The objects of greatest interest here are the Male and two Female Colleges. These are underr the peternity of the three leading denominations of the South. Methodist, Baptist and Presbyterian. For particulars, see their cards. This city and vicinity are noted for health, intelligence and morality, and are, therefore, favorable to the location and building up of fine schools.

We call attention to the cards inserted in this work. They are well recommended.

SYNODICAL COLLEGE,

GRIFFIN, GA.

This Institution is under the care of the Synod of Georgia, and is designed to afford to females the highest advantages of education. It is divided into three DEPARTMENTS—Primary, Middle and College. The President of the College is the Rev. Carlisle P. B. Martin, long known as a successful teacher of youth. The College Edifice, a large building, one hundred feet long, and fifty feet wide, two stories high, is most admirably arranged for educational purposes. Griffin, the seat of this Seminary, is unsurpassed by any locality in the State for salubrity of climate, and its community, for intelligence, refinement and morality; and on account of these advantages, Griffin is fast becoming the educational centre of the State.

MARSHALL COLLEGE,

GRIFFIN, GA.

REV. J. W. ATTAWAY, PRESIDENT.

This Institution (under the paternity of the Baptist Church) for young men and boys, has recently gone into operation with very flattering prospects. It has now about one hundred students and two able Professors, which, with the new College, which will be completed in November, 1854, will be prepared to receive two hundred students. The healthfulness of Griffin, the intelligence and morality of the city and surrounding country, need but be known to secure for this Institution an extensive patronage.

It is the purpose of the Board of Trustees to provide the very best teachers, apparatus, &c., to supply the increasing demands of the Institution. Boarding can be had in the Institution and in excellent families on very moderate terms.

STATE OF SOUTH-CAROLINA.

The State of South Carolina has an area of 16,217,700 acres of land, of which 4,072,651 acres are in cultivation. Cotton and Rice are her staples, though in the Northern part of the State, Corn, Wheat, Oats, Rye and the usual grasses grow finely.

Annual products of 1850—Bales of Cotton 300,901; lbs. of Rice 159,930,613; bushels of Corn 16,271,454; bushels of Wheat 1,066,277; Sweet Potatoes, bushels of, 4,337,469; Irish Potatoes, bushels of, 136,494. White population 274,563; Slave population 384,984; Free Colored 8,960. Total population 668,507. Clergymen 474; Lawyers 397; Physicians 995.

The credit of South Carolina has always stood fair. In Banking capital she is, perhaps, the richest State in the Union, to her size and population. Bank failures are unknown in this State. The means for general education are ample. The poor (not many of this class) are cared for, The slaves, too, are cared for, both in reference to their souls and bodies.

In talents, general intelligence and statesmanship, the citizens of South Carolina compare favorably with those of any State in the Union, She has been made "the scape goat" of the principal political dissentions which have agitated the country. In this, injustice has been done her. Although it may be true that some of her ablest statesmen have erred on the question of "State Rights," (to err is human) yet, that the agitation of this question has contributed to advance the science of popular free governments, we think no one can doubt whose attention has been directed to this subject. It is the glory of our republican institutions that they are provided with "checks and balances" which the agitation of free discussion only adjusts and puts right.

No fears need be entertained that South Carolina will "go off in a tangent;" that she is not patriotic, loyal and sound on all questions of Constitutional liberty, or that she does not understand and love the union of the States. Where a liberal system of education prevails, as here, and where the Bible and the institutions of religion are honored, there need be no fears for the cause of liberty.

A notice of the cities of Charleston, Columbia and other towns in the State will come under their appropriate heads.

It will be seen that our list of Merchants for this State is very full, having returns from every District. All whose business is not designated are put under the head of "General Merchants."

BEAUFORT, S. C.

BEAUFORT is the oldest town in South Carolina, the original settlement of Landonnier being either the present site of the town or within a few miles of it. It is remarkable for its healthiness during the whole year, and its principal entrance, the harbor of Port Royal, is considered the best on the Southern Coast. Its commercial importance has never been properly appreciated, having been only considered by the wealthy planters of the surrounding neighborhood as a desirable Summer residence, where they can enjoy at once exemption from the malariony influences of the Rice and Cotton Plantations, and the benefits of cultivated society, together with the advantages of the best schools that the State affords. The white population is about 800. There is an Episcopal, a Baptist, a Methodist Episcopal and a Roman Catholic Church, also a handsome Arsenal. The following are the principal business and professional men:

Port Republic Lodge, I. O. O. F. No. 19
Harmony Lodge, (Masonic) No. 22

CHARLESTON, S. C.

Occupies a point of land formed by the confluence of Ashley and Cooper rivers, which together enter the ocean by a spacious and deep harbor, extending seven miles below the city. It is 120 miles southeast of Columbia, the State Capital, and 540 miles from Washington. Four channels of different depths afford an entrance into the harbor through a sand-bar which obstructs it. The deepest of these admits ships with 16 feet draught. The harbor is defended by Fort Moultrie, on Sullivan's Island, lying at its mouth, and by Forts Pinckney and Sumter.

The city stands on ground somewhat elevated above tide-water, and may be said to resemble New York on a smaller scale. It is constructed with regularity and taste, and many rich and varied trees of southern climes lend their charms. Besides the city proper, there are populous suburbs, which afford fine sites for residences, and are identified with its growth and interests. Charleston may be considered as the metropolis of the Southern Atlantic States, as New Orleans is of those on the Mexican gulf and the Mississippi. Into this basin, flow many of the products of North Carolina, Tennessee, Georgia and Alabama. Its foreign commerce is extensive and valuable, as is also its coasting trade, and packets, as well as splendid steamships, ply to New York and other maritime cities. The Santee Canal connects Santee with Cooper river, thus opening a communication from Columbia, the State Capital, to Charleston.

The public buildings and institutions of the city, indicate the wealth, intelligence and liberality of the people. There are a number of banks, churches and hotels, some of them splendid and costly. Other prominent buildings are the custom house, guard house, exchange, city hall, state citadel, alms house, orphan asylum, jail and the College of Charleston. The literary and scientific institutions and libraries, are generally respectable and flourishing. No city is more justly noted for hospitality and refinement, and its climate is more salubrious than that of most Southern cities, affording a delightful and safe summer resort for planters from the low country and the West Indies, and a pleasant winter resort for people from the North.

The South Carolina Railroad extends to Augusta, on the Savannah, 137 miles, where it communicates with the Georgia Railroad. At Branchtown, 62 miles from Charleston, the Columbia branch diverges to Camden and Columbia.

The population in 1790, was 16,359; in 1800, 18,712; in 1810, 24,711; in 1820, 24,480; in 1830, 30,289; in 1840, 29,261; in 1850, 42,985; in 1855, about 48,000.

The Artesian Well, on the corner of Meeting and Wentworth-streets, is a valuable acquisition to Charleston. Years of persevering toil have reached a depth of more than 1200 feet. At this point a vein of water rushes up with such force as to ascend thirty feet above the surface of the earth, supplying thirty gallons to the minute, which, although it has as yet too much of the saline for drinking purposes, will be of great value to the city.

Added to the number of public buildings of the city, are the Mechanic's Institute, a large and beautiful edifice on Meeting-street, near the Mills House, in which is fitted up one of the largest Halls in the city; the new State Bank and the People's Bank, both ornamental to the city and highly creditable to those Institutions.

The Commercial advantages of Charleston are such, that were it not for the fear of the yellow fever which has occasionally prevailed here as an epidemic, it would, in a few years, reach a population of 100,000. Except this fever, there is not a more healthy and lovely city in the United States. It is believed that by sanitary means and the strict enforcement of the quarantine laws, the yellow fever would never visit the city as an epidemic.

Long has her progress been retarded by the want of sufficient depth of water on the bar at the entrance of her harbor, for the largest class of steamers, but nature has recently commenced and nearly completed a new channel of greater depth, and art will soon finish what nature has so well begun.

☞See the attractive card of Pearson's RHEUMATIC RELIEF and FIRE EXTRACTOR, on the inside of the right hand cover. This specific and valuable remedy recently discovered and patented in ————, 1854, by Mr. B. E. Pearson, of Charleston, S. C., has already won golden opinions of the afflicted, and also the public as far as it is known. It is one of the most powerful remedies in the world, and must win its way to universal favor.

There is a remarkable Providence in the discovery of this Remedy. Mr. Pearson had been for years laid up with Rheumatism. Resorted in the mean time to all the celebrated remedies for this disease in his reach, aided also by the skill of the Profession, without finding cure. Reduced in health and means, he was on the point of despairing. He still believed, as he had often heard, that there was something in the vegetable kingdom, which, if its virtues were known and skilfully applied, human suffering might be greatly relieved, if not cured. He therefore commenced a course of experimenting, extracting and combining and applying to himself the most powerful vegetable agents that could be procured. What could exceed the joy of his helpless family as well as himself, to find the "RHEUMATIC RELIEF." In less than one year this discovery was made and he cured permanently.

Mr. Pearson is an unassuming, amiable and pious gentleman, ambitious neither of wealth or popular fame. He has, (as every man should have,) an ennobling ambition to do good to his fellow men. Solicited by a large circle of warm personal friends, he has taken a patent, and is preparing to manufacture largely.

Its unexampled success in the cure of Rheumatism, Paralysis or Palsy, Croup in children, Burns, bites or stings of poisonous insects, bite of a dog, poison by cuts of glass, nail, thorn or any vegetable or other poison, have already commanded the unqualified approbation and confidence of all who have tried it or witnessed its effects upon others.

One bottle, (says a lady,) has been worth hundreds of dollars to her.

t is not known to have failed in any one instance where applied as directed. It ought to be kept in every family in the world. One bottle may last a family a year, and may save hundreds of dollars, besides great pain and suffering.

Fully confident of its unequalled value to every family for the purposes prepared, we have taken the Agency to introduce it in the principal cities and towns of the United States, and also to see that the rights of the Pattentee are not invaded, and to prevent the intrusion of a spurious article. See the Agent's card at the close of this work.

☞ We in all candor to our friends shipping Cotton, Corn, Sugar, Flour, Grain, other produce to the Charleston, South-Carolina Market, state, from our personal knowledge, that Mr. Wm. Allston Gourdin is well and universally known to be a Merchant of position, energy and sterling integrity, and that they can, in him, repose the utmost confidence, and be assured, that their business will be executed by him with every promptness and despatch.

Mr. Wm. Allston Gourdin merits from the "South" many, many thanks, from having some five or six years ago, first successfully introduced, to the Planting and Farming interests, the "Genuine Peruvian Guano." The "Peruvian Guano," together with the "Mineral Phosphate of Lime," are the "Magical Manures" of the age; for by them the most sterile, worn out lands, can, by judicious use, be made to yield from 25 to 400 per cent. Use the fertalizers but once, and the active agriculturist seeking his own interest, forthwith discovers it is folly, waste of time, labor, capital, &c., to till the earth without them.

Mr. Wm. Allston Gourdin, who is importer for the States of South-Carolina, Georgia, North-Carolina, Alabama and Tennessee, receives the "Peruvian Guano" in cargoes, direct from the "Chincha Islands"; you therefore to him must apply, in order to secure "genuine." Mr. Gourdin is also Agent for the South, for the "Mineral Phosphate of Lime."

Sacred Melodies for Social and Public Worship.—Numerous are the works upon Sacred Music which have lately been issued from the press—still the motto seems to be "Excelsior," and we feel great pleasure and confidence in recommending The Casket, as containing the richest and most valuable collection of music ever published. The aim to make a complete music book has been entirely successful. The first feature of the work is, The Elements of Vocal Music Simplified. In this department the principles of music have been so ably and thoroughly explained as to render the aid of a teacher almost unnecessary. The selections from the different music books, seem to have been made with great care and discrimination, comprising nearly all the new and choice melodies, together with many favorite old tunes of solid worth. The new arrangements from the works of Handel, Haydn, Mozart, Beethoven, Rossini and other celebrated masters, will be universally admired, besides the many charming and expressive melodies by Messrs. Robinson and Woodbury, which cannot fail to please the most critical ear. This work has been compiled for the use of all denominations, and contains music for every occasion of public worship. The editors richly deserve the thanks of the musical public for the manner in which they have performed their arduous task; and we feel confident that "The Casket" will have a more extensive circulation than any of its predecessors.

☞ See the extra card of Messrs. JAMES, WILLIAMS & GITSINGER, Publishers, No. 3 Broad street, successors to WALKER & JAMES. This is considered one of the largest and best publishing Houses in the South. They can show specimens of Book Work equal to any in any city. The Fancy Job Printing Department is large and admirably adapted to every style of fancy and plain work. They are all three practical printers, active business men, and fully worthy the confidence and patronage of the public. Our extensive business relations with them have been both pleasant and highly satisfactory.

☞ See the extra card of the Charleston Hotel, D. MIXER, Proprietor. An error too common with Hotel Keepers, has been, that when they have succeeded in establishing a fine reputation, they relax their zeal, supposing that a fine reputation once gained would carry them safely forward. It is not so with Mr. MIXER. He has the credit of being the first in Charleston to open a large first class hotel. Years of unremitting zeal and high ambition have not exhausted his energies. The flattering notices of the Press, the commendations of his immense patronage, have not affected him otherwise than to inspire a lofty ambition to excel. He has an adaptedness of character and talent for his business. He is himself at home, and has the peculiar happiness of making his guests feel that they are also at home. The same may be said of his polite clerks and assistants. There is quite as much order, neatness and elegance in this large establishment as in any we have seen from New Orleans to Montreal. Mr. Mixer has the gratitude of Charleston and the South (to which he is entitled) for sustaining an establishment which is an ornament to the city, and a lasting monument to his praise. The luxuries of North and South, sea and land, have found their way to his tables, nor do they cease coming.

☞ See the extra card of Messrs. GINDRAT & DUNCAN, Druggists and Chemists, 215 King street. Their acknowledged skill in compounding, their sound judgment in the selection of fresh and genuine articles, together with their extensive experience in the preparation, as well as the practice of medicine, entitle them to the fullest confidence. We invite physicians, druggists and planters from the country, to give a call, after which an order will be sufficient. This notice is given without the suggestion or solicitation of the parties.

☞ See the extra card of Messrs. Shepherd, McCreery & Co., Jobbers in staple and fancy dry goods, No. 135 Meeting street. No House n the city stands higher in business capacity, integrity and promptness, han this. They have been long and very favorably known in Tennessee, and have, in a few years, built up a fine reputation here also. We respectfully solicit for them the attention and patronage of country merchants. Long may they live in the sunshine of prosperity. We give this notice without the knowledge or solicitation of the parties.

☞ See the card of Messrs. J. L. Falk & Co., manufacturers and wholesale dealers in ready-made clothing and gentlemens' furnishing goods, No. 265 King street; also 146 William street, New York. This House has a large and beautiful stock, and having connection with a large establishment in New York, is enabled to sell low for cash and keep up seasonable stocks. Success to them.

Among the many objects of interest in this city, is that of A. N. Cohen, jr., wholesale and retail clothing warehouse, 261 King street, who declined giving us a card of his House. We thought this the more strange, from the fact that he has a large clothing factory in Newark, N. J., and sells, as we learned, remarkably low. But, no! He would not give it. "Well, we asked him, what is the reason," since we have about 200 cards for Charleston?" "Why," said he, "we have as much as we can do, and are determined to sell so low that each purchaser will become an advertisement." And to this he attributes the reputation his establishment, "Carolina Clothing Depot," has attained.

☞ See the extra card of Messrs. Pierson, Jennings & Co., manufacturers and wholesale dealers in clothing, No. 26 Hayne street. This House is to Charleston what the House of Alfred Munroe & Co. is to New Orleans. They have three splendid rooms, 150 feet deep, filled and emptied twice in the year. They do a large and accommodating business. For integrity and promptness, they stand A, No. 1. Having a large House in New York, they are able to keep full stocks, and also to sell on the most reasonable terms. May they long enjoy the fruits of their growing prosperity. Country merchants will do well to call here before buying elsewhere.

☞ See the extra card of the Victoria Hotel, B. Roddin, Proprietor, King street. Having enjoyed the polite hospitalities and the excellent fare of this House for some weeks, we are pleased to give this unsolicited notice of it.

Mr. Rodkin is at home in a hotel, and he has the peculiar talent of making his guests feel at home with him. The fare is very good, parlors and chambers all neat, and charges moderate. Give him a call. Passengers are taken to his House from the packets and railroad depots.

☞ See the extra card of Messrs. Matthiessen & O'Hara, wholesale clothing House, No. 143 East Bay. We most cordially commend this House, as fully entitled to all that their card asks. A career of thirty years in successful business, has given them an established reputation for integrity and promptness. We invite the attention of planters and country dealers to this House, with the fullest confidence that they will be satisfied. Success to them.

☞ See the card of St. Marks' Hair Cutting and Bathing Saloon, in the Charleston Hotel. This is a delightful place, and full worthy of its liberal patronage.

☞ See the extra card of Messrs. Bancroft, Betts & Marshall, direct importers and wholesale dealers in staple and fancy dry goods, &c. Their magnificent establishment excels in architectural beauty any storehouse in the South, and is said to be not inferior to any in the world. It is four story, fronting 60 feet on King, and runs back 320 feet on Market st. The exterior is a deep New York brown, tastefully ornamented. The interior is what may be called an exquisite combination of utility and elegance. Then, you may see, at times, (each floor 320 feet,) moving with business activity, one hundred or more clerks and salesmen, and thrice as many customers, trading, measuring, cutting and folding goods, and changing money. The raw countryman, on his first visit, stands with silent wonderment, till a polite salesman steps up to him (as familiarly as if an old acquaintance,) observing, "fine day, sir—what shall I have the pleasure of showing you, sir?" In ten minutes a bill is made that astonishes him for its cheapness.

The retail department is on the first floor, conducted under the style of Browning, Leman & Co. Having a resident partner in Europe, (as the reader will see by their card,) well acquainted with the foreign markets, through whom their goods are imported direct, they are enabled to "sell low" and "insure satisfaction."

☞ See the card of Messrs. McCreery & Hooke, Commission and Forwarding Merchants. Mr. McCreery is well known in Tennessee, as a young man of excellent business habits and strict integrity. Having passed through the yellow fever epidemic in Charleston, and surviving an attack of it himself, there need be no fears that he will desert his post of duty. Mr. Hooke of Chattanooga, is extensively and favorably known as a man of capital and business experience. This new house is opened expressly to meet the demands of shippers from the interior. Consignments, together with all business put into their hands will receive prompt attention.

☞ See the attractive card of the Mills House, T. R. Nickerson, Proprietor. So many very flattering notices have been given of this house, by the press North and South, East and West, that we respectfully decline an effort of description of that which can only be realized and appreciated by contact with the cultivated tastes and senses. There is but little enjoyment in the conception of a fine table, especially if one is hungry and cannot reach it.

We have seen no description of this house that its guests would consider extravagant, or even equal to its beauty and magnificence.

The Proprietor, Assistants, Waiters, Cooks, Maids, Parlors, Ordinaries, Saloons, Reading Rooms, Private Offices, Tables, Luxuries, Chambers, &c., altogether have an adaptedness to a First Class Hotel that cannot be surpassed in any city. The Girard House in Philadelphia, is not its equal, (we have tried both.) The St. Nicholas in New-York, excels it only in its size and the dazzling splendor of its furniture. There are not two finer hotels in the United States than the Mills House and the Charleston Hotel. As proud and honorable competitors we are happy to find each well sustained.

☞See the extra card of Titus L. Bissell, Agent, Importer and dealer in English, German and American Hardware, Cutlery, Guns, &c, 155 Meeting street. This new establishment is opening a very large and splendid stock of goods, consisting of such articles as Planters, Miners, Mechanics, and House-keepers will find to suit them both as to price and quality. Mr. B. is Agent for several of the best manufacturers in the United States, and is prepared to sell at New-York or manufacturers prices.

We had the pleasure of looking through his large three story building, to which we invite the attention of Planters, Merchants, Mechanics, and Mining Companies, with the fullest confidence that they will find all right here.

☞Dr. John Anderson has introduced in Charleston Mineral Teeth with such life-like gums as deceive even a close observer, he has the patent for this State and is respectfully commended to all the ladies of the South. King, opposite Hasell-st.

☞Mr. John Steinmeyer's large Mill on Ashley River, enables him to load vessels with lumber, with great despatch. See card.

☞See the extra card of John S. Bird & Co., dealer in Military Goods, Spectacles, Picture Frames, and Looking Glasses of all sizes. Mr. Bird is the oldest merchant in his line in the city, and has a most desirable reputation for integrity and promptness.

☞See the select card of Mr. R. Hawley's Premium Hat Manufactory, 240 King-street. Mr. H. deserves a liberal patronage, both on account of his manufacturing at home, and his success in giving general satisfaction.

☞See the extra card of Messrs. Wyatt & Co., Southern Forwarding House, Charleston, So. Ca., and F. Wyatt & Co., Savannah, Ga.

The experience, capacity and promptness of these gentlemen, will supply a valuable consideration to the Merchants of the interior, to whom we commend them as every way worthy and well qualified.

☞See the extra card of Steel's Hat Hall, No. 231 King-street. The brilliant success of Mr. Steel is owing to his untiring industry, liberal advertising and prompt and accommodating system of business. Success to him.

☞See the card of the King street Boarding House, No. 190 King-street, Mrs. E. F. Evans, Proprietor. We cannot say too much for this first rate Boarding House, or the amiable and excellent proprietor. Mrs. Evens has a peculiar adaptedness to her business—the art of governing well and providing well. Success to her.

☞See the card of G. S. Cook's Daguerrean Gallery, 238 King-st. The Fine Premium Pictures of this establishment, are hard to beat. Cook's Gallery is one of the points of attraction in King-st.

☞See also the card of Glenn's Daguerrean Gallery, 221 King-st., Here may be seen specimens of perfection in the art, equal to any in the cities North or South.

☞See the fine card of the steam ship Quaker city, Holmes & Stoney, Agents. The many complimentary notices of this steamer, by the press North and South, together with the favorable notice by the passengers, are the surest guarantee that she is all that she claims to be, in the way of safety and fine accommodations.

☞ See also the card of the fine mail passenger steamers between Charleston and New-York, James Adger and Nashville, Henry Missroon, Agent. These mail steamers have superior Commanders and excellent accommodations.

☞ See the card of the Savannah and Charleston Mail and Passenger Steamers. E. Lafitte & Co., Agents.

☞ See the card of the fine steam ship Isabel, from Charleston to Havana, Wm. Rollins, Commander. Mordecai & Co., Agents.

☞ See also the card of the Great Mail Route by Rail Road, from Charleston to New-York. E. B. Stevens, Agent, Charleston.

☞ See the card of Messrs. Scruggs, Drake & Co., Commission Merchants, Atlantic wharf. This house is so well established and favorably known in Alabamá, Tennessee and the interior generally, that no flattering notice can add to their reputation. They are still doing a large and accommodating business. Success to them.

☞ See the card of W. T. White's Marble Yard, 119 Meeting-street. Here are some of the most beautiful specimens of Italian Marble, Monuments, Tombstones, &c., suited to every taste and capacity to purchase. Those who wish to mark the sacred spot where their loved departed rest, will not forget to call on Mr. White.

☞ See the extra card of Messrs. Levy's Southern Clothing Emporium, 288 King-street. Here you will find large and seasonable stocks of ready made Clothing of every style and fit, manufactured at their establishment, 75 William-street, New-York. Integrity, promptness and good bargains have given them a fine custom.

☞ See the extra card of Messrs. Walker & Wilkie, Paper Commission Warehouse, Type and Printing Press Agency, 82 East Bay, connected with the South-Carolina Paper Manufactory, and also agents for several other mills. This house has the capacity to supply the growing demands of the trade, at uniform and reasonable rates. They have an enviable reputation for integrity, promptness and business capacity. All orders will be promptly filled, and warranted to give satisfaction.

THE RICHEST MINE

FOR PLANTERS AND FARMERS.

The Manure applied to the soil of England amounts to three hundred millions of dollars per annum, being more than the value of its whole foreign Commerce; and yet the grateful soil yields back with bountiful interest all that is thus spent upon it. And so it would be here, if we would only trust the soil with any portion of our capital – but this we rarely do. A farmer who has made money, spends it, not in his business, but in some other occupation: he buys more Land, more Negroes, when he ought to buy Peruvian Guano, Plaster, Phosphates, &c., or he puts out his money in some joint stock Company to convert sunshine into moonshine. Rest assured our richest Mine is Genuine Peruvian Guano.

STEAM SHIP

QUAKER CITY,

Capt. J. H. HODGDON, 1800 tons Burthen.

The above new and splendid side wheel Steamer, built expressly for this route, is now plying regularly between Charleston and Philadelphia. Is one of the largest Steam ships on the Atlantic Coast, and unsurpassed, if equalled, for speed, strength, comfort or accommodation. For Freight or Passage apply to HOLMES & STONEY, Agents,
Boyce & Co's wharf, Charleston.
HERON & MARTIN, Agents,
37½ North Wharves, Philadelphia.

☞ Fare (meals included) $20.

The American Steam ship Company of Philadelphia have built the above magnificent Steam ship for the purpose of giving greater facility and encouraging trade and travel with the South and West. The "Quaker City" has been built with a view to great strength, being diagonally braced with iron and being unusually large for a coasting steamer admits of more room and consequently of very comfortable accommodations. To which her Commander, Capt. J. H. Hodgdon, whose experience and gentlemanly deportment will add no little; supported by an able set of officers. Passengers may be assured of having every attention paid to their wants. The advantages of this route, combined with great speed of the ship, is that of one hundred miles of river navigation, which makes the time at sea less than by any other steam ship line. She will sail punctually as advertised.

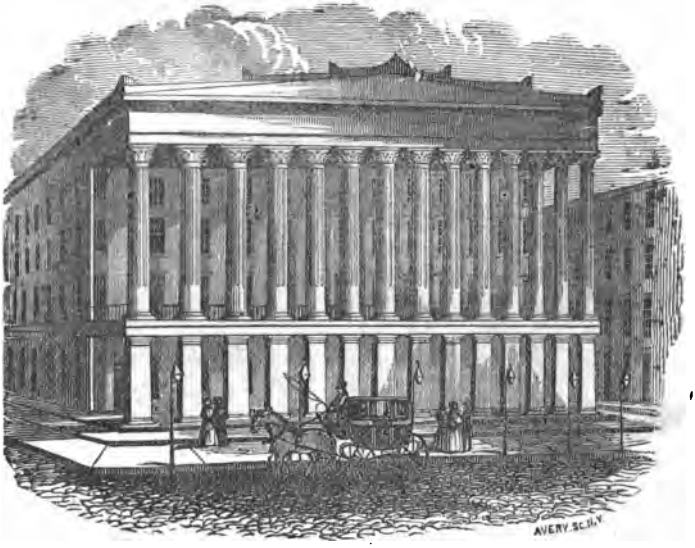
CHARLESTON HOTEL,



D. MIXER,

PROPRIETOR,

CHARLESTON, S. C.

The Proprietor of this Establishment can give no advertisement in the public prints half so favorably as he can at his TABLES, PARLORS and SALOONS.

Grateful that he has survived the epidemic and the gales of the past season, and also for the continued liberal patronage of his House, he takes this occasion to re-assure his friends and the travelling community, North and South, that no attention, labor or expense, nor any thing that the markets, North and South, Land and Water, can furnish, shall be wanting to give them both pleasure and satisfaction.

MILLS HOUSE,

CHARLESTON, SOUTH-CAROLINA.

The Mills House is eligibly and commandingly situated in the most active business section of the city of Charleston, S. C., at the southwest corner of Meeting and Queen streets, extending a front of eighty feet on the former, and three hundred feet on the latter. The brick work is covered externally with a mastic cement, finely imitating brown stone; and the monotony that would otherwise be produced by such an extent of wall is relieved by the number and size of the windows, and the projecting brackets above them. These are of terra cotta, and in the richest style of ornament allowed by good taste. The Meeting street, or principal public entrance, is through a richly ornamented tripartite doorway into a public vestibule. This is laid with the richest English Mosaic tiles, and ornamented, in all respects, up to the highest style of effect consistent with its purposes. The office, and all the public rooms of the house are finished off with all the skill of the painter, glazier, gilder, woodworker, plasterer, etc., in their respective departments; and while each room presents some variation in style, the principles of harmony are preserved throughout. The gentlemen's dining saloon measures seventy-five by forty-two feet, without pillars or columns, its ceiling being secured and supported by trusses from above. It is ornamented overhead in the richest style of decorative plastering, gilding, etc., which, with its proportions, the ornaments around its windows, etc., render it one of the most imposing halls a traveller could enter. The amplest arrangements are made for lighting, heating and ventilating this noble salon a manger which will easily accommodate three hundred guests. The ladies' ordinary is on the second floor, measuring sixty-five by thirty-two feet, with an elevation of eighteen feet to the ceiling, which is coved. Every expense has been lavished here to obtain the utmost possible combination of ornament and effect; and few handsomer views could be presented than this will afford a visitor, especially if he could take a peep when it is filled by one hundred and sixty fair ladies, which number it will accommodate. The ladies' parlors are found on the second floor, and are furnished in a style regardless of expense, as to carpeting, curtains, ottomans, chairs, sofas, stools, etc., all of which are of the richest and costliest forms and patterns. The dormitories, or apartments designed especially for guests, number one hundred and eighty, distributed over the second, third, fourth and fifth floors. Bathing rooms for gentlemen are fitted up in good style, convenient to the barber's pole; and on each floor above the first are found similar rooms for ladies, elegantly furnished with all conveniences for warm, cold or shower baths. The house is heated by steam, for which purpose an abundant supply of pipe has been introduced; and extensive system of pipe furnishes water to every part of the house. We need not add that gas light is abundantly furnished in this establishment. The cost is about $300,000, including building, furnishing, etc. It has been appropriately named after its proprietor and projector, Otis Mills, Esq., who has, in a noble spirit of enterprise, devoted his means to the improvement and embellishment of the city, in which his honorable industry and business exertions have been so eminently successful. If he who plants a shade tree by the sunny roadside deserves the thanks of all succeeding travellers, he who furnishes and fits out such a refuge and resting-place for travellers, as the Mills House, will surely be gratefully remembered by many a guest who enters and enjoys its splendid repose. The control and management of the Mills House are in the hands of Mr. Thomas S. Nickerson, who has been tried and found fully versed in all the duties and qualifications of an accomplished landlord. Success to the Mills House!

[Having stopped two weeks in the above Hotel, we are pleased with he fare and the gentlemanly Proprietor and Clerk.—EDITOR.

VICTORIA HOTEL,

B. RODDIN,

PROPRIETOR,

NO. 197 KING-STREET,

CHARLESTON, S. C.

THIS HOTEL is located in a healthy and business part of the city and has a large run of custom. The Proprietor has recently made such improvements and additions to his furniture, bedding, &c., as will justify him in saying that no one that gives him a call shall go away dissatisfied. Every luxury that the market can afford, together with every attention that polite servants and clerks can give, shall be constantly on hand.

Passengers taken from the Packets and Railroad Depot without charge.

AMERICAN HOTEL,

KING-STREET, CORNER OF GEORGE.

MRS. A. J. KENNEDY, PROPRIETOR,

CHARLESTON, S. C.

THIS HOTEL has seventy-five rooms, with capacity to entertain one hundred and fifty persons comfortably. The Parlors and Chambers are large and fitted up recently in a style of neatness. Many of the Chambers are furnished for families and will be found very comfortable. The Gentlemen's Ordinary is on the first floor, and the Lady's on the second, but easy of access from every part of the house.

No attention on the part of the Proprietor, the clerks and servants, nor any thing that the market can furnish, shall be wanting to give satisfaction.

[Having enjoyed the hospitalities of the above house, we are cheerful in recommending it to the travelling public.—EDITOR.]

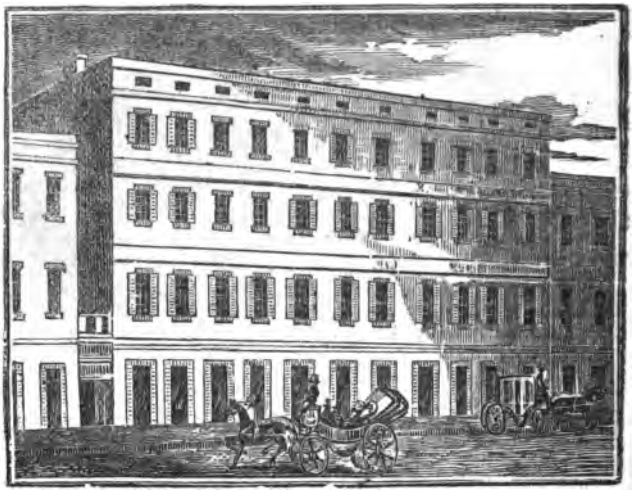
WAVERLY HOUSE,



MRS. E. P. GLEASON,

PROPRIETOR,

ONE HUNDRED PERSONS COMFORTABLY ENTERTAINED. CHARGES MODERATE.

With long experience and good success in business, the Proprietor re-assures her friends and the public that nothing that the market can afford shall be wanting to make them comfortable,

Located at the bend in King-street, Nos. 236 and 238, her establishment is in the centre of the business part of the city. The Proprietor asks to be permitted to tender many thanks to her patrons and kind friends for the generous partialities shown to her house.

☞ The Editor (unsolicited) tenders his thanks to the Proprietor of the Waverly House. Having enjoyed the hospitalities of this excellent house several weeks, he must solicit for it the favor and patronage of the travelling public.

JOHNSON'S HOTEL,

SOUTHERN HOUSE,

NO. 260 KING-STREET,

CHARLESTON, S. C.

MRS. F. DAY, PROPRIETOR,

THIS HOUSE is situated in a central, business and fashionable part of the city. Has forty-eight rooms and capacity to entertain comfortably one hundred persons. The Proprietor is greatly obliged to her friends for the liberal patronage so long extended to her house, and with pleasure re-assures them that nothing shall be wanting that faithful servants, the best market and the polite attention of her clerks and herself can furnish, to merit the continued favor and patronage of the public.

[The above house is all, even more, than the Proprietor claims for it. —EDITOR.]

KING-ST. BOARDING HOUSE.

NO. 190 KING-STREET,

MRS. E. F. EVANS, PROPRIETOR.

This Establishment has twenty rooms, about half of them double or family rooms. They are well lighted, ventilated and well furnished. The bedding and furniture are mostly new. The Dining Room is large and uniformly furnished with the best that the markets can furnish.

Gratified with so flattering a success, the Proprietor assures her friends and the public in general, that no attention on her part shall be wanting to give satisfaction. Charges moderate.

NEW MUSIC BOOK.

SACRED MELODIES

FOR SOCIAL AND PUBLIC WORSHIP.

THE CASKET,

WHICH HAS BEEN STEREOTYPED, IS NOW IN PRESS, AND WILL BE PUBLISHED ON THE 15TH JANUARY, 1855.

A large amount of Copy-right Music has been secured, making it the most complete and valuable Book of Sacred Music ever published.

IT CONTAINS A FULL COLLECTION OF

CHOICE MELODIES,

By eminent European and American Composers.

Selected from nineteen popular Music Books; also a large number of Original Tunes, and many valuable extracts from the works of Handel, Haydn, Mozart, Rossini, Beethoven, and other celebrated Masters, arranged expressly for this Work, by

G. O. ROBINSON, Charleston, S. C.

Assisted by

I. B. WOODBURY, New-York.

The prominent and general features of The Casket are as follows: 1.—The Elements of Vocal Music Simplified: In this department the greatest care has been taken to render the principles of Music plain, and at the same time to impart to the pupil instructions at once comprehensive and thorough. 2.—Psalm and Hymn Tunes, in every variety of style and Metre. 3.—Anthems and Select Pieces: This department is unusually attractive, containing a greater number of examples than can be found in any similar work. Their high artistic excellence commend them to the skilful Musician, while their melodious utterance will charm the ear and move the heart of the devout Christian. 4.—Hymn Chants; also, beautiful Selections for chanting. 5.—Sabbath School Department: Containing a choice selection of Hymns and Music, adapted to meet the wants of the young. 6.—Revival Department: Under this head is grouped a full collection of Melodies—old and new.

The CASKET will contain about 350 pages. Price per dozen, $10. A sample copy will be forwarded by mail, post paid, to each Teacher or Conductor of a Choir, on the receipt of 75 cents, or 25 Postage Stamps.

NORTH CAROLINA.

NORTH CAROLINA has an area of 20,996,983 acres of land, of which 5,453,975 acres are improved. Unimproved 15,543,008. This State has large bodies of land which are only valuable for their groves of pine, and are productive of great wealth in Pitch, Turpentine, Rosin and Lumber.

These large forests of pine were thought to be valueless only a few years ago. But since, by the liberal policy of the State and private capitalists, Railroads are spanning her length and breadth, and bringing a market to her very door for every thing she can make; a new era has shed life and animation upon the whole State. The towns, villages and plantations that were almost forsaken, are renewing their strength and beauty, and smiling at the unmistakable signs of prosperity.

The census of 1850 puts her total population at 869,039; Merchants at 1,913; Ministers of the Gospel, 747; Attorneys at Law, 399; Physicians, 1,083. Annual products.—Cotton bales 73,845; bushels of Corn, 27,941,051; bushels of Wheat, 2,130,102; pounds of Tobacco, 11,984,786; bushels of Peas and Beans, 1,584,252; bushels Irish Potatoes, 620,318; bushels Sweet Potatoes, 5,095,709.

WILMINGTON.

WILMINGTON is the principal exporting city in North Carolina. Its very rapid progress in the last few years may be indicated by the following: In 1840 the assessment of the city property was $580,000, now the same is nearly three millions and a half. It has a population of about 14,000; fine churches and halls, but as yet no very fine institutions of learning. Until the last few years, this has been considered too sickly for permanent high schools. It is at this time considered as healthy as any South Atlantic city. The drainage of the low wet places about the city, with other health preserving means, has contributed not a little to this desirable change.

The capital, enterprize and intelligence accumulating here so rapidly, together with its shipping and Railroad connections, which are equal to any, will make a city indeed soon. Our stay of three or four days was well rewarded, as may be seen by reference to the list of cards inserted in this work. A choice collection of cards, such as we can and do most cordially recommend as very worthy and well qualified. The greater portion of our stay here was with Capt. Robert S. Macomber who has retired from a long service as a Sea Captain to enjoy the quiet of life and the sweets of a home circle of which any man may well be proud. His varied knowledge and experience and his ready manner of communicating, gave us much amusement and pleasure. In nothing did Capt. M. please us more than his devotion to the Temperance Cause. May his life be long and useful and happy, and may his city property now worth perhaps $50,000 be doubled, as it likely will in ten years.

REV. JOHN P. CAMPBELL,

VOL. I.

CHARLESTON:
STEAM POWER PRESS, NO. 3 BROAD-STREET.

PREFACE TO SECOND PART.

WHILE the Publisher acknowledges a debt of gratitude to the business public, especially those cities to which he made a short visit, for their unusually liberal patronage to his "Directory and Advertiser," he regrets, with them, that the work could not come out in time for the fall trade.

The first delay, (about one month) was produced by the breaking of the Mill with which we had contracted for the paper. The second delay (three weeks) was produced by the sale of the office and the organizing a new firm, the term of the old firm having expired on the 1st July by contract. Third delay (about two months) was produced by the prevalence of Yellow Fever. Those who could leave the city, did so; and those who remained, did little else than nurse the sick and "bury their dead out of their sight." Our patrons will see at once that each of these delays was beyond our control. Every effort in our power and also of the Publishers was put into constant requisition to bring it out as early as possible.

We might name a fourth delay. Our reports from Agents and Clerks of the Courts in each County came in chiefly during the months of March, April and May. Many of these reports were delayed or not made at all. Greatly desiring to have the returns complete from every county in the Southern States, we sent out the second Circular, hoping thereby to make the Directory part complete. This course was approved of by our patrons in the South and also had the effect to make the work much more full and satisfactory.

It will not be expected that we will give a full Directory of Business Firms in such cities as have their own Directories published. We will not intrude upon the rights of others. Cards of every size, from five lines up to a full page will be found in this. In many instances we are requested to give a few lines display to quarter or half page. In all such cases the price is according to the space occupied. Thus the price ranges from $5 to $50.

NORTH CAROLINA, SOUTH CAROLINA, GEORGIA, TENNESSEE, ALABAMA and FLORIDA, will be found to be very full, embracing not only the towns in every county, but also the little villages and country stores. Kentucky, Mississippi, Louisiana, Arkansas and Texas, have a respectable showing from many of the best Counties, but they are not as full as we hoped to see them. We have copies enough to send one gratis to the Clerks of the Court for each County of the above named States. By this means the objects of the publication will be more fully understood and appreciated.

On the first day of January, in the year of our Lord One Thousand Eight Hundred and Fifty-Six, precisely and simultaneously, we want the Clerks of every County in the above named States, including also Virginia, Maryland and Missouri, to send to us a list of merchants, (names and firms) of every class; Practising Attorneys at Law; Practising Physicians; Manufacturers, (by machinery); High Schools and Colleges, with the Principals of each; Banks; Insurance Companies; Railroads; Shipping and Mining Companies, with the two chief officers of each. Also, the names of the Principal Hotels and Proprietors of each; together with a brief Editorial notice of the Educational, Agricultural and Commercial condition and prospects of each county and city, as will not fail to be of general use.

We also want all leading business men in all the towns and cities North, South, East and West, to send in their cards on the day and date, above named, so that early in the ensuing Spring, (1856) we may issue from the large Book Concern in the city of Nashville, the most useful and magnificent Commercial work the world has ever produced.

Please take due notice thereof and govern yourselves accordingly. Thirty years of constant labor in the Gospel Ministry have produced a disease of the throat, rendering us wholly unable to fill that high office for the last two years. We are not competent to write a volume of sermons, even if such a work were in demand. Yet we feel an earnest desire to be useful; to serve the country that gave us birth and liberty, to promote its prosperity and happiness; and at the same time to educate a family of children (only ten) six of them daughters, so that they also may be useful and happy. Please pardon this modest allusion to ourself. Here, now, is our Book, setting forth our plan to serve you. Let it and the humble author receive both your indulgence and co-operation and oblige your obedient servant, &c.,

JOHN P. CAMPBELL.

RICHMOND, VA.

Incidents of our visit to Richmond will be long and pleasingly remembered. The hospitalities of John P. Pollard, Esq., Proprietor of the Exchange Hotel. A better house and better landlord we have not met any where. Long may he share the confidence and patronage of the city and the travelling public.

The generous courtesies of J. A. Cowardin, Esq., Editor and Proprietor of the "Daily Dispatch," deserve a tribute of thanks which we have not words to express. After introducing us to a number of the first gentlemen of the city, he gave us a flattering notice in his paper; next he took us into one of those fine hacks of which there are so many in Richmond, and showed us through and around the whole city, the Railroad Depots, of which there are four, the Ship Dock, a stupendous work by the State, the beautiful prospect from Church Hill of the James River, the Shipping, the Falls, the city and the surrounding country. Then passing the whole length of Maine-street, over a mile long, and the principal business street in the city, we visited Holly Wood Cemetery, a beautiful enclosure of forty-five acres, well shaded by nature and beautified by art. From various points he showed us many of the large and flourishing manufacturing establishments—Cotton, Tobacco, Flour, Wood and Iron, of which we have given a notice in another place. He showed us also the princely mansions of many of the distinguished citizens of the place. The large capital square, shaded with stately trees, adorned with flowers, carpeted with grass, and tastefully checkered off with gravelly walks. In this square is the Governor's house, the Washington Monument and the Capitol itself, "the ceaseless toil of thirty years," as the little girls sung in their original poetry when General Lafayette visited this city many years ago.

Last, but not the least, he showed us his young and accomplished lady and six children, of the late improved Virginia style, which are said to be very handsome. (I dispute it not.) Here we closed the labors of the day, cheered with a fine Virginia supper, ice creams and enlivening conversation with several other gentlemen, among whom was Mr. Baldwin, Assistant Editor and Reporter for the Dispatch.

We tender our thanks to Mr. Saml. Sutherland, who is the largest Pistol and Rifle Gun Manufacturer in the State. See his card. For good company or business capacity, Mr. S. will do to take along.

Col. James Campbell Spotts, Commission Merchant, Agent of the State Prison, and Planter, three miles from the city, offered us the hospitalities of a gentleman and a brother. May happiness and prosperity continue over the heritage of this kind family.

Lastly we call attention to the cards of merchants, manufacturers, &c., for Richmond. Many of them are the largest and safest dealers in the city and worthy of the fullest confidence. Here the new districts of trade opening up from the South and West may be supplied with every thing in the line of merchandize and manufacture, wholesale and retail, from an Axe or Nail, to a Locomotive Engine of the largest size. The Imports and Exports of Richmond are heavy and constantly increasing. The deepening of the James River, so as to admit the larger class of Steamers, together with its magnificent Railroad enterprises, already penetrating the richest districts of the South and West, cannot fail to make it a great city soon. In healthfulness and beauty it is not surpassed by any in the Union.

ROBT. McCANDLISH, JR.

(SUCCESSORS TO FRY & McCANDLISH,)

GENERAL COMMISSION MERCHANT,

136 CARY-ST., RICHMOND, VA.,

☞ Particular attentiou paid to the purchase and sale of FLOUR, WHEAT, CORN, TOBACCO, and all kinds of country produce. Liberal advances made on all consignments.

Agent for Herring's celebrated Salamander Safes, Marbleized Iron Mantles, &c.

GREAT FIRE IN PETERSBURG.

☞ In the fire which destroyed our store and entire stock of goods on the night of the 3d February last, was one of Silas C. Herring's Salamander Safes, with Halls's Burglar Proof Lock, containing our books, papers, and a considerable amount in bank notes and checks. Owing to the intense heat to which the Safe was exposed, the brass knob which unlocks the door was melted off, and it could not be opened with the key, and had therefore to be forced open, which operation was effected with considerable difficulty, from the great strength with which the Safe was made.

On obtaining an entrance to the Safe, the entire contents were found secure and uninjured by fire.

Petersburg, March 18, 1854. MORRISON & MARABLE.

We, the undersigned, were present and witnessed the opening of the Safe above alluded to, and hereby certify that the statements by Messrs. Morrison & Marable are true in every particular.

PETERSBURG, VA.

Petersburg, situated at the foot of the Falls of James River, at the head of tide water, and twenty-two miles south of Richmond. It is also within nine miles of shipping, with which it is connected by Rail Roads.

The wealthy and enterprising population of Petersburg, (now about 20,000, including the factories and suburbs,) are taking the proper steps to make it both a Commercial and Manufacturing City. The Wholesale Trade, as may be seen by reference to the cards for this City, is considerable, and has recently much increased.

Its manufacturing advantages are superior to any city of its size in the South.

There is but one large Seminary of learning here; there are many private schools.

The Academic and Collegiate Seminary for young Ladies, by Rev. A. J. Leavenworth, (originated by himself,) has grown up within the last ten years to an Institution of the first standing in the country. Here are young ladies from Brooklyn, New-York, and Bridgeport, Conn., also, as far South as Alabama and South-Carolina.

The proprietor is now making a large addition to his pleasant buildings, so that by next winter at least fifty more young ladies can be admitted into this superior Seminary.

We invite the attention of those who wish to give their daughters the best advantages the country can afford, to this Institution. See Cards.

NORFOLK, VA.

Present population of Norfolk about 18000. In addition to the Railroad which will soon be completed to Petersburg, and thence connecting with the great roads South and West, surveys are now being made to build an air line road from this to New York city.

We close our notice of Norfolk by calling attention to the business cards here inserted They have not only a high reputation for integrity and punctuality, but they do a large and accommodating business.

The following gentlemen showed us much kindness during the two days we spent in their city. Messrs. Allyn, Rose & Capps, took us through their Hardware establishment, occupying a large four story building. They have, as you will see by their card, a celebrated saw, which every man in the lumber business ought to have.

Next we passed through Mr. Wm. D. Robert's "Copper and Stove Works." Here you will find a large stock, consisting of every style and variety of house keeping goods.

Mr. R. H. Stevens' "Temple of Fashion," you will see as soon as you enter Market Square. And when you see it, walk right in and go up to the fourth story. Here you will see hats "what are hats." Ask for that machine with one hundred and forty-five keys, invented in France, and used for fitting a man's head perfectly.

The Editors of the Five Daily Papers gave us a kindly greeting and a right hearty good speed in our work. Such Editors do much to build up a city. If you wish any notices or advertising, call on them. Then if you need any thing in the way of Drugs and Medicines, call on Messrs. King & Toy. By this time, you will want something good to eat. Just enquire for Walter's City Hotel. This is one of the oldest Hotels in the city and just as good as you want. From New Orleans to Boston you will not find larger Ice Creams than here. And when you get ready to leave, if you are bound Northward, just step down and see Messrs. Mith & Brother, and take passage on one of their fine steam ships to New York.

Also, attention to the card of Lewis Salusbury, Manufacturer of Furniture, &c. His well established reputation, his large and growing trade, entitle him to all, even more, than his card claims.

Sherwood & Young's establishment presents one of the most imposing of all the Warehouses', situated on the river. On entering the harbor from the river or canal, and from the opposite side of the river, it looks the most commodious.

BALTIMORE, MD.

The principal city of the State, and the third city of the United States in population, is situated on the North side of Patapsco river, fourteen miles from its entrance into Chesapeake bay, one hundred miles southwest of Philadelphia, and forty miles from Washington. It is built on uneven ground, bending around the innermost of three harbors, which successively diminish in space and depth. The outer one is twenty-two feet deep, one mile and a quarter long, from its entrance into the second, which is fifteen feet deep, half a mile wide, and one mile long. Vessels of about 600 tons enter this harbor, while the third, which enters the city, is deep enough for vessels of two hundred tons. The outer entrance is defended by fortifications, which repulsed a British fleet of sixteen ships in 1814.

The appearance of the city, when viewed from the water, is imposing. The most conspicuous and fashionable part is built on a bold, but not steep elevation; and the steeples, monuments and domes, with which it is crowned, greatly relieve and beautify the scene. Within the town, the streets and buildings exhibit various degrees of beauty and regularity, when viewed from different points. In the construction of the houses, convenience and solidity appear to have been studied, rather than magnificence; but the abodes of wealthy citizens exhibit the same elegance here as in other great cities of the Union. Many of the public structures are also splendid and costly. Baltimore has been named the "Monumental City," chiefly from the two great monuments it contains. Washington monument is a Doric column, of white marble, 180 feet high, resting on a base of the same material, 20 feet high, and surmounted by a statue of the man it commemorates. Ascending by a winding staircase, within the column, the visiter beholds a wide prospect of the city, and its varied environs. Battle monument, also of white marble, is 52 feet high, and was erected in memory of the patriots who fell in defence of this city against the British, in 1814. Many of the churches are remarkable for architectural beauty. The court house, state penitentiary, custom house, St. Mary's college, and the halls of numerous literary and scientific institutions, are among the other important public buildings. The exchange is 225 feet wide, 141 feet deep, and 115 feet to the top of the dome. Colonnades of the Ionic order, made of Italian marble, extends across its east and west fronts.

Water is supplied in abundance from fountains in the city, and from Jones's fall, in the vicinity, by an aqueduct and pipes.

In manufactures, as in commerce, Baltimore ranks with the great cities of America. Jones's fall (a small creek dividing the city, and spanned by several beautiful bridges) and the Patapsco, afford numerous excellent seats for mills and manufactories of various kinds.

The population in 1775, was 5,936; in 1790, 13,503; in 1800, 26,614; in 1810, 46,555; in 1820, 62,738; in 1830, 80,625; in 1840, 134,379; in 1850, 169,012.

We respectfully call attention to the following select and extended cards for this city, viz: Hayward, Bartlett & Co., Manufacturers of Stoves, &c., 22 Light-street. Charles De, Ford & Co., Tobacco Commission Merchants and Importers of Cigars and Tobacco, No. 37 South Gay street. Wm. McFarland, McFarland's Improved Fire and Burlar Proof Salamander Safes, 145 Pratt-street. This safe has a reputation that justifies a large custom and extensive sales. Egerton & Brother, Dealers in Lotteries, licensed by the State, corner Exchange Place and South-street. Murphy & Co., Publishers and Booksellers, 178 Market-street. Canfield, Brother & Co., Jeweller's, 229 Baltimore-street. Franklin L. Bates, latest improved Hoisting Machines, East Falls Avenue.

Each of the above establishments have a high reputation for integrity and promptness, and are cordially commended to the confidence and patronage of the trade. The smaller cards are also entitled to the like respectful consideration.

BALTIMORE, MD., June 15th, 1854.

Resolved, That we, whose cards are inserted in this work, do address a cordial greeting to our friends in the South and West.

Resolved, That we are fully of the opinion that to strengthen our Commerce and Manufactures, we ought to cherish mutual Southern trade.

Resolved, That we are willing, even anxious, to meet the demands of the growing trade of the South and West, on terms equally accommodating as those of any other city.

Resolved, That we only ask a fair trial, as we are happy to find our friends are willing to give us, to insure the fullest satisfaction.

Success to Baltimore.

MONUMENT SQUARE, BALTIMORE.

ANDW. M. LAUGHLIN and ZENUS BARNUM, Proprietors.

This Establishment so favorably known to the travelling community in every quarter of the globe, was erected by the late David Barnum, in 1826, and since that period has kept up its reputation as a first class hotel. Since the decease of the founder of the Establishment, it has undergone many additions and improvements, keeping pace with the modern arrangements, and now extends from Calvert-street to St. Paul's street, fronting on Fayette-st., nearly 400 feet; its capacity is very large and can comfortably lodge four hundred and fifty guests. The comfort and popularity of the house is generally understood, it ranks as a first class hotel in every particular. Success attend its enterprising Proprietors, who have lately put it in fine order.

MARYLAND LOTTERIES,

OFFICE OF EGERTON & BRO.,

CORNER OF EXCHANGE PLACE AND SOUTH-ST.,

BALTIMORE, MD.

The Lotteries in our State are drawn under State authority, through a sworn Commissioner elected for the purpose, thus guaranteeing to the purchaser the fairness of the Drawings. The great and repeated number of High Prizes that have been distributed from our Office has induced us to make this advertisement, and we hope you will avail yourself of the opportunity to address us by mail, and secure one of the High Prizes for your own use. Being but Agents for the sale of Tickets and the payment of all Prizes guaranteed by the State of Maryland, it is much to our interest as well as gratification to sell the High Prizes; and it has many times happened to us that we have made our correspondents RICH before we had the pleasure of a personal interview. We have sold during the past year, the following splendid prizes which have been cast from Maine to Texas, we having a numerous correspondence in every State in our Glorious Union, 1 of $80,000; 1 of $67,500; 1 of $24,940; 1 of $40,000; 4 of $20,000; 1 of $24,000; 5 of $8,000; 4 of $10,000; 38 of $5,000; and a number of $1,000, $500, &c., in fact scarcely a day passes that a respectable prize is not sent from our office.

We invariably answer letters by return mail, enclosing the Tickets in a proper envelope, observing the strictest confidence, and after the Drawing is over we send the Official Printed Drawing, duly certified to by the State Officer and Managers, with a written explanation of the result. All prizes bought at our office are payable immediately after the Drawing in current money. Bank Notes of any State taken at par for Tickets.

Correspondents may place the utmost confidence in the regularity and safety of the mails, as out of many thousand orders containing drafts and bank notes, from all parts of the United States, we have never yet had a valuable letter to miscarry. In making odd change, Post Office Stamps can be at all times obtained. Pay your postage to us, and we will pre-pay to you.

We have thus endeavored to be as minute as possible in all our details. If any important item of information has been omitted, the undersigned are always ready to answer letters of inquiry. In ordering Tickets, look over the list of Lotteries in our monthly circular which can be obtained by writing to us, select the Lottery, enclose the money, and direct the letter to our address. Be careful to mention your Post Office, County and State.

A single trial may place in your possession a competency for life. Try us. Try us. Address EDGERTON & BRO.,

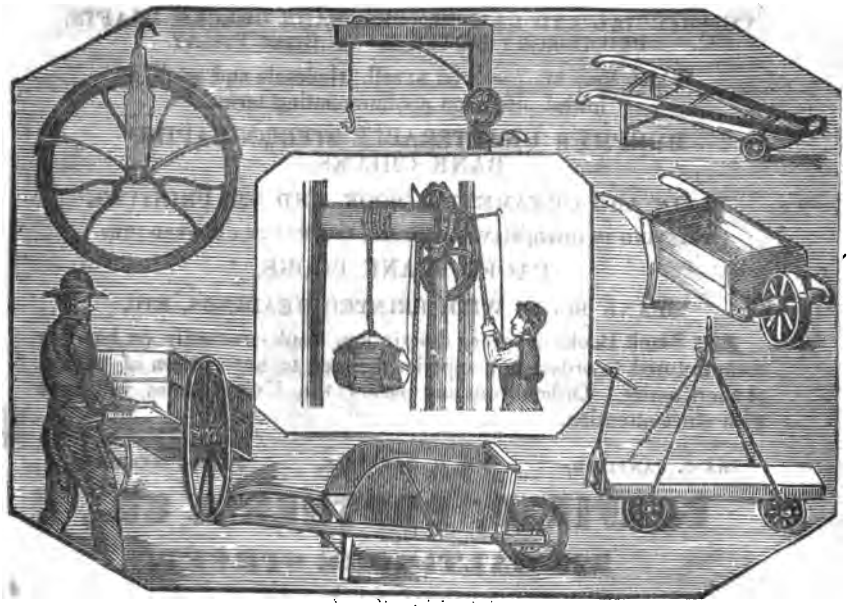
FRANKLIN L. BATES'

LATEST IMPROVED

HOISTING MACHINES,

FOR WAREHOUSE PURPOSES.



These Machines have now become in general use in Baltimore and many of the Southern and Western Cities, and have in every instance given the utmost satisfaction to those that have them in use. The subscriber now, with confidence, recommends them to every merchant in the Union who has a Warehouse, as a safe and easy mode of transporting goods from one story to another. These machines are warranted.

Here are a few names of merchants who have them in use in their Warehouses, to which I refer: James Parkhurst, Bowly's Wharf; James Hooper & Sons, Charles E. Jay, Cheapside; Frederick Rolison, Paca st.; E. C. Thomas, Robert M. Hart, Duvall, Rogers & Co., Baltimore st.; J. R. Mann, McElderry's Wharf; all of Baltimore. In Virginia, E. H. Skinner, Samuel H. Harwood, Crenshaw & Brother, William Brown, Richmond; Col. W. W. Watts, Niemyer & White, Portsmouth; Cazenor & Co., Henry Daingerfield, Robert H. Hunton, Alexandria. District of Columbia, Jacob Gedeon, Wm. Shuster & Co., A. J. Joyce, P. Tyson, Richard J. Ryan.

I could name many others, but deem these few references sufficient. I also make all kinds of Trucks and Wheelbarrows, and Truck Wagons. In short, every kind of machines for hoisting or removing goods in warehouses, may be found at my manufactory, being the only one of this kind in Baltimore. I am prepared to sell as cheap as any other manufacturer in the U. States. Merchants and others will please give me a call and examine for themselves. FRANKLIN L. BATES,

PHILADELPHIA, PA.

THE first city of Pennsylvania, in population, wealth and manufactures, and the second in the United States, is situated on a peninsula, formed by the confluence of Delaware and Schuylkill rivers. The city was laid out with beautiful regularity, in 1683, by its illustrious founder, William Penn, who gave it its name, signifying "brotherly love." Many of the noble trees which grew on the site, are now commemorated by the names of the streets running east and west, as Chesnut, Walnut, Pine, &c., while those crossing them are designated by numerals.

The ground on which Philadelphia is built is even, rising gently from each river, along which it extends for several miles. On the Delaware, the scenery is monotonous, but the water being deeper than that of the other river, the commerce and business of the city tends to this side; while the Schuylkill affords pleasing landscapes and agreeable places of residence. Many of the smaller vessels, sloops and boats, here congregate, laden with coal, and other products of the valley of the Schuylkill; this part of the city is now rapidly increasing in wealth and business. No feature of Philadelphia is more striking than the regularity and neatness of its streets. The latter peculiarity is chiefly owing to the convenient grade, which allows the water to descend and find its way through sewers and other channels, into the Delaware. The houses, also, are more remarkable for neatness and solidity, than for splendor and show; they are mostly of brick, adorned with steps and basements of white marble, which the neighboring quarries furnish in abundance, and of fine quality. Of this material, a number of the public buildings are constructed, among which are the United States Marine Hospital, the Pennsylvania Bank, the Girard Bank, the building formerly occupied by the United States Bank, and the Girard College, which deserves more than a passing mention. A bequest of $2,000,000, with grounds beautifully situated on an elevation near the city, was made in 1831. by Stephen Girard, an eccentric, though wealthy citizen of Philadelphia, for the purpose of founding a college for orphans. With part of these funds, has been erected one of the most magnificent structures in the United States. The college consists of five buildings, the main edifice in the centre is devoted to the education of pupils and students of various ages and acquirements; the other four, two on each side, are residences for the instructors and students. The whole is of richly-wrought white marble. The central structure is 218 feet long, and 160 feet wide, surrounded by 34 Corinthian columns, 55 feet high, and six feet in diameter. The interior is in a corresponding style of splendor. The four other buildings are each 125 feet long, and 52 feet wide.

Another building in Philadelphia, of less magnificence, probably excites greater interest. This is the old state house, or Independence hall, where the Declaration of American Independence was decreed and signed by the first continental congress. The bell which announced to the anxious people the adoption of this great instrument, is carefully preserved in the cupola; it bears the prophetic inscription: "Proclaim Liberty throughout this land unto all the inhabitants thereof." These words were imprinted on the bell long before the use which was afterwards made of it could have been known. In this building are a statue of Washington, in wood, and many other relics of the Revolution.

Philadelphia contains a large number of important public buildings and institutions. Among them are the Pennsylvania Hospital, which owes its origin to Doctors Franklin and Bond; the Insane Asylum, outside of the city; the Almshouse, fronting Schuylkill river on its west side; institutions for the deaf and for the blind, and several other charitable establishments. Besides these, there are the American Philosophical Society, founded in 1743, by the exertions of Dr. Franklin, and possessing a large and valuable library and cabinet; the Philadelphia library, also established under the auspices of Franklin; the Franklin Institute; the Academy of Natural Sciences; the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts; and numerous other flourishing institutions for improvement in knowledge and art.

Another great structure is the United States Mint, built of white marble, with two porticoes, resting on Ionic columns, one fronting Chestnut, the other Olive street. Here a vast amount of bullion, from California and other parts of the Union, is coined.

The markets of Philadelphia are among the most convenient, well-supplied, and well-conducted, in the country. To these come vast quantities of provisions from the surrounding region, with the rich and varied fruits of New Jersey and Delaware.

By the water works on the Schuylkill, at Fairmount, a large body of water is raised into elevated reservoirs, whence it is distributed over the city by iron-pipes. A beautiful suspension bridge spans the Schuylkill at Fairmount, and several railroad bridges also lead to the city.

There are in Philadelphia a number of public parks, laid out with taste and beauty, shaded by trees, and adorned with walks, fountains, and other appropriate ornaments. In the rear of Independence-hall, is Independence square, a favorite and agreeable public resort. Other public grounds are Franklin, Washington, Logan and Rittenhouse squares.

Outside of the city are Pratt's gardens, on the Schuylkill, near the water-works, and below, Barton's gardens, both of which are interesting spots. These, with the beautiful villas, and soft but rich scenery of the river, render Philadelphia as agreeable a place of residence as any large city in the country.

Properly forming a part of the city, but having distinct municipal incorporations, are the five districts, Southwark, Moyamensing, Northern Liberties, Kensington, and Spring Garden. These, with several adjacent villages, though for convenience of government and for local causes, separated from the city, in nature, connection and interest, and for all practical purposes, may be identified with it, except perhaps in the crookedness of their streets, which forms one distinctive feature from the city itself.

The manufactures of Philadelphia are varied and important, embracing nearly all the articles produced by American industry.

The railroads diverging from Philadelphia, are the Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore; the Philadelphia, Harrisburg and Pittsburg; the Philadelphia, Reading and Pottsville; the Philadelphia, Germantown and Norristown; the Camden and Amboy; the Columbia and Philadelphia; the Philadelphia and Westchester; the Philadelphia and Trenton branch; the Philadelphia and Germantown branch; and the New York and Philadelphia steamer line.

The canals, communicating directly, or through rivers, with Philadelphia, are the Schuylkill Navigation, which extends to Port Carbon; the Pennsylvania; the Morris, which enters the Delaware at Easton; and the Delaware and Raritan, between Bordentown and New Brunswick on the Raritan river, which is navigabler for steamboats from New York.

The population in 1685 was 2,500; in 1790, 42,520; in 1800, 70,287; in 1810, 96,664; in 1820, 108,116; in 1830, 167,188; in 1840, 258,037; in 1850, 409,353; now about 500,000.—Selected.

☞ See the card of Emil Mathieus celebrated Cider and Vinegar Establishment, No. 12 and 14, Lombard-street. This is the largest establishment of the kind we have ever seen and we doubt whether there is a larger in the world. In an establishment manufacturing such an immense amount of Vinegar, it might be supposed that the Proprietor would become sour. Not so. A more pleasant gentleman is hard to find. Let the trade of the South and West make their orders here with a certainty of being satisfied.

☞ See also the card of Messrs. Pratt & Reath, Jewellers, No. 30 Market-street, Philadelphia, and 173 Broadway, New York. This establishment constitutes a point of attraction both in New York and Philadelphia. Here you will find not only fine Watches and Jewelry of every description, but also splendid stocks of Fancy and Plain House Furnishing Goods.

☞ See the extra card of Messrs. Jas. B. Smith & Co., Blank Book Manufacturers, Book Sellers, Stationers, &c., 146 Chesnut, above Sixth street. This is one of the largest and best arranged establishments of the sort in the United States. We had the pleasure of looking through its several apartments, to which we respectfully invite the attention of all merchants and dealers visiting this city. The sight of such an establishment is worth an hours examination of any one. The variety and perfect adaptedness of every part of the machinery, and the facility with which every branch of the business is carried on, cannot fail both to instruct and please.

☞ See the card of H. S. Benson, Proprietor of the Ashland House. For good fare, comfortable lodging and polite attention, this house is not surpassed by any other Hotel. Having tried it for two weeks, you may rely upon it, that Mr. B. has things done up brown. We therefore cordially recommend this house to travellers and those seeking comfort and quietude. Give him a call

CINCINNATI, OHIO.

The "Queen City of the West," in population, commerce, and general enterprise, is situated on the north bank of Ohio river, 494 miles from its entrance into the Mississippi, 1,447 miles from New Orleans, and 492 miles from Washington. It occupies two terraces, or even surfaces, the higher rising by a regular grade, about 60 feet above the lower. Great uniformity characterizes the streets, and the city is more splendid than it appears from the water. The surrounding country is a pleasant, fertile valley, bounded by undulating slopes and hills, which command delightful views of the city, the river, and its banks. Near Cincinnati, are several thriving villages and towns, which are connected with it in prosperity and interests. Like most rapidly increasing American cities, Cincinnati exhibits great diversity in the appearance of its buildings. Some are of wood and cheap material; others are solid, durable, and splendid. Extensive Warehouses, stores, and dwellings, adorn the compact central portions; toward the outskirts, the buildings are more scattered and less comely.

The public buildings are numerous and generally elegant, consisting of from seventy to eighty churches; market houses; a court house, 120 feet high to the top of the dome; several banks, asylums, and hospitals; large and splendid hotels; public schools; libraries; the Observatory, scientific and literary institutions. Cincinnati, St. Xavier and Woodward colleges, and Lane seminary, are located in the city, and exhibit the high regard for education which is cherished in the west.

The manufactures of Cincinnati include a great variety of articles of necessity, comfort, and luxury. Nature has supplied no remarkable water privileges; yet enterprise has constructed extensive appliances for the prosecution of manufactures. Several canals, approaching the city from different points, by means of locks and dams, perform the functions of rivers in respect to industry and trade. Cincinnati is the market and emporium of a wide extent of country, exchanging its manufactures for vast numbers of hogs and other agricultural products. This extensive trade is facilitated by the numerous natural and artificial channels of communication from various points. From its position on the Ohio, it commands the commerce of its valley with that of the Mississippi, while Licking river enters the Ohio opposite the city, after meandering 230 miles in Kentucky. White water and Miami rivers, with their navigation improved by extensive canals, largely contribute to the trade and prosperity of the place.

The water works of Cincinnati consist of a steam engine and reservoirs on the Ohio, which contain 1,600,000 gallons.

The population in 1800, was 750; in 1810, 2,540; in 1820, 9,644; in 1830, 24,831; in 1840, 46,336; in 1850, 115,436.

☞ The splendid railroad improvements connecting Cincinnati with the Eastern, Western, Northern and Southern cities, are dail y addingto its population and its wealth. Its present population is not far from 150,000.

☞ See the extra card of Mr. A. B. Latta's Cincinnati Steam Fire Engine Buckeye Works. No invention of the present age is more wonderful, or likely to be more useful in protecting and saving city property. The use of this engine in one fire may save its cost tenfold. It will be well for Insurance Companies to unite with city corporations and purchase one of these engines.

☞ See the card of Messrs. Lee, Leavitt & Stearns, manufacturers of every description of cast steel saws, portable circular saw mills, &c., &c. No. 15 Walnut street. This establishment cannot fail to be an object of interest to the South and West.

☞ Messrs. Moore & Richardson are prepared to do all kinds of engine work, casting, forging, &c., in the very best manner, and on satisfactory terms. The facilities for shipment, in any direction from Cincinnati, are such as to make it a desirable point for purchasers. We commend this firm to the special notice of railroad companies, steamboat men, and others in want of machinery.

☞ Burnet House, N. West cor. of Third and Vine Streets.—This is undoubtedly the most spacious, and probably the best hotel in its interior and domestic arrangements of any in the world. The building, including the terrace, is 212 feet on third street, and 200 to its rear on Burnet street. Its style of architecture is the Brachetea Italian. It is 6 stories in height, with a dome 42 feet in diameter, which is 100 feet from the basement floor. The Observatory commands a fine view of the city, the Ohio river, and the Kentucky scenery beyond. The entire house contains 342 rooms, all properly lighted and ventilated. It is central to all the different railroads running out of the city, and only two squares from the steamboat landing. Since the Railroad has been finished to Louisville, it is the most central and conveniently located hotel in the city.

☞ Butler's Mercantile, Writing, Copying and Record Fluid Inks.—Manufactured at Cincinnati, Ohio, (see card) have become a necessary fixture in the West. They have been adopted to the exclusion of Arnold's English Fluid, by all the prominent Banking houses, Railroad, Telegraph, Insurance and other offices; by all the principal wholesale Grocers, Dry Goods, Crockery, Hardware, Iron, Shoe and Leather Dealers, all the largest Manufacturers, Hotels, Druggists, &c. &c., amounting in number to over two hundred and fifty of the city of Cincinnati, Ohio. Also, by sixty Banking and Wholesale Dealers in Louisville, Ky., besides many other prominent towns in Ohio and Indiana, the names of whom are recorded in the manufacturers' circular, to which the public at large are referred. The character of the article may now be said to be established as beyond question to be equal in every respect, and superior in one (as it never moulds) to Arnold's, and being an American production, should receive a preference by every American citizen. We had the pleasure of a thorough inspection of the manufactory, and find the business conducted in a systematic manner, having all the fixtures for preparing the article largely, and supplying the current demand.

☞ See extra card of John D. Parks, Catalogue and Genuine and Popular Family Medicines. Also, wholesale dealer in all Patent Medicines, North East corner of Fourth and Walnut-streets. Having the largest advertisement in our Cincinnati list, we put his at the head of that list, and do respectfully call the attention of all merchants, Druggists, Planters, Steam boats and the rest of mankind, to his magnificent Medical Depot.

The world-wide reputation of this establishment, together with the skill and experience of the Proprietor, cannot fail to make it a point of interest to the trade of the South and West. Success to the healing art.

☞ The Editors of the daily newspapers whose cards are inserted brought us under large tribute for the courteous manner in which they noticed our work. The light of eternity only can reveal the amount of good that a sound, enlightened and free press has done in elevating the standard of moral and political liberty.

☞ Messrs. Lyon & Bell, corner of Lock and Third-streets, showed us through their large Steam Engine and Boiler Works, which is worthy of their good run of custom. See their card.

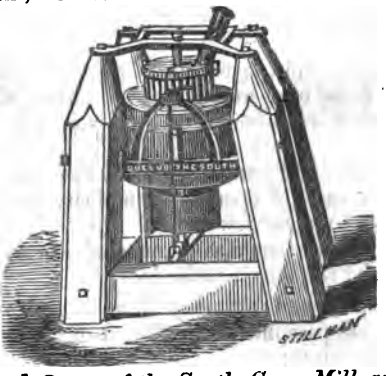
MILL FACTORY,

Corner of Front and John-streets, Cincinnati, Ohio. Warehouse, No. 19 Front, between Main and Walnut streets.



Single geared Queen of the South Corn Mill and Crusher.

Portable Plantation Corn, Corn and Cobs, Wheat, Flouring and Saw Mill Factory, No. 19 Front-st., Cincinnati, Ohio.

The above are wood cuts of a double-geared "Queen of the South' Corn Mill, and a single gear with crusher.

We manufacture a Cob Breaker of great strength and durability and ease of operation.

We place this useful contrivance on all sizes of Mills, by which means we convert a Corn Mill into a Stock Feed Mill; but a few minutes work to put it on or take it off.

We manufacture portable Mills single and double geared (best quality of French burrs,) to grind Wheat, Corn and Stock Feeds, calculated for steam, water or horse power. These Mills have been run by steam and horse power in competition against the other make of Mills of our city, at our State Fairs, and have never failed to carry off the first premium—on one occasion was awarded a beautiful silver medal. Our Mills also took two first premiums, as the best Mills, at two Annual Fairs of our Mechanics' Institute.

Also, Portable Saw Mills, to be run by steam, water or horse power. This Mill was exhibited in operation by horse power, at the Ohio State Fair, in 1850, when it was awarded a premium and a splendid silver medal.

Also, different kinds of Portable Horse Powers, and Steam Engines. All our articles, for ease of operation, simplicity, usefulness, and durability, are surpassed by none now in use.

All our articles are warranted as represented—or no sale—at our cost of transportation and the money refunded.

For a full description and testimony of merit and usefulness we refer those interested to our pamphlet, to be had at our factory, where we take pleasure to explain each article.

ISAAC STRAUB & CO.

NOTE.—Mr. Kimball, the partner of J. H. Burrows, while exhibiting a Burrows Mill at our State Fair, last fall, was boisterous about his Mills and courageously entered into a verbal agreement with me to grind corn, thus: Whoever grinds the most, regarding quality and quantity, was to be the owner of both Mills, at each and every trial:

First Trial.—Straub to run an 18 inch Mill;
Burrows & Co., to run a 20 inch Mill.
Second Trial.—Straub to run a 22 inch Mill;
Burrows & Co., to run a 24 inch Mill.
Third Trial.—Straub to run a 26 inch Mill;
Burrows & Co., to run a 30 inch Mill.

When the pinch came that boisterous courage jumped out. To the above I now append a challenge to grind cob feed out of whole cars of corn:

I will run my 18 inch "Queen of the South," with a cob-breaker attachment; the same article that took the premium at the Ohio State Fair, last fall, against 24 inch Burrows Mill and Wm. Stewart's Ohio and Kentucky Stock Feed Mill, both to be run at once; and if you are apprehensive of a risky business, you have my entire approbation to run Mr. Pomeroy's Corn Crusher as an auxiliary. Should my single article fail to grind equal in quality and quantity to the combined productions of the two or three Mills, (just as you please,) then you can draw a few hundred dollars as stakes put up.

Come boys, don't be cowards—there is nothing like walking straight into the merits of a thing. ISAAC STRAUB.

BUTLER'S

MERCANTILE WRITING FLUID,

Manufactured by JAMES J. BUTLER, Agent,

No. 39 Vine-street, corner of Commerce, Cincinnati, O.

To whom all orders addressed will be promptly executed, 20 per cent cheaper than Arnold's, wholesale or retail.

The properties peculiar to this Fluid consist: First.—In its great Fluidity, never becoming thick or gummy in the Inkstand. Second.—It will never under any circumstances mould. Third.—Its changes from a greenish blue to a deep, permanent black color, which no length of time will fade or destroy, nor can it ever be obliterated by any chemical process, without destroying the paper. Fourth.—It always flows freely from the pen, and is warranted fully equal, in every respect, to the celebrated Arnold's Fluid, so universally known and approved. Fifth.—It is much cheaper, and within the reach of all.

This Fluid, from being recently prepared, will not when first opened and used, attain its deepest black tint. It may require a day or two when first spread on the paper; but each day that it is exposed to the atmosphere in the stand, lessens the time gradually to a few hours. It may be used with Steel, Gold or Quill Pens. Where a steel pen is exclusively used, it changes rapidly in the stand to a dark green; this is caused by the action of the iron upon the chemical combination. This Fluid will be found to copy well, if the copy is taken immediately after it is written, thereby dispensing with the necessity of using a separate copying ink. Its easy flow makes it desirable, as all inks prepared expressly for that purpose are unpleasant to write with, from their tendency to thicken up in the stand. This ink will be found to be Indelible, and may be used for marking on linen or cotton cloth, if used in the same manner as inks made expressly for that purpose. It will be found best to apply a hot iron upon the cloth immediately after writing.

TESTIMONIAL.

From the Mechanics' and Traders' Branch Bank.

The undersigned having used Butler's Mercantile Writing Fluid, for some three months last past, can confidently recommend the same as fully equal to any which we have any knowledge, both for its easy flow and copying qualities; and thus far have not found it to mould, the top common objection to most of the Writing Fluids.

C. E. Nourse, Cashier; B. B. Everest, Assistant Cashier; W. W. Robertson, Paying Teller; Charles Hyde, General Book Keeper; D. C. Butler, Individual Book Keeper; J. J. James, Collection Clerk.

☞ All the leading papers of Cincinnati have given flattering notices of this Fluid, which may be found in a Circular, to which the manufacturer respectfully refers.

BUTLER'S OIL PASTE BLACKING.

The quality of this article is equal to any made in this country, and the reputation it has gained during the past fourteen years will be fully sustained.

It is put up in three sizes, SMALL, MEDIUM and LARGE, in handsome style and is securely packed in barrels for shipment.

CINCINNATI MACHINE SHOPS.

MOORE & RICHARDSON, successors to Harkness, Moore & Co. We are indebted to the courtesy of Mr. Moore for the following particulars of this establishment, which we give to our readers as indicative of the progress of the West in the mechanical branch of national industry.

The establishment is one of the largest of the kind in the West, covering almost an entire square of ground in the Eastern portion of our city, near the river bank, and turns out Marine as well as Locomotive Engines, for which purpose there is a Foundry attached capable of casting twenty tons of metal at one time, and steam hammers of a capacity for the heaviest forging; it was commenced in 1828, the present proprietors are practical men of great experience in the business, one of whom Mr. Moore, has been in the establishment since its commencement. When full it employs about three hundred hands, and has every possible facility in the way of machinery, guided by skill, for the manufacture and repair of Engines, whether Locomotive or Marine, as well as the various kinds of machinery necessary for repair shops upon railways.

This establishment commenced the manufacture of Locomotives in 1846, since which it has turned out about one hundred Engines, numbers of which can be seen upon the Little Miami and Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton roads, which have been mostly supplied from their works, and among them is the superior passenger Locomotive "Nat Wright" upon the Little Miami Railroad, which stands inferior to none made elsewhere in efficiency; specimens of the work of this establishment can also be found upon various other roads in Ohio, as well as throughout Kentucky, Tennessee and Indiana, all of which has given ample satisfaction.

The Engines of the magnificent Low-Pressure Steamer Jacob Strader, were constructed at these works, from designs by Mr. Moore. The machinery of the Low-Pressure Steamers Northerner and Southerner, was also constructed at this establishment, and in point of beauty and workmanship, efficiency or durability, will suffer no deterioration by comparison with any similar Eastern work.

CINCINNATI STEAM FIRE ENGINE.

The foregoing cut is a perspective view of this great moral reformer; the production of A. B. Latta, it has met all the ends for which it was desired. Cincinnati now has three of these machines, built by A. B. & E. LATTA, Buckeye Works, Cincinnati. Boston has one. The demand for these ENGINES is greater than the builders can supply. Every City must sooner or later use steam for this purpose; it is found that steam costs only one dime, where hand labor costs one dollar, thus showing a saving of 90 per cent. One of these Machines is capable of doing the work of six of the largest class hand apparatus. The farthest thow ever made is 240 feet solid body of water, through 1½ inch nozzle. To give a description of this machine is impossible here, steam is raised and the engine ready for work in five minutes. It requires 4 men and 4 horses to man it. It is impossible for any one to appreciate it without seeing it.

Any information can be obtained by addressing A. B. LATTA, at Cincinnati, the Projector and Pattentee.

THIS FIRST CLASS HOTEL enjoys a large run of custom and a constantly growing reputation. This grows out of the polite and untiring attentions of the Proprietor, his brother and clerks, the additions and improvements which are made to the furniture of the several apartments, the number and attentiveness of the best of servants, and last, but not least, the good things of the table; for it must be conceded by all who have stopped here that the table of the Burnet House has no superior in the West or South.

The Parlors are large and richly furnished; the Chambers whether for families or single persons, are large, well furnished and well ventilated. Comfortable entertainment can be provided in this house for six hundred persons. Having tried most of the first class Hotels in the United States, we have found none better than the Burnet House.—EDITOR.

CITY OF NEW YORK.

The city of New York must be seen to be appreciated. The visitor will feel, when he sees it, that no notice or description had given him a just conception of it. We thought it was no place for a lounger. Every man you meet, seems to be in a hurry. Even the lazy man, if he ever gets so far from home, sympathizing with the fast New Yorkers, will find himself in a hurry before he knows it. We will not attempt a detailed notice of this metropolis, whose population now reaches nearly 700,000, and whose commerce and manufactures outstrip any city in North America.

We commend to the thousands of our patrons and readers in the South and West, the select cards of this great city.

☞ To the manufacturers and wholesale dealers of New York, this work will be found of great value and convenience. Of the eleven States represented, six of them are complete, giving the address of the merchants of every county, town, village and country store. It is a work of immense labor, such as has never before been gotten up for the South.

☞ We invite the attention of the business community of N. York. to our agent, Mr. R. J. ABBOTT, at No. 346 Broadway, where they can be supplied with copies, or make orders for the next volume, to be issued in the spring of 1856.

☞ Among the list of select cards for New York, we invite attention to that of the Smithsonian House, Sydney Kopman, Proprietor, 604 Broadway. This is a new and elegant establishment, conducted on the European plan. Mr. K. is one of those polite and amiable gentlemen whom you have only to know to love. If you stop once at his house, you will wish to stop again. An elegant room, finely furnished with water, gas light, &c., at 50 cents per day, is cheap on Broadway.

☞ Almost everybody has heard of the Avery Sewing Machine, that took the first premium at the New York Crystal Palace Exhibition. Their advertisement and cut of their machine, will be found on another column. For simplicity, durability and cheapness, its mechanism is unrivalled.

☞ GRYMES' PATENT REACTION CENTRIFUGAL PUMP AND FIRE ENGINE.—The reader is referred to the advertisement on another page, for information concerning this remarkable pump. From the many and strong testimonials given in its favor, and also the numerous medals and diplomas that have been awarded to it, we can but believe it is THE Pump, so far as power, efficiency and economy are concerned. Its peculiar features are, that its uncommon power is derived from the centrifugal force of the water, which is thrown into a rapid rotary motion. Manufacturers by the Union Row, No. 8; Company's Office and Warehouse, 33 Broadway, N. Y.

☞ Mr. F. P. FLAGLER's Portable Forge and Bellows, the advertisement and cut of which appears in this work, will be found just the thing that has been so long wanted by Blacksmith Shipping Contractors, and in fact at all kinds of work where a forge is at any time wanted. Mr. Flagler also has a portable Melting Furnace, for Jewelers, Dentists, Chemists, &c., that will be found to surpass any thing of the kind ever before offered to the public. Warehouse, 210 Water street, N. Y.

☞ Our thanks are due to the New York Daily Tribune, the Daily Times and other city papers, for notices. Oliver & Brother showed us through their new, large, and very handsome Job Printing Buildings. These gentlemen came from Baltimore to New York a few years ago, with nothing but industry and sobriety. They are now owners of this establishment and doing well, as all industrious, Temperance men ought to do.

☞ On another page will be found the advertisement of Silas C. Herring, of New York, the great Fire and Burglar Proof Safe Manufacturer. These Safes have stood the tests of the old and new worlds, and received the prizes of each. Volumes might be written only to say what all have before heard. That they are the excelsior safes of the world, none can doubt.

☞ Particular attention should be paid to the advertisement on another page, of Messrs. Thomas Hoyt & Co., Tobacco Manufacturers. As to quality and price, they rank A, No. 1. The agent has had the pleasure of a personal acquaintance with Mr. Hoyt for the past 10 years, and can recommend him to the liberal patronage of all merchants and dealers. Every attention will be paid to their wants, that a thorough business man and a gentleman can bestow.

IMPORTANT INVENTION.—The reader should pay particular attention to the advertisement, on another page, to Clark's Patent Steam and Fire Regulator.

Judging from the many strong testimonials, prize medals, &c., in possession of the Company, that the above Patent is destined to revolutionize the world in its respective line, and prove to all that steam and fire can, by the application of this invention, be governed and controlled at pleasure. Every person having a steam engine, should not run one moment until they had secured the great advantages that is to be derived from the above patent.

☞ The reader's attention is particularly invited to an Engraving of the splendid new building of Dr. Brandreth, of 'Brandreth's Pills' notoriety, which has been erected the past year, on the three streets of Broadway, Canal and Lispenard streets. In it is located his principal office, where his large and increasing business is transacted, while the entire upper part, together with the basements, &c., will be used for hotel purposes. It is considered one of the most beautiful buildings in New York, and bids fair to attract as large an amount of custom as any business location in the city. It was erected under the architectural supervision of Charles Thettam, Esq., a young, and rapidly rising artist, who, in the arrangement and design of the building, has given evidence of the possession of good judgment and refined taste.

☞ The attention of merchants and dealers is called to the advertisement of the Hope Mills in another column. This is an old established House of 20 years standing, and has every facility for furnishing anything in its line at the shortest notice, and as cheap as any other establishment in the world. Proprietor's office 103 Front-st., New York.

CLARK'S

PATENT STEAM AND FIRE REGULATOR

COMPANY,

FOR THE MANUFACTURING AND VENDING OF

CLARK'S PATENT STEAM AND FIRE

REGULATORS.

THESE Steam and Fire Regulators having been thoroughly tested, for the last 12 months, by some of the first engineers of different States, are now offered to the public at large—an agent for the sale of which will be found in all the principal cities throughout the Union. A superb Gold Medal was awarded to the patentee at the last Fair of the American Institute, and was, by the Examiners, thought to be one of the most necessary and useful inventions that had of late been brought before the American public. The necessity of some invention for regulating dampers, and thereby keeping the steam at an even heighth, insuring to a very great degree, against the fearful explosions and loss of life, that so often attend the irregularity of the steam—independent of the time and trouble of attending the dampers—the great saving of fuel, (as no more fuel can be burnt than actually necessary to give what steam is wanted,) has always been acknowledged to be of the utmost importance. Although many trials have been made to get up something to answer the purpose, from the first experiments of the celebrated Watts & Perkins, down to the present time, yet nothing has been found to answer the purpose, till the recent success of the ingenius, and justly celebrated Clark, in bringing out this Regulator, being now introduced to the public.

We are receiving testimonials from those having them in use, speaking in the highest terms of them, which we shall be happy to enclose to all who wish further information in regard to them.

The wonders they perform in controlling the steam—saving the grate-bars and furnace-fronts—besides the preventing of the straining of the boilers—the time and trouble of watching the damper, and the safety guaranteed in their use—saying nothing about the great saving of fuel, which is from 15 to 30 per cent.—should induce all who are using steam to give them a trial.

They are very simple in their construction, and can be applied to boilers of every size, (having different sizes of them,) from the smallest to the greatest, whether stationary or otherwise.

Any further or more general information can be had by addressing the Company 208 Broadway, N. Y. E. R. PRATT, SECRETARY.

SEWING MACHINES.

AVERY MACHINE,

IS, without doubt, the only practical machine offered to the public, and was awarded the first premium at the Crystal Palace Exhibition. These are not only the best, but the cheapest machines manufactured, the prices being, with all the fixtures complete, $30, $50 and $62. By a simple contrivance, the improved Avery Machine, (two needles,) is convertible into a one thread machine, making the one thread stitch at an additional expense of only $12. Thus the purchaser has two machines in one, calculated, with two needles, for sewing the heaviest Beaver Cloth, and Osnaburg Shirting; and with the one needle fixture, calculated for sewing ladies' dresses, shirts, leather, etc., making it a complete family and plantation machine. For simplicity and durability, these machines excel all others ever invented, and will, with careful usuage, last a lifetime. Finally, the patent for these machines, is free from all controversy, the right of use perfectly secured to the purchaser, without fear of legal trouble. These machines are packed in strong boxes, and sent to all parts of the world with perfect safety, and printed instructions accompanying each machine. All orders promptly attended to. Address

THE HYDROMAGEN,

OR,

WATER-PROOF, ANTI-CONSUMPTIVE

MANUFACTURED BY

HARCOURT, BRADLEY & CO.,

44 MARKET STREET, MANCHESTER.

Principal Warehouse, 102 Wood Street, Cheapside, London, England.
American Establishments, 38 Ann Street and also 102
Nassau Street, New York, United States.

The Hydromagen is a valuable discovery for protecting the feet from damp or cold, and therefore a preventive of many lung diseases, without any doctoring whatever. The Hydromegen is in the form of a sole, and worn inside the boot or shoe. Its medicated character is a powerful antidote to disease.

For gentlemen, it will be found agreeable, warm and healthy, to wear in the coldest or rainiest weather, as the foot cannot become wet if the Hydromagen is inserted. Ladies may wear the lightest soled boots or shoes in the most inclement weather with impunity; while consumption, so prevalent among the young of our country, may be thwarted by their general adoption. They entirely supercede overshoes, as the latter cause the feet to perspire in a very unhealthy manner; and, besides, are not dangerous wear to pedestrians in icy weather, like India rubbers. While the latter cause the feet to appear extremely large, the Hydromagen, being a mere thin slice of cork prepared, peculiarly placed inside, does not increase the size of the boot, or cause the foot to appear untidy. To children they are extremely valuable, as they may engage in exercise with comfort and healthy effects. Their expense is so slight as to scarce need mention; besides, those who patronize them will find their yearly doctor's bills much diminished thereby.

As the Hydromagen is becoming more known, its sale is increasing to an almost incredible extent. Last year, in London, Manchester, Birmingham, Liverpool, Glasgow, Leeds, Dublin, Paris, Antwerp, Hamburgh, and Berlin, our sales reached 1,732,450 pairs of cork soles. This year the number will far surpass that.

Ask the Faculty their opinion of their value as a preventive for coughs, colds, bronchitis, asthma and consumption.

The Hydromagen is offered, by retail, at the following prices: Mens' size, per pair, 35 cents; Ladies' size, per pair, 30 cents; Boys' and Misses' sizes, 25 cents.

NOTICE.—From the retail prices, we make a very liberal allowance to jobbers and wholesalers, so that any storekeeper may make a fine profit on their sale, while they are an article that may be kept in any store, among any class of goods.

For terms, apply to HARCOURT, BRADLEY & CO.,
38 Ann Street, New York.

SIR ASTLEY COOPER, BART., M. D.,

THE EMINENT MEDICAL PRACTITIONER, HAS LEFT A VALUALE LEGACY TO THE WORLD, IN HIS

Great Preventive of Consumption,

AND

UNFAILING CURE FOR PULMONARY DISEASES,

WITHOUT THE USE OF MEDICINE.

Sir A. C., Bart., invented and advised the use of the

MEDICATED FUR CHEST PROTECTOR,

To all persons of all ages and conditions, as a certain and a safe shield against those fearful diseases, consumption, bronchitis, asthma, coughs, colds, and other afflictions of the lungs, which arise from the exposed state of the chest, according to fashion, and the continual changes of our climate.

"The Protector" is simply a chemically prepared fur, lined with silk and padded, which, suspended from the neck, covers the chest, in so agreeable a manner that, once worn, it becomes a necessity and a comfort.

"The Protector," although but recently introduced into America, is making rapid progress through the United States, the Canadas, South America and the West Indies. It has for a long time been a staple article in England and on the continent of Europe, while it has grown in many countries to the position of an article of dress.

To demonstrate these facts enquire of any English resident in your vicinity of his knowledge of the beneficial effects of wearing the Protector, without recourse to doctoring of any kind. The cost of wearing these articles is a mere trifle, and one will last some years. No one who values the health of himself or his family will be without them. The Hospitals in this country are not alone recommending them, but rapidly introducing them. Harcourt, Bradley & Co., of London, and Manchester, England, were originally entrusted with the manufacture of the Protectors, by the lamented Dr. Cooper, and continue to manufacture according to his original instructions, and therefore recommend those who would wear "The Protectors," to see to their being genuine.

☞ Remember this is a staple article, and no patent medicine.

The Medicated Fur Chest Protector is disposed of at the following rates, retail prices: Gents' size, $1 50 each; Ladies' size, $1 00; Boys' and Misses' size, 75c.

IT HAS BEEN TRIED !

For five years, that great remedy THE MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT has been used by all classes of people throughout all parts of our country. Some fifteen millions of bottles have been sold and used in almost every variety of diseases and complaints requiring an external application, such as Sprains, Bruises, Cuts, Burns, Scalds, Rheumatism, Piles, and sores of all kinds, even those of many years standing, and after all other remedies had failed. It has given universal satisfaction, because it has never failed!

It is equally efficacious for lameness or sores of any kind on horses, or other animals. It is guaranteed in every case, when it is used according to the directions.

The Liniment is put up in three sizes, and retails at 25 cents, 50 cents and $1. The largest bottles contain much more liniment in proportion to the prices, and are therefore cheapest.

TO COUNTRY MERCHANTS.—Every store should be supplied with this valuable Liniment, as it pays a good profit and sells rapidly.

PITTSBURG, PA.

Population 110,000, including Alleghany City and others joining and connected with five Bridges. Its Churches, Halls and Public Buildings are large and in good city style.

No city in the Union possesses more Manufacturing advantages than Pittsburgh. It has a heavy Dry Goods, Grocery, Produce and Hardware trade, which we hoped to see favorably set forth in this work. Our Agent, Mr. Clark, gives as a reason of the failure there, that a gross imposition had just been practised upon that city by a man who obtained liberal subscriptions and advance payments for a Directory which was not delivered to them.

We take pleasure in noticing the Monongahala House. Mr. Crossen, the gentlemanly Proprietor, has been thirteen years building up a splendid Establishment, of which the city and the travelling public may well be proud. The improvements and additions to this House from year to year, are such as cannot fail to secure for it a most flattering success and a constantly growing reputation. More than once have we enjoyed the luxuries and courtesies of this house. The latter are quite as sweet to the heart, as the former are to the taste. They are both such as to make one happy. Our thanks also to the press of the city.

PITTSBURG, PA.

BOSTON, MASS.

This flourishing city, the capital of Massachusetts and metropolis of New England, occupies a peninsula and other adjacent points, at the head of Massachusetts bay. The original town was confined to the peninsula, but this, although enlarged by artificial means, has long since proved too narrow for the growing city, which, passing the barriers thrown around it by nature, now embraces, independently of the populous towns and villages that are its offspring, the triple division of "Old Boston," "South Boston," and "East Boston." The "Neck" was formerly the only avenue from the town to the main land, but it is now united by bridges, and other avenues, to Charlestown, Cambridge, South Boston, and other surrounding points. From the west side of the city, Western avenue is continued to Brookline, on the opposite side of Charles river bay, by a costly dam, one mile and a half in length, and one hundred feet broad. Proceeding from the middle of this, on which are several tide mills, a second dam divides the bay into two spacious basins. Several of the Boston railroads also enter the city, by bridges built expressly for that purpose.

Railroads diverge from this city in various directions, connecting it with Plymouth, Cape Cod, New Bedford, Fall River, Providence, Stonington, New York, (via Worcester, Springfield, Hartford and New Haven); with Albany, via Worcester and Springfield; with Vermont, via Fitchburg; also, with Lake Winnipisiogee and the White mountains, in New Hampshire, via Nashua, Concord and Meredith Bridge; also, via Haverhill, Exeter and Dover; with Lawrence, via Lowell and Manchester; with Augusta, Me., via Salem, Newburyport, Portsmouth, Portland and Bath.

Boston is pre-eminently distinguished for its efforts in behalf of education. Its public schools are unrivalled in excellence, and it numbers among its citizens some of the most munificent patrons of learning, literature and science; which, with its many eminent literary and philosophical societies, has led to its being honored with the title of the "Athens of America."

Mount Auburn, a beautiful cemetery, belonging to Boston, is picturesquely situated in Cambridge, about five miles out of the city. Within this interesting "city of the dead" rest the remains of many of the illustrious sons of New England.

The population of Boston in 1760, was 1,000; in 1722, 10,567; in 1765, 15,520; in 1790, 18,033; in 1800, 24,937; in 1810, 33,250; in 1820, 43,298; in 1830, 61,392; in 1840, 93,383; in 1850, 138,788.

Our stay in Boston was rendered pleasant by the polite attentions of Col. Stevens, Proprietor of the Revere House, Tremont House, both in the city and both first class Hotels. He is also Proprietor of the Nahant House, one hour's ride or forty minutes sail from Boston. The latter is one of desirable and fashionable summer resort in New England. At either of these establishments, those seeking health or pleasure, will find ample means for both.

A tribute of gratitude is due to the Editors of the principal daily papers of Boston, who gave flattering notices of the objects of our visit to the city.

See their cards. Call on them also, if you desire prompt attention to your wants or your business.

REVERE HOUSE,

PROPRIETOR,

BOSTON, MASS.

This Establishment has capacity to entertain comfortably four hundred persons. The Parlors, Ordinaries, Saloons, Chambers, Bathing apartments, &c. &c., are all furnished in a style of richness, elegance and taste fully up with the progress of the age.

The politeness of the clerks, the attention of servants, together with the order and quiet which distinguish this large Establishment, cannot fail to afford the highest degree of comfort and satisfaction to guests. He is also Proprietor of the Tremont House in this city, a first class Hotel, which has a fine custom. He is Proprietor of the splendid Hotel at Nahant, one of the finest summer retreats in New England. The Editor having spent several days in the Revere House is prepared to say that Col. Stevens is fully entitled to his well earned reputation.

LOWELL, MASS.,

Must be seen to be appreciated. There is not an inch of ground that is not appropriated. Even the streets, side-walks and yards of the mills are most tastefully laid out, and set with trees and ornamental shrubbery.

The Agents of the several mills are gentlemen of the first order of business talents—took great pleasure in showing us the various late improvements in their machinery, and the capacity and adaptedness of their large establishments. Go when you will into any of these Mills, and you will find every floor and every part of the machinery as clean as a parlor, and as neat as a pin. The order and neatness of these establishments, contribute, in no small degree, to the intelligence, virtue and piety of the operatives. Many thanks to these gentlemen—also, the Proprietor of the Merrimac Hotel for extra courtesies.

The following authentic sketch of the statistics of the Manufacturing Companies of Lowell, will be found of interest to Manufacturers and Business men in every part of the country :

Average wages of Females clear of board, per week,	$2.00
Average wages of Males, clear of board, per day,	80
Medium produce of a loom, No. 14 yarn, yards per day,	45
Medium produce of a Loom, No. 30 yarn, do. do.,	33
Average per Spindle, yards per day,	1¼

The Middlesex Company make use annually of 6,000,000 teasels, 2,000,000 lbs. fine wool, 50,000 lbs. Glue, $30,000 worth Dye Stuffs, and $13,000 worth of Soap.

In addition to the above, the Merrimack Manufacturing Company use 1,000,000 pounds of Madder, 380,000 pounds of Copperas, 60,000 pounds Alum, 50,000 lbs. Sumac, 40,000 lbs. Soap, 45,000 lbs. Indigo, per annum.

The Lowell Bleachery use 40,000 lbs. Indigo, and $25,000 worth of other dyeing materials, per year.

Other manufactures are produced in the city, than those specified above, of a value of $1,500,000, employing a capital of $400,000, and about one thousand five hundred hands.

There are five Banks—The Lowell, capital $200,000—The Railroad, capital $600,000—The Appleton, capital $150,000—The Prescott, capital $200,000—The Wamesit, capital $100,000.

The Lowell Machine Shop, included among the above Mills, can furnish Machinery complete for a Mill of 6,000 Spindles, in three months, and a Mill can be built in the same time.

The several Manufacturing Companies have established a Hospital for the convenience and comfort of persons employed by them respectively, when sick, which is under the superintendence of one of the best of surgeons and physicians.

There are two Institutions for Savings—The Lowell and the City. The Lowell had on deposit, February 7, 1854, from 6,167 depositors, $1,182,853.31. The City, January 14, 1854, had on deposit, from 3,052 depositors, $714,554. The operatives in the mills are the principal depositors in the above banks.

A vast amount of laudable and successful enterprise of a more strictly private character, might not be inappropriately alluded to in this sheet, not the least of which are the extensive Powder Mills of Oliver M. Whipple, Esq., the Paper and Batting Mills of Perez O. Richmond, Esq., and the Flannel Mills of Charles Stott, Esq., all on the Concord River, within the precincts of the City. Messrs. Fiske & Norcross's extensive Lumber Yard and Saw Mills, and the Wamesit Steam Mills are also worthy of notice.

A Reservoir, of great capacity, has been built on the high ground in Belvidere, east of the City, for the purpose of furnishing a ready supply of water to any part of the City in cases of fire. The water is conveyed into the Reservoir by force pumps from the Lowell Machine Shop. Pipes are laid from the Reservoir to various parts of the City, at which points hose can be attached to the hydrants without delay, when necessary. Estimated population of Lowell in 1853, 38,000

SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

This is a thriving and beautiful city, incorporated in 1852, situated on the left bank of the Connecticut river, at the intersection of the various lines of railroad from Boston, New York, Albany and the North, in the midst of most delightful scenery. It is a place of considerable trade and extensive manufacturing business. The U. S. Armory is here, comprising a noble group of public buildings, inclosing a beautiful park, all kept in the finest order. Here are also the great locomotive works of Blanchard & Kimball. This city is much celebrated for its quiet, rural appearance, its excellent system of public schools, its fine hotels, its churches, and the intelligent and enterprising character of its inhabitants. The place was settled in 1836, incorporated as a town in 1840, and a city in 1852. Population about 15,000—in 1854, about 19,000. We shall long remember the courteous entertainment of the Exchange Hotel, H. McKinney, Proprietor, Main Street—also the courteous reception of S. Bowles & Co., of the Republican office. (See card.)

The advertisement of Blanchard & Kimball, Machinists, is worthy of particular notice.

Parents wishing to find a good school in a pleasant and healthy location for the education of their children, are referred to the card of E. D. Bangs, A. M., Springfield, Mass.

The Subscribers beg leave to inform their friends and the public, that they are now prepared to receive orders for Locomotives, Stationary Engines, Machinists Tools, &c., of all kinds. Having selected the best of machinery, and the members of the company all being practical mechanics, and engaged in the different departments of the works, we feel confident that our manufactures will not be excelled by any shops in the country. Railroad companies and others, in want of locomotives, Stationaries or Machinists' Tools of any kind, are invited to visit our works and examine such machinery as may be on hand or in process of building. Particular attention paid to the building of such tools as are wanted in railroad repair shops. All orders or communications addressed to the subscribers will receive prompt attention.

NEW-ALBANY, IA.

The largest city in the State, is pleasantly located on the north bank of the Ohio, 4 miles below Louisville, and 2 miles below the falls, 121 southerly from Indianapolis, and 600 miles from Washington. Like most other favorably situated western towns, it has more than doubled in population within ten years, and exhibits all the signs of enterprise and prosperity. Here steamboats and other vessels are extensively built, and carry on a brisk trade with the valleys of the Ohio and Mississippi.

The population in 1830 was about 1,900; in 1840, 4,226; in 1850, 9,785.

Kent & Brothers have the reputation of doing the largest Grocery and Commission business of any house in New Albany, the sales last year amounting to more than $300,000, will reach next year, half a million. Mr. Kent showed us through his large establishment, which we cordially recommend to the trade.

A very neat and convenient Key Board is manufactured by Messrs. Nardin & Comstock of this city. It is so constructed as to admit of being carried in a trunk, or held upon the lap and used by persons too feeble to sit at the Piano for practice. It is valuable also in mastering difficult passages of music, by enabling the learner to practice without having the ear vitiated by the improper tones or bad harmony of unskilful execution. This article was made for Madame Crandall, whose execution upon the Piano is elegant and expressive.

While on this subject it is proper to remark that Messrs. Nardin & Comstock are manufacturing as good and elegant Pianos as can be procured in the east. Their work is well done, and their instruments are durable. PROVIDENCE, R. I.

The capital, with Newport, of the State of Rhode Island, is the second city in population, of New England, is situated at the head of Narraganset bay on either side of Providence river, 42 miles southwest of Boston, and 173 miles northeast of New York. The older part of the city lies on the east side of the river, and though many of the streets partake of that irregularity which seems peculiar to the olden times, they contain many splendid stores, warehouses, dwellings and public buildings. Ascending by an abrupt acclivity from the river, the streets and houses become more regular, many of the residences being of a superior style of elegance and structure, and affording delightful views of the harbor and the surrounding country. Crowning the elevation, are the buildings of Brown University, a flourishing institution. Crossing the river by one of the bridges, the west part of the city is laid out with more regularity upon ground less uneven. Here is the "Arcade," the largest and most important edifice in the city, built of granite, and adorned with a Grecian-Doric portico and columns. It is 225 feet long, 80 feet deep, and 72 feet high.

The name of the city, which it received from the Rev. Roger Williams, its founder, may serve to indicate its prosperity. Its location upon a spacious and convenient harbor, sufficient for a great number of the largest vessels, the manufacturing facilities of the surrounding districts, their facility of access to the city, and the enterprising spirit which has improved and adapted these advantages, are the sources of its increasing wealth and population. The Blackstone canal, beginning at Worcester, and winding through the productive regions and manufacturing towns of Massachusetts, brings large stores to its market. On Pawtucket river, and the other streams of Providence county, are extensive factories of cotton, wool, machinery, calico printing and dyeing; and within the city are also various similar establishments. These are chiefly kept in operation by capitalists of Providence, and employ more than $3,000,000 of capital. This city communicates by railroad with Boston, Worcester, and Stonington, and, in a great measure has dispensed with the steamboat lines which traversed Long Island Sound and the Atlantic to New York, Boston, and other places.

The population in 1810, was 10,071; in 1830, 16,833; in 1840, 23,171; in 1850, 41,513 The following is the rate of progression in population since the year 1830: In 1830, 15,941; in 1840, 23,170; in 1845, 31,753; in 1850, 41,513; in '52, 45,000; in '54, 50,000.

Brown University, under the supervision of the Baptist Church, was founded in 1764, and has an endowment fund of $200,000, Rev. Francis Wayland, D. D. L. L. D., President—Students, 288. The University library contains 26,000 volumes.

The Philermenian and the United Brothers' Societies, comprise together nearly 7000 volumes. This library is also accessible to all the students of the University.

The public schools of Providence are under the management of a committee of thirty members elected by the people annually. Samuel S. Green, Esq., Principal of the High School, is also general superintendent of all the public schools of the city, and devotes his time wholly to visiting, instructing and providing for the wants of these schools, of which there are, in the city, forty-seven—twenty-two primary, sixteen intermediate, and seven Grammar schools; and, as above-mentioned, one High School with two departments, for the separate accommodation of boys and girls. Nor will we omit a Normal school, just opened under favorable auspices. The whole employ one hundred and ten teachers—ninety-seven gentlemen and thirteen ladies, and embraces an attendance of about 6600 pupils.

The city contains many well organized and well sustained literary, moral and religious societies.

The churches, halls, and public buildings are creditable to the place, and not inferior to those of any other city. The wholesale trade, commission, shipping and manufacturing interests of this city are growing as rapidly as its population.

Thankful for the liberal patronage to our work, we ask attention to the business cards inserted.

Particular attention is invited to "mine host" Mr. Willard Whitcomb, Proprietor of the City Hotel. This House is every way entitled to stand in the list of first class hotels.

PROVIDENCE, R. I.

PORTLAND, MAINE.

This flourishing city, and seat of justice of Cumberland Count, is pleasantly situated on a peninsula, at the southwest extremity of Casco bay, facing the Atlantic, from which it presents a beautiful view. It is 50 miles southwest of Augusta, 110 northeast of Boston, and 545 miles from Washington. The harbor is one of the best in the United States, being capacious and protected by the Islands at its entrance, from the severity of the northeast storms, which prevail on this coast. A light house, 72 feet high, built in 1790, still in good preservation, stands on Portland Head. On an eminence, in the northeast part of the city, is an observatory, 70 feet high, which affords a fine view of the neighboring harbor and Islands, and the surrounding country, extending to the White mountains in New Hampshire. Railroads extend from this city to the valley of the Androscoggin, Augusta, Portsmouth, Boston, &c., and steamboats and packets ply to Boston and other ports, during the season of navigation. Cumberland and Oxford canal communicates with Sebago and Long Ponds in the interior of the county. Portland has an extensive inland and coasting trade, and exports large quantities of lumber, ice and provisions, to the West Indies and elsewhere. The city is regularly laid out with wide streets, some of which are lined with beautiful shade trees, and handsome dwellings. The hospitality and intelligence of the citizens, and the sea-breezes by which the city is fanned, render it a pleasant resort in the warm season.

The population in 1790, was 2,240; in 1800, 3,677; in 1810, 7,169; in 1820, 8,581; in 1830, 12,601; in 1840, 15,218; in 1850, 26,819.

☞ GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY—From Portland, Maine, to Montreal, Canada.—Express Trains leave Montreal and Portland daily, (Sundays excepted,) passing the White Mountains, and many other objects of interest to those who travel for health or pleasure.

The entire distance (about 300 miles,) is passed from breakfast to supper, over one of the best built roads in the United States, presenting at the same time, much variety and sublimity in mountain scenery.

S. P. Bidder, General Manager, will accept our thanks and copies of our work for his polite attentions. So will the principal officers of the Railroad Companies, from Charleston and Savannah to the North, Portland, Me., and West, to Nashville, Cincinnati and Pittsburg.

☞ Among the things that most interested our attention, was that of the Piano Forte Establishment of Andrews & Robinson, whose beautiful site is the admiration of all strangers. We were attracted to enter and explore their extensive manufactory, and in going through the different departments, observed the many facilities for making the instrument in the cheapest, most durable and finished manner. Through the politeness of Mr. Robinson, who, we have since learned, has served an apprenticeship in Gilbert's Manufactory, Boston, and who, from his musical experience in teaching the piano, in that city for many years, we judge to be of eminent advantage in such a concern—through him we were led to examine the many advantages they claim over all competitors. We will not enter in detail of the many little improvements, both original and adopted; but will go at once to the most novel and ingenious invention ever presented to our notice: that of the "Swell Mute Attachment," for which they have just received a patent.

This attachment is so constructed as to produce a soft melodious tone, like the distant chimings of a bell—simply by the pressure of the foot pedal, which by being gradually released, a most perfect crescendo is made to roll out the whole power of the instrument;—thus, effects on the Piano corresponding, to those on the swell of an Organ, are produced, which must essentially be of very great service, not only to the piano performer, but as an accompaniment in sustaining the voice. In fact, the whole instrument is in perfect subjection to the will of the performer in expressing delicate or forcible passages in a composition; and we may safely prophecy, upon its merits being known, a warm reception with the musical world, and an extensive sale for the inventors of this novelty. See Card.

We must not omit in our notice of this establishment, to mention a number of interesting relics shown us, brought from Europe by Mr. Robinson, whose great admiration for Robt. Burns, secured him while in Scotland, the gift of a wooden platter, or cake dish, once used by the poet, obtained from a Scotchman, residing in Muckline, near Mossgeel: also, the autograph of Mrs. Begg, the sister of Robt. Burns—a piece of the House of Shakspeare—of Geothe Chair, obtained in Frankfort, Germany—of the pulpit of John Knox, the reformer, obtained in Sterling Castle, Scotland;—also, other things of interest, which elevates one's poetical feelings by classical associations.

☞ See the extra Card of W. P. Hastings' Reed Organ, Seraphine, Melophine and Melodeon Manufactory, No. 89 Federal street, Portland Maine.

Mr. Hastings showed us through his fine establishment, which we consider every way worthy of the attention and patronage of the public. His instruments have an extensive and high reputation for durability, elegance of finish, and strength and sweetness of tone.

ANDREWS & ROBINSON,

PIANO FORTE ESTABLISHMENT,

101 Federal street, PORTLAND, MAINE.

(Between United States and Elm House.

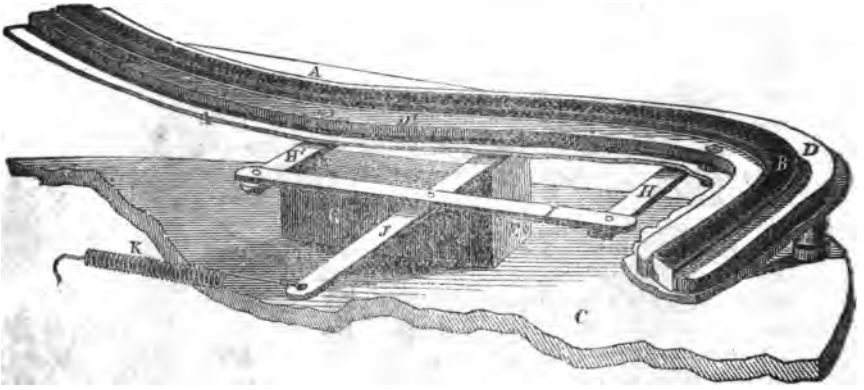
Have at their new and Spacious Hall, a fine assortment of PIANO FORTES, constantly on hand, all of which are warranted to give the most perfect satisfaction. Their unparalelled success in business and the increasing demand for their instruments has induced them to enlarge their manufactory, and they now invite a comparison for superior workmanship, beauty of tone, style and finish with any made in the United States. Having none but the most experienced workmen, they are determined to be unrivalled in presenting a good article to the public, and no expense will hinder them from offering instruments that shall sustain their high reputation Particularly would they solicit the attention of purchasers and the public to their newly invented "Swell Mute Attachment," the peculiar sweetness of tone, and power of sustaining the voice, has attracted the notice of the curious in the scientific world as well as the Piano Performer and Vocalist. The peculiarities of the "Swell Mute" are that the tones are prolonged beyond their usual length in soft and delicate passages, thus bearing up the voice, yet not overpowering it; from this it is made to sound out into full power like the organ, then to diminish at the pleasure of the performer, varying and giving effects at his will in the most perfect manner; added to these, also, is the effect of the Mute on the Violin produced, and hence its name, "Swell Mute." And still another advantage is that of the beginner's being enabled to practice so softly as not to disturb the disinterested with necessary repetitions, yet to obtain fully the meaning of the exercise.

We offer a view of the attachment, to exhibit the principle by which it acts upon the bridge and sounding board by pressure of the foot upon the pedal so as to control the vibratory and regulate the tone, while the simplicity of the arrangement renders it impossible to get any way out of order.



From the many testimonials secured, we have room only for the following from the celebrated J. J. Frazer, Vocalist, and former partner with the late Mr. Seguin:

Messrs. Andrews & Robinson:—I have examined with pleasure your "Swell Mute Attachment," and am happy to give my opinion of its excellence. The effect is entirely different from that of any other with which I am acquainted; and independently of its value to the Concert Player, is of very great advantage in accompanying the voice.

J. J. FRAZER.

For the sake of an extensive introduction of this new improvement, we have reduced the price extra to only twenty five dollars.

Orders received from any part of the United States, will be promptly answered, and in every way to the advantage of purchasers, as if attended to by them personally, both in selection and prices.

W. ANDREWS,
ED. B. ROBINSON.

☞ The Rev. John P. Campbell will act as Agent for the Southern and Western States. Orders directed to him will be promptly attended to, either for the sale of rights or instruments.

W. P. HASTING'S

REED ORGAN,

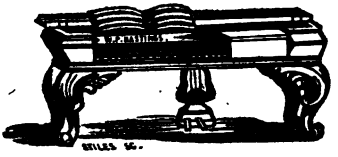
SERAPHINE, MELOPHINE,

AND

MELODEON MANUFACTORY,

No. 89 Federal-street, (over the Post Office.)

PORTLAND, ME.



At the present time the prices of Musical Instruments have reached a figure so astonishingly low, that people of even very limited means, have been enabled to gratify their love of harmonious sounds, and to ornament their parlors with a Piano, Seraphine or Melophine.

Every thing which tends to extend the elevating and purifying influence of Music more widely among the people, is of incalculable worth.

In this connection I would respectfully invite the attention of the Musical public to which, for purity of tone, elastic action, and promptitude of response to the performer's touch, stands unrivalled as a Parlor instrument. It is handsomely finished in Piano Forte style, and warranted for five years.

To those who desire a cheap, and at the same time, a handsome, sweet toned and durable instrument, I take great pleasure in recommending Cahart's Patent Melodeon, an instrument which has been before the public for several years, and the popularity of which continues to increase.

This instrument is also finished in handsome style, and warranted.

I have a large assortment of Seraphines, with stops to produce almost any variety of tone.

Particular attention paid to building large Reed Organs, for Churches. The largest are built in the style of Pipe Organs.

MONTREAL.

MONTREAL is the largest city in the British Provinces of North America. It has a population of about 60,000, about one half French and the other half English and Irish. It has Railroad connection with the principal cities of the United States, which, with the fine navigation of the St. Lawrence river, will justify the prophecy of its future greatness. It has many large Churches, Halls, Public Buildings and Hotels. The Donegana Hotel, by J. H. Daley, is kept in a style worthy of Her Majesty Queen Victoria. We shall long remember the dinner at this Hotel on the 19th July, 1854. We must notice in this connection the Great Trunk Road from Montreal to Portland, Me., a distance of 282 miles. This is a work of at least equal magnitude to any we have seen in the United States. It passes through many ranges of mountains, among which are the White, the most romantic and beautiful in New England. Those who travel for either health or pleasure will find both on this route. Here young ladies perform the wonderful fete of riding on horse back up and down Mount Washington or Mount Moriah. This was done by two young ladies from the West the evening and morning we stopped here, Miss Betty Sheets, of Indianopolis, Ind., and Miss Jenny Harrison, of North Bend, Ohio, grand daughter of Gen. Wm. Harrison. Here you get the real Mountain Trout. The Glenn House recently built and fitted up in good taste and kept in fine style by Mr. Glenn, is the place to stop for the fullest enjoyment of the White Mountain scenery. The Island Pond midway between Portland and Montreal is a beautiful place. Here is also a first class Hotel by Mr. Jennings. Here you may enjoy both the fun of taking the Trout and the luxury of eating them, done up in the best manner. It is an object of exciting interest to see these large ponds of clear water pent up by stupendous mountains. Here you may catch game, or fish, eat or sleep, read or talk (for our host, Mr. Jenning's, is a good talker) to your satisfaction.

APPENDIX.

THIS part of the work contains a valuable list of such counties as did not come in, in time for the first part.

The select cards, &c., of this part of the work, are respectfully commended to the attention of our numerous readers.

☞ We again request that those who have this work, will keep it where visitors and the public may see it.

☞ See the extra card of Dr. B. F. Williams' superior preparation of Sarsaparilla. This article is largely manufactured by Dr. Williams, of Nashville, and is warranted fresh, genuine and of uniform strength. It is open to the scrutiny of the Medical profession, and is in use by them. It is in high repute at home, and is certainly worthy of a very wide circulation. Country Merchants, planters and heads of families every where ought to have it. We know Dr. Williams well, and take great pleasure in commending him and his valuable medicines to the public. He has in his possession a long list of names of the most reliable character, whose certificates might be added to his card if there had been room.

☞ See the card of Messrs. Hicks & Darden, importers and wholesale dealers in China, Glass, &c. Mr. Hicks has been in the Nashville trade over twenty years, and has built up a reputation as a gentleman and a business man. Though Mr. Darden has been in the city for a less time, he is not less a business man and a gentleman likewise. They are doing a large and accommodating business. Country merchants cannot do better, North or South, than they can in Nashville.

☞ See the card of Mr. A. J. Francisco, whose fashionable hat emporium is the most attractive establishment of the sort in the State. We know him well, have dealt with him, and take great pleasure in commending his House to the trade. He is extensively engaged in manufacturing the finest as well as plain goods. Country merchants will do well to replenish their stocks with him.

☞ See the extra card of Messrs. Snow & McKenzie, manufacturers and wholesale dealers in tin and hollow ware of all kinds; also, a large assortment of the most approved styles of cooking, parlor and Franklin stoves. This House has for many years done a large and accommodating business, and in point of integrity and promptness stands A, No. 1. We respectfully ask for them the attention of country merchants, planters, &c., with full confidence that they will give satisfaction. Col. George Beckwith is the travelling agent for this House, well known in the South and West as a business man and a gentleman.

☞ See the card of the South Nashville Furniture Manufacturing Company. This establishment gives employment to sixty hands. The machinery is driven by an engine of twenty-horse power, being of the latest style and doing the work of sixty or more hands. It is looked upon as a valuable acquisition, and an ornament to Nashville as well as an honor to the enterprising company who founded it. The city and the State may well be proud of so noble a Southern enterprise. Their large Furniture Ware rooms are on Market-street, No. 38, a few doors north of Union Hall.

☞ James Moffatt's card will be found of interest to all machinists, and all who may desire fine Brass work. He has the reputation of a finished workman, and has, for about 13 years, given a high degree of satisfaction.

☞ See the extra card of Messrs. Lindsley & Crockett, city and general real estate agents, collectors, &c., office College street, near the Union Bank. The well known integrity, promptness and business capacity of these gentlemen are such as to require no flattering commendations from us. Yet, we may say to those at a distance, who may wish to invest money in real estate in Nashville, these are the men for you. They have means, experience, maps and plats of the city and suburbs, and also a correct knowledge of the value of property.

☞ See the card of Messrs. Tarpley & Peyle, Carriage Manufacturers, No. 135 South Market-street. This house has been in successful operation about 12 years, growing all the time with the growth of the city. It is just to say of them that their superior style of Carriages, Buggies, Rockaways, and Carryalls, &c., have given the highest satisfaction. We ask for them continued custom and growing success.

☞ See the card of Messrs. S. H. Loomis & Co., Wholesale Grocers and Commission Merchants. We were pleased to look through this large establishment, lately opened on the Public Square. There are four floors, 156 feet deep, finished in true city style. The facilities of this house, together with its business capacity and promptness, will insure it a flattering success.

☞ See the extra card of Messrs. Hamilton & Fuller's Premium Boot and Shoe Manufactory. This house has been established about eight years, and has grown up to its present large trade by strict attention to business. Thirty hands employed, and $25,000 worth of work per annum. It is our pleasure to state that this house took the premium at the late Fair for Middle Tennessee. Planters and country merchants will do well to send their orders to this house.

☞ See the card of Mr. Geo. Greig, of Union-street, Nashville, Tenn, whose proverbial character of being unequalled as a connoisseuire in the good things of life, has become well established, as well as his attention and integrity of dealing. This has secured to him the confidence of the public, and gain of an extensive patronage, while the qualities disposed, of enables him to sell his stock at small profits.

☞ See the extra card of James Sloan's Steam Marble Works. Warerooms corner of Spring and Summer-streets. This is the largest Marble factory in the State. It is an object of interest to the city and country, and also an honor to the enterprising proprietor. Here you will find the most spendid specimens of Foreign and Domestic Marble, manufactured in the finest modern styles at short notice and on good terms.

See the card of the Nashville Manufacturing Company. This is the largest establishment in the State, or perhaps in the South. It is a valuable acquisition to the city and State, as well as a lasting monument to the public spirit of the enterprising company who founded it. Here have been put up some of the largest and best locomotives that run upon our rail roads.

The Company have large capital, large shops, and the latest styles of improved machinery, for putting up Engines, Machinery, &c., of every size, style and quality.

☞ We call the attention of sugar planters in the South to this establishment, where Engines and Machinery for Sugar Mills can be had at short notice, and on terms as favorable as any where else. Why go abroad for work that can be as well and cheaply done at home?

☞ See the card of Messrs. Smith, Joynt & Co., Receiving, Forwarding and Commission Merchants, also Wholesale and Retail Dealers in Groceries, Produce, &c., No, 12 Broadway.

We have the pleasure of knowing this house well, and would respectfully call the attention of Planters and Merchants in the South, West, and every where to them. Their prompt and accommodating manner of doing business, cannot fail to give satisfaction.

☞ See the card of Messrs. Stewart & Weakley, Wholesale Grocers and Commission Merchants, No. 8 Broadway.

This house has been established many years in Nashville, and is considered among the most accommodating and reliable houses in the city.

No flattering notice can add to its reputation at home. We respectfully ask the attention of merchants abroad to it.

☞ See the card of the Crutcher House, Jos. W. Bell, Proprietor. Such improvements and additions have been made in this house by the new and gentlemanly proprietor, as entitle it to the confidence and patronage of the city and the travelling public. The apartments, (over sixty,) beds and furniture are of the neatest style, and clean enough for bridal chambers. It is the best prospect for a first class Hotel we have ever seen in our city.

☞ See the extra card of Messrs. Armstrong & Co., No. 69 South Market-street, Manufacturers' Agents, and Wholesale Dealers in Paints, Oils, Turpentine, French and American Window Glass, &c., &c. They also do a large Commission business. To country merchants, Planters, &c., this house is of peculiar interest. As may be seen by their card, there is but one house of the kind in the city. We commend them as reliable and accommodating gentlemen.

☞ See the card of Anderson's Foundry, near the corner of Broad and Cherry-streets. Twenty-seven years of close application to business, have built up for our friend Anderson both fortune and reputation well worth the labor of a whole life. May he live long to enjoy them. Fancy and Plain Railings, Leaves for columns of the most beautiful styles, together with all manner of castings, are furnished here at short notice and fair terms. Send your orders.

☞ See the extra card of Messrs. H. S. French & Son, Wholesale Grocers and Commission Merchants, corner of Market and Clark-streets. This house has a fine reputation for integrity and promptness. Their capital, experience, and courteous manner of doing business, entitle them to the fullest confidence. Personal kindness of the Senior Partner of this house would justify an extended notice, if any such notice could add to their success in trade, or to the length and happiness of this life.

☞ See the cards of James C. Baldwin, proprietor of Leavit's celebrated Corn Mill and Crusher, for the county of Davidson and others, and manufacturer of the same in the city of Nashville.

Col. D. K. Boswell, proprietor of Dunlap's celebrated Springs, near Bolivar, is also proprietor of the right of said Mill, for the State of Tennessee at large.

This Mill received the First Premium at the late Fair for Middle Tennessee, held in Nashville, has a certificate to that effect, and it has the reputation, (deservedly, as we think,) of being the cheapest, most durable, and valuable mill now in use.

☞ See the card of Dr. A. J. Lounsberry, patentee and proprietor of Abdominal Supporter and Hernia Truss. These health and life preserving articles have been in use for a short time only, but with results the most gratifying and satisfactory. In the city and vicinity of Nashville, we could furnish quite a number of valuable testimoniuls in its favor; but the modesty or diffidence of the inventor, or his great aversion to all humbugs, has prevented him from permitting even a newspaper advertisement, though urged by his friends to do so. The card referred to in this work is the first published by him. We believe the Truss and Supporter are by far superior and the most valuable articles of the sort ever invented.

We have known the patentee for several years, during which time he has uniformly sustained the character of an honest, honorable and Christian gentleman. For his sake, but more for the sake of afflicted humanity, we wish him great success.

☞ See the card of Mr. John Beaty, Soap and Candle Manufacturer, South Front-street. Mr. Beaty has been giving light to cheer us and Soap to clean us for about thirty-six years. Still day and night, we are dependent upon the fruits of his large establishment for health and comfort. May he live long to enjoy his well earned wealth, and to do good to others in his green old age.

☞ See the card of Mr. Daniel Adams, whom every body knows or ought to know as the Artist of Nashville. We are of the opinion that he cannot be surpassed North or South. Having grown with the growth and strengthened with the strength of Nashville, he will be sustained in Nashville.

☞ See the card of W. H. Gordon & Co., Commission and Forwarding Merchants, Nos. 7 and 9 Market-street, and running through to the public wharf. This house has four rooms running through from street to street, 226 feet deep and 121 feet front. Their facilities enable them to make liberal advances on consignments of Groceries and manufactured articles and dispose of them at the best market rates. Doing an exclusive Commission business, they are prepared to do full justice to consignments. Receiving and forwarding merchandize receives particular attention.

☞ See the extra card of Messrs. Strickler, Ellis & Co., Wholesale Dealers in Boots, Shoes, Hats and Caps. They have a large house and large and seasonable stocks, which they sell on very accommodating terms. For business capacity, integrity and promptness they stand deservedly high in the confidence of the public. We ask for them the attention of Planters and Country Merchants.

☞ See the card of Messrs. P. P. Peck & Co., Carriage Manufacturers, North Market street. Their large Ware Rooms, together with the superior style and finish of their Carriages, Buggies, Rockaways, &c. constitute a point of attraction in the city. Middle Tennessee is noted for its wealth and the number of its fine horses and carriages. We call their attention to this fine establishment.

☞ See the card of the Union Hall Hotel, Market street, South of the Public Square. S. M. Jones, Proprietor. Having enjoyed the hospitalities of Mr. Jones' House in Rome, Franklin, and now in Nashville, in each of which he has kept an orderly house and a good table, we take great pleasure in commending his house to the attention of the travelling public.

☞ See the extra card of Messrs. T. & W. Eakin & Co., Jobbers in Dry Goods, &c. No. —, North side of the Square. The integrity, promptness and business capacity of this house will lose nothing by comparison with the very best wholesale houses North or South. Their moderate and uniform rates insure safety and profit both to themselves and their humerous customers.

☞ See the extra card of Messrs. J. Doyle & Co., Soap, Candle and Lard Manufactory, No. 28 South Front street. They are also packers of Pork and Beef. Their large establishment is an object of interest to the whole South. We cannot too highly commend them as a safe and accommodating house.

☞ See the card of Messrs. Maxey, McClure & Co., Manufacturers of Tin Plate, Sheet Iron, Copper, &c. Also, large dealers in every sort of Tin, Copper and Sheet Iron Ware, Fairbank's Platform and Counter Scales, together with every description of Wrought and Cast Iron Stoves. You may set this house down as a good and substantial one, and come when you may you will find it O. K.

☞ See the card of Ira A. Stout & Co., Manufacturers and Dealers in fine and plain Carriages, Buggies, Rockaways, &c. &c. This is one of the oldest establishments in the city, has had a successful career in business and is prepared to fill all orders from the city or any part of the country, on terms warranted to give satisfaction. Success to them.

☞ See the extra card of Messrs. Toon, Nelson & Co., wholesale and retail Booksellers and Stationers, No. 44, Union street, Nashville, Tenn. We have a long and very favorable acquaintance with this house and take great pleasure in commending it as having a high reputation for integrity, promptness and business capacity. We invite the attention of Schools, Country Merchants, Physicians, Ministers of the Gospel, Planters, &c. to this house. O. K.

They are also the original manufacturers of the celebrated Wrought Iron Cooking Stove, called

THE TENNESSEEAN,

Made of the best and heaviest iron, and admirably adapted for the use of Families, Hotels, Steamboats and Plantations.

The Tennesseean has now been before the public for five years, and if not as new as some, it has another advantage quite as great, viz: a well earned reputation and a rising credit. It has been doing the work of many hundreds of families for several years, and it may be said to have established itself in business. Competition and change have done it no hurt. Like an old and well known trading House that retains its regular custom, while new ones are springing up around it, so this stove has held on its way. No stove could thus steadily and permanently prosper, that had not sterling qualities—the true element of success. The Tennesseean started on right principles, and has had no occasion to stop for improvements. Those who have used it, are determined still to use it, without modification or change. It is brought forward as the same substantial, convenient, business like stove that has served the public so well heretofore, and that has done its full share in gaining for our establishment the reputation it enjoys of keeping the best Cooking Stoves in the market. B. F. WILLIAMS'

COMPOUND SYRUP OF

SARSAPARILLA

IODIDE OF POTASSA.

In presenting to the notice and acceptance of the Medical Profession and of the public generally, the above preparation, the subscriber does not seek the benefit of a patent right to enhance the value of his article; nor does he wish to conceal from any the knowledge of its ingredients, in order to gain public confidence and favor. It separates itself from, and should not be classed with the innumerable Patent Medicines of the present day, for the reason that there is no effort made to conceal its ingredients. On the contrary, the undersigned invites the strictest scrutiny from the Medical Profession, and will, on application being made to him, take pleasure in communicating to all regular practicing Physicians every particular in regard to the process of manufacturing it, &c. He would simply state, that as an Apothecary, he has been for years in the habit of preparing, under the direction of gentlemen of eminence in the medical profession, both in Kentucky and Tennessee, the above Compound. Familiar with the best methods of displacement, and with the advantages of a large and powerful apparatus, he has sought to combine together the tried and known virtues of various articles of the Materia Medica in such proportion, and in such cheap and durable form, as to furnish a remedy of certain and wonderful efficacy, attested by long experience, not for every disease that flesh is heir to, but for a large class, a numerous progeny that owe their origin and parentage to a strenuous Diathesis or Scrofulous taint in the Constitution and in the blood, such as WHITE SWELLING, CHRONIC ULCERS of long standing, Obstinate Tetter, Ring Worms, Sore Eyes, Scald Head, Syphilitic Disorders, and other diseases of the skin and blood that resist the usual treatment. He can substantiate by the very best of evidence in our city its efficacy in Nervous and General Debility, Indigestion or Dyspepsia, Inflammation of the Kidneys, Rheumatism, &c. &c. It is confidently recommended in diseases peculiar to Females, such as Leucorrhœa or Whites, Suppressed Menstruation, Chlorosis or Green Sickness. Without enumerating further, he is content to state, and from the result already before him, he makes the declaration with emphasis and in truth, that he believes he is offering to the world a RELIABLE AND CERTAIN REMEDY for that formidable evil of Kings and King of evils, THE SCROFULA, in all its protean shapes, whether confined alone and manifested in the separate tissues of the body, or whether it pervades the entire system.

B. F. WILLIAMS.

CERTIFICATES.

The following Certificate of the virtues of this preparation, is from a well known Physician from Dickson county, this State:

CHARLOTTE, Sept. 15, 1852.

MR. B. F. WILLIAMS:

Instances are not rare where the attending physician fails to cure well confirmed Scrofula. The following memorandum is interesting:

Subject.—A girl of 15 or 16 years of age, the attending physician had failed to cure. An anxious father had consulted me, and from my knowledge of your preparation, I was constrained to prescribe it. After taking six bottles she was considered well. She was cured of deep-seated ulcer and a constant drain of milky matter from one or more sores under the ear. The entire lymphatic system was deeply involved. This case alone is well worth the attention of all; but when added to a long catalogue of cases of great obstinacy, cured by no Panacea, nor Nostrum, nor Patent Medicine, no Secret, but an invaluable preparation of Sarsaparilla, Iodide of Potassa, &c., &c., well gotten up by the Chemist, and made familiar to the intelligent physician, it very justly deserves a trial by all laboring under any of the numerous chronic maladies that afflict us.

J. R. HUDSON, M.D.

An extract of a letter from a well known gentleman of Smithland, Ky.

P. S. I can say for your Medicine more than for any preparation I ever tried, that it has proved satisfactory in all cases, in this part of the country, and is considered to possess great virtues. By its use I have effected a great cure upon myself, being troubled for five years with Tetter, and never have I found a remedy to do any good until I was advised to try yours. I am now entirely well; and am satisfied all that is necessary is to give it a fair trial.

Yours, S. M. VINSON.

The following named gentlemen, well known in Nashville and vicinity, can testify, from experience and observation, to the very efficacious results of the above named medicine:

Capt. B. Dewfield, Capt. R. Y. Northern, Capt. H. G. McComas, Col. A. W. Johnson, Mike A. Parish, Wm. Stockell, E. A. Horn, Jesse Parish, John A. Fisher, Jno. Cook, Philip H. Mitchell, Jas. Parish, B. F. Payne, J. B. West, W. H. Lucus, Robert Morris, J. F. Hard, J. W.

BREWER & THOMPSON,

MOREAN BREWER, EDITOR.

The first number of this paper was issued in August, 1854. It has as large a subscription list as any interior or country paper published in Tennessee, and is continually increasing its list of subscribers. It is published in the very heart of West Tennessee, in the midst of a thickly settled and rapidly growing section of country. The paper is one of the few that are read. It is the policy of its conductors to continually improve it. The columns of the Standard offer great inducements to advertisers. Cards of business men, of the ordinary size, published one year for $12, and a copy of the paper sent regularly to the advertiser during the time. Price of the paper, one year, in advance, $2.

COTTON SEED ROCK AND FIRE-PROOF ROOFING.

The undersigned, citizens of Somerville, Tenn., are well acquainted with Mr. Duke Williams' Artificial Rock. The Court House yard and the ground floor are layed with it, and have been for several months. The County Court of Fayette, Tenn., being thoroughly satisfied that the Rock would answer a fine purpose, and was all the inventor claimed for it, employed Mr. Duke Williams to lay the said floor and pave the Court House yard.

We know Mr. Williams is a high-minded, honorable man; and we are satisfied the rock made by him is substantial, and will stand the test of time. We have seen it used by Mr. Reed, who is putting up a large hotel in Somerville, in putting in window and door sills, and he is much pleased with it.

J. L. Pulliam, Jas. Petit, T. H. Logwood, W. B. Dortch, Esq., Geo. W. Trotter, Thos. Rivers, N. T. Macon, E. M. Long, A. P. Dupuy, F. W. Robertson, Sam Sneeds, W. P. Finney, Esq., John C. Reeves, A. B. Finney, M. D., J. A. Williams, T. G. McClellan, M. J. Turner, J. E. Pearsell, J. H. Cooper, Chas. T. Petitt, Wm. Burton, Clerk of County Court, Jas. H. Thompson.

Extract of a letter from R. S. Blount, of Houston, Texas, dated July 16th, 1854:

Eighteen months use of the Cotton Seed Rock here has shown that it makes a pavement vastly superior to brick, and it seems to be getting harder and better.

☞ The Patent Right of these wonderful inventions has been equally divided between Duke Williams and W. H. Poindexter, who are now prepared to sell State, county and local rights.

The following is from the Saint Louis Weekly News:

COTTON SEED ROCK.

One of the last inventions which have come to our knowledge is that of the artificial rock, for paving and roofing. It is manufactured from cotton seed and sand, and makes an excellent compound for the purposes intended. It has been satisfactorily tested, and will undoubtedly come into general use when its advantages become known. The editor of the Memphis Eagle speaks of this new invention in the following words:

The invention is an extremely valuable one for a great many uses, especially in regions where natural stone cannot easily or cheaply be obtained. For many purposes it is preferable, being cheap of manufacture, and as plastic in taking any desired shape as the mortar of the brick mason. We have seen and observed this stone for more than twelve months past, and believe that, with proper care in the manufacture, it may be made as durable for all ordinary purposes as the common sandstone of the country.

THE INFALLIBLE COUGH REMEDY.

DR. C. WILLIAMS'

PULMONIC BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY AND WOOD NAPTHA.

CONSUMPTION.

No medical preparation has ever been presented to the public, under such favorable auspices as this medicine. It has been received with the most MARKED APPROBATION by thousands, and its celebrity as a remedy for all diseases of the Lungs is now becoming NOTORIOUS. Language cannot describe the promptness and efficacy of its action; indeed its salutary effects are TRULY WONDERFUL. It has been known to cure the most hopeless cases after the best medical skill, and all known remedies had failed.

TESTIMONY the most convincing is constantly being received, certifying to the superior excellence of DR. C. WILLIAMS'

Compound Pulmonic Balsam of Wild Cherry and Wood Naptha.

It is becoming very popular wherever it has been introduced, and has secured an enviable reputation; indeed it has been emphatically pronounced the greatest remedy for all diseases of the CHEST and LUNGS, that has ever been presented to the public.

☞ Sold by all Druggists EVERY WHERE. Price $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5.

Sold wholesale by the following Wholesale Druggists:

P. M. COHEN & Co.,	Charleston, S. C.	W. W. BERRY & DEMOVILLE,	Nashville.

DR. C. WILLIAMS & CO.,
Tuscumbia, Ala.

☞ We cannot speak too highly of the above. Dr. WILLIAMS is extensively and very favorably known as a regular Physician of superior ability.

His Pulmonic Balsam of Wild Cherry and Wood Naptha, has the reputation deservedly of being one of the best, if not the very best remedy in the world.

Certificates can be furnished in this city from gentlemen of the first respectability; so in every town and city where it is known.

It should be kept in every family in the United States. We are happy to learn that the Doctor is making arrangements to manufacture largely, so that by active agents it may be furnished to every family.—EDITOR.

PROSPECTUS FOR 2d VOLUME.

THE second volume of the Southern Business Directory and General Commercial Advertiser, will be issued in the Spring of 1856, of which due and timely notice will be given to our Agents in the principal cities in the United States, by printed circulars, which will be sent, also to the Clerks of the Courts in each county of the following States, viz:—Maryland, Virginia, North-Carolina, South-Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas, Arkansas, Missouri, Kentucky, and Tennessee. The pages of the 2d volume will be enlarged, so as to give a full list of the names and firms of all Merchants, Manufacturers, Banks, Insurance Offices, Attorneys at Law, Physicians, Railroad, Steamboat, Steamship, and Mining Companies, and the principal officers of each. Also, Newspaper and Printing Offices, High Schools, the Population of each of the principal Towns and Cities, leading Hotels, and Watering Places in the above named States.

☞ We solicit the agency and co-operation of our Subscribers (now nearly 3000) as well as regular agents, all of whom are authorised to retain 25 per cent. on all moneys collected from new subscribers.

If each of our present subscribers will procure one additional subscriber, and the Proprietor and his Agents shall have anything like the success of the last year, our circulation will not be short of fifteen thousand copies.

Terms to subscribers, one copy $3. One copy with card of five lines or less, inserted in half measure, $5. One copy with card of ten, or over five lines, $8. One copy with card displayed to one fourth of page, whole measure, $15. One copy with card displayed to one half page, $25. One copy with card displayed to whole page, $50.

☞ Price to non-subscribers, $5 per copy after the work is out.

Agents are authorised to give a short editorial notice, calling attention to such cards as are displayed to a whole page or even a half page. We continue our terms precisely as in the first volume, although the pages of the second will be larger, the Directory part much larger, and the circulation, no doubt, one hundred per cent. larger.

☞ Do not forget! We must have returns from all the counties of the above-named States by the 15th January, 1856; also, all cards or advertisements must come in at the same time, so that we will not be delayed in issuing promptly, and as early after the returns come in as possible. Most of the changes in business in the South and West take place about the first of January. We set the 15th so as to give time to our Agents.

We do not ask for a general list from any town or city, where there is a City Directory already published, in such towns and cities we only take subscribers and cards.

☞ All Clerks of Courts to whom we send our circular, and who respond by sending us a list as above, will be entitled to a copy of our work with their card of office inserted. They are also authorised agents to procure and forward cards of subscribers. We will be much pleased to have each class of business names arranged together in alphabetical order.

☞ Write every name correctly and in a very plain hand.

Address, post paid,

MR. PEARSON,

Sir,—Gratitude and justice demand that I should certify to the value of your Rheumatic Relief. I was, for about one year, so afflicted in my right arm and shoulder, that I was unable to dress myself, or even to put my hand to my head. I finally was taken in my left foot, disabling me from walking without assistance. In the meantime, I had tried all the usual remedies to no good effect, and was at the point of despairing of ever obtaining relief. Your Rheumatic Relief was just then beginning to be noticed as performing some wonderful cures; I immediately sent for a bottle of it, and with three rubbings only, to the surprise and joy of my family and myself, I was cured, and have not had occasion to use it since. E. A. GITSINGER.

Charleston, S. C., December 20, 1854.

EXTERNAL APPLICATION.

Directions.—Rub freely the parts affected, three times a day. This Mixture is good for Rheumatism, Colds in the Bones, Scalds, Burns, Bruises, Cuts, Poisonous Stings, and has been used for the Bites of Dogs, and will prevent Croup in Children, by washing them freely with this preparation.

☞ Sold, Wholesale and Retail, by Drs. GINDRAT & DUNCAN, Druggists, No. 215 King, near Market-street, Charleston, S. C.; or Rev. JOHN P. CAMPBELL, (our General Agent) at Nashville, Tenn., and other responsible Agents throughout the United States. Price $10 per dozen, or single bottle $1.

N.B.—Rev. Mr. Campbell became familiar with many cases of astonishing cure, during a few months sojourn in Charleston, and takes a G[illegible] for it, with a view to place it within the reach of every family [illegible]

To supply the increasing demand for it, we are preparing t[illegible] largely. ☞ DRUGGISTS SUPPLIED ON REASONABLE T[illegible]
